Hard-Hitting Invaders Stab To Within 18 Miles Of Suez Canal

New Fears Of War Are Raised Round World

JERUSALEM (Tuesday) (AP)—Israeli forces made a big lunge across Egypt's Sinai Desert and Tuesday were reported advancing only 18 1/2 miles short of the Suez Canal.

All available indications were that no armed clash had occurred yet between Israel and Egypt in the barren peninsula.

Egyptian Army Headquarters in Cairo, apparently stunned by the audacity of the blow, acknowledged that Egypt had been invaded.

Cairo's big U.S.-built International Airport was closed suddenly to commercial planes. It can handle the jet planes of Egypt's Air Force.

Americans Stranded
Seventy-six Americans, mostly women and children, trying to flee ahead of a major war scare, were stranded by the airport closedown Tuesday morning.

The scare spread around the world.

The Egyptian order left the whole evacuation plan in mid-air and the U.S. Embassy was understood to have sent an urgent message to Washington appealing for instructions.

Cairo's government-backed newspaper Al-Gumhuriya bannered: "Israel Begins War." Other Cairo newspapers carried similar headlines.

Both Al-Gumhuriya and Army Headquarters insisted the Israelis struck at a relatively unimportant point.

The newspaper said no Egyptian troops were stationed there. The Army said the point "is a barren desert region where there is only one frontier check post."

Pledge To Be Kept
In Washington, the White House announced the United States will honor its pledges to assist the victim of any aggression in the Middle East.

Egypt has been staging military maneuvers in the Sinai Desert. Its strength is not known.

A high Israeli government source said the operation was designed to wipe out Egyptian commando nests in Sinai.

The Israeli forces were remaining in the area, not withdrawing as in reprisal raids.

An Egyptian Army communiqué said frontier forces reported the Israeli forces Monday night reached the road junction of El Kuntilla, four miles inside Egypt.

The communiqué made no mention of deeper penetrations reported by Israeli sources.

Target Uncertain
An Israeli spokesman said "I just don't know" when asked if the operation was aimed at the Suez Canal.

The unofficial reports would indicate that the Israelis were dashing across the desert peninsula straight for the international waterway.

Fighting flared up along Egypt's Gaza strip, about 80 miles north of where the northernmost of two Israeli prongs crossed into Egypt.

Egypt said Israeli artillery opened fire on the Gaza strip.

Israeli quarters said Egyptian forces attacked an Israeli patrol with small arms and mortars, but there were no casualties.

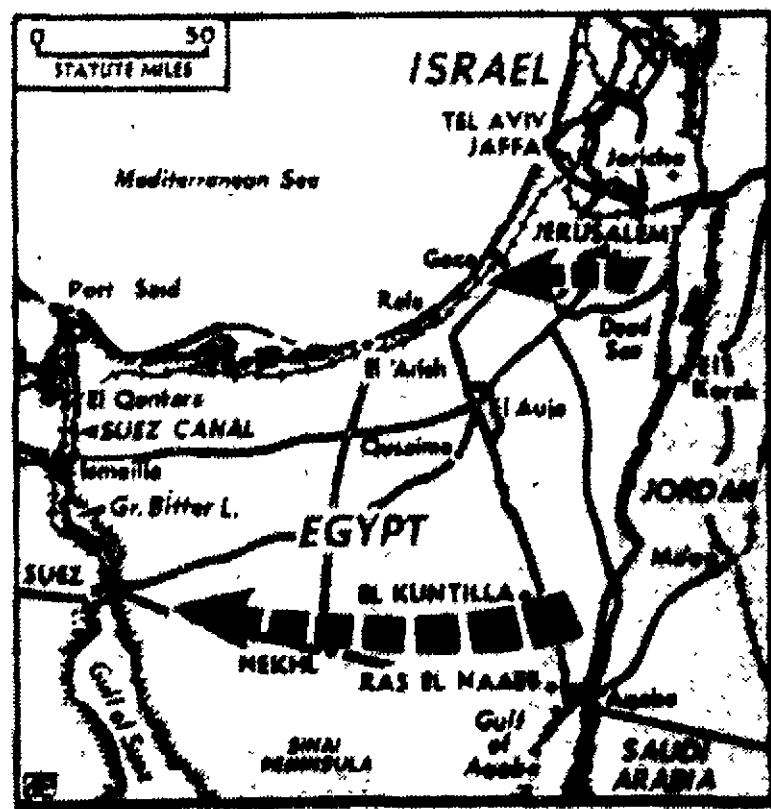

"Too Small For War"
A high Israeli government source commenting on the thrust into the Sinai Desert said: "It's too big for a reprisal and too small for a war."

Ike Says Peace Is His Unshakable World Goal

... News From Mideast 'Not Good'

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — President Eisenhower whirled into Dixie Monday to tread cautiously up to the touchy civil rights issue and to proclaim peace as his constant, "unshakable" goal in a newly alarmed world.

At a belated after-dark appearance at the Richmond airport, Eisenhower said that the news from the Middle Eastern area "is not good."

Only Sunday, Eisenhower repeated, he repeated "a solemn warning" to the people of the Mideast that "America and the civilized world expect the peace to be kept."

Much of his Richmond text went into the discord because the President was more than an hour behind schedule. But a crowd police estimated at upwards of 8,000 waited for him and heard his thanks for doing so.

"Rich Quick"
Eisenhower took a few moments to tell the people to just look at the record of his administration and to accuse his Democratic opposition of offering "get rich quick" programs and "pie in the sky."

At Jacksonville, Fla., before flying here, Eisenhower said: "This is no time to stop the draft. This is no time to stop perfecting our weapons."

Under the cloud and growing war threats from Israel and the Middle East, the President moved from Miami to Jacksonville, Fla., to Richmond repeating assurances that peace will be his overriding purpose if he is elected for four more years.

Along the way, on this first political invasion of the Southland of the 1956 campaign, Eisenhower took renewed swipes at Adlai E. Stevenson's suggestions that something ought to be done about ending the military draft and the testing of hydrogen bombs.

On a flying trip nearly canceled because of ominous conditions in the Mideast, Eisenhower was attempting to corral again two of the Southern states he carried in 1952—Florida and Virginia.

The banner-bearing, whooping, largely partisan crowds that heard him at the airport stops, gave him repeated applause for his pledges to work ceaselessly for peace.

He got only a spattering of applause for his civil rights stand—that equality of opportunity and equality before the law are not a matter of partisan politics but one of "justice for Americans."

Eisenhower said at Miami, as he did four years ago in Dixie, that the civil rights problem ought to be handled as far as possible on a "state and local basis."

America Will Honor Aid Pledge

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower held an emergency conference Monday night on the Israeli military thrust into Egypt and the White House said "we shall honor our pledge" to assist the victim of any Middle East aggression.

A White House statement also said the United States will place the whole matter before the United Nations security council Tuesday morning. Secretary of State Dulles had already moved to take this action.

The statement, which Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower had authorized him to make, also said that the question of whether the President will call a special session of Congress "will be decided in the light of the unfolding situation."

Hagerty dictated the statement to newsmen at the White House. When he came to the sentence "we shall honor our pledge," one reporter interrupted to ask whether that was the President's language—and whether the statement as a whole was by Eisenhower or Hagerty.

Authorized By Ike
The press secretary replied the statement was being issued in his name, not the President's. But Hagerty said a few minutes later the statement had been "completely authorized" in advance by Eisenhower.

The pledge to help any victim of aggression in the Middle East is contained in the United States-British-French declaration of May 25, 1950.

The President met at the White House, in his second floor study, for 90 minutes with Secretary of State Dulles, Secretary of Defense Wilson, Allen W. Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the chiefs of staff, as well as other officials.

Hagerty issued this statement on Eisenhower's behalf to some 100 reporters:

"The President recalled that the United States under this and prior administrations has pledged itself to assist the victim of any aggression in the Middle East."

Will Honor Pledge
"We shall honor our pledge."

"The United States is in consultation with the British and French governments, parties with us to the tripartite declaration of 1950, and the United States plans as contemplated by that declaration that the situation shall be taken to the United Nations Security Council tomorrow (Tuesday) morning."

"The question of whether and when the president will call a special session of the Congress will be decided in the light of the unfolding situation."

Sen. George (D-Ga.) said the situation may call for an immediate special session of Congress. However, Sen. Langer (R-ND) said he saw no need of this "unless something more serious develops."

Both George and Langer spoke of turning to the United Nations as a logical step.

Eisenhower, who only Sunday issued an extraordinary appeal to Israel and the Arabs to avoid warlike acts, seemed to be unsmiling as he stepped off his plane at the end of a day of campaigning that had taken him as far south as Miami.

Bomber Hits And Explodes Near School

... 3 Airmen Die

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — Three Air Force officers were killed Monday when their B-26 light bomber crashed and burned near a school between Pembroke and Blington.

J. O. Hurst, principal of the Black Creek Elementary School, said the pilot apparently made a deliberate successful attempt to land the plane but pulled up at the last minute and crashed about 100 yards away. Hurst said there were 210 children in the school.

The Public Information Office at Hunter Air Force Base said the crew were on temporary duty from the 2nd Tow Target Squadron at Mitchel Field, N.Y.

The three crew members were identified at Mitchel Field as 1st Lt. Don N. Hodges, 24, Lebanon, Tenn.; 2nd Lt. Bertel Carlson, 21, Flushing, N.Y., and 2nd Lt. David J. Paul, 21, Cleveland, Ohio.

The crash occurred shortly after the plane had taken off here on a routine flight. Cause of the crash was not determined.

LINCOLN RAIN NEAR INCH

Turbulent air currents that brought at least three tornadoes, rain, hail and snow to west and central Nebraska Monday moved into the eastern part of the state early Tuesday.

With the extreme east and southeast in a tornado alert area, locally heavy rains accompanied by wind, thunder and lightning were reported early Tuesday.

The alert expired at 3 a.m. and early Tuesday no twisters had been reported.

Lincoln received .80 of an inch by early Tuesday as it continued to rain hard intermittently.

The first twister hit a wide area southeast of North Platte late Monday, injuring at least one person and causing considerable rural area farm damage.

A second tornado was reported near Smithfield, 15 miles west of Holdrege, hitting the farms of Ernest Schwartz and Vernon Robb with considerable damage.

A third tornado was reported seven miles north and two miles east of Arapahoe which injured no one but caused considerable damage to at least four farms.

The farms hit were: Julius Ziebel, Irvin Teterman, Henry Helms and Glenn Schievelbein. At least two of the farms were demolished but it was not known just which ones they were.

The twister hit about supper-time. The area hit was just 15 miles from Smithfield.

The State Safety Patrol said it had reports that six farms were hit by the North Platte twister, four of the farms being flattened.

Most extensively damaged were those of Doc Snively, Raymond Yates, Tom Bradley and Pearl Bierman, all southeast of North Platte. The Tom Holley farm near Maxwell had all the buildings destroyed except the house.

The Bill Dunker farm south of Gandy also was hit, all the farm buildings being destroyed and the house moved off its foundation.

The injured man was Raymond Yates, 20, who was taken to Memorial Hospital in North Platte after having lain 30 minutes under a pickup truck. He was listed in fair condition Monday night with head injuries.

His mother, Mrs. Ben Yates Sr., said her son had just driven up to the farm home when the tornado hit.

Turned Truck Over
"It picked up the truck, turned it over and Raymond was caught beneath it. He was there for 30 minutes before he could be released by my husband and neighbors."

"The tornado tore our place all to pieces. The house, the barn, the sheds, even all the trees on the place were shattered. There just wasn't anything left," she said.

Mrs. Yates, Raymond's wife, and their 20-month old baby, were in "the farm cave" with the elder Mr. Yates when the tornado struck. The elder Yates had "been up on the hill and saw it coming," Mrs. Yates explained.

"He came running down and shouted to us to get out of the house and into the cave," Mrs. Yates said. "If he hadn't been up there and seen it coming we'd have been killed."

The Omaha Weather Bureau said the chance of Nebraska having a tornado in October was "very unusual." Weather Bureau charts indicated the average was about once in each five years.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wilhelmson, who live 28 miles south of North Platte, said they were driving 15 miles south of the city when they saw the tornado hit the ground, ripping up poles of the North Platte Public Power and (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Rebels To Surrender Arms Today As Russians Evacuate Troops

By LYNN HEINZERLING

VIENNA (AP) — The Hungarian army high command announced Monday night that Russian troops have begun to withdraw from Budapest.

The battle of Budapest appeared to be ending, but rebellion still blazed in the countryside.

Budapest radio carried an announcement by the army command saying the defiant young rebels in the capital will surrender their arms by 9 a.m. Tuesday as the Russians carry out their evacuation.

This followed earlier word from Premier Imre Nagy's government that the rebels had agreed to turn in their arms and the Russians would leave within 24 hours.

But the high command announcement said Hungarian troops were already replacing Russian troops in the industrial section of southern Budapest and that the evacuation of that area would be completed by dawn.

The high command added that replacement of Soviet troops by Hungarians and "unmolested withdrawal from Budapest" of the Russians were conditions for additional evacuation of Russian forces.

"Continued"
"Withdrawal of Soviet troops will be continued throughout tomorrow in agreement with the pact with the rebels," the high command declared.

Revolutionaries in control of the countryside urged that the rebels disregard the agreement in Budapest.

In London, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told Parliament the Russians were pouring more troops into Hungary. Western diplomats in London received reports of severe fighting in Budapest at noon Monday, with Soviet tanks attacking rebel-held barracks with tanks and self-propelled artillery.

Nagy's shaky regime was trying desperately to restore order and get some control over the country.

Surrender
Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov announced in Moscow that no Russian troops would leave Budapest until rebel arms were surrendered. Marshal Georgi Zhukov, the Soviet defense minister, said withdrawal of troops from all of Hungary could be decided upon only by common agreement of all Warsaw Pact members.

Nagy was being assailed by the rebel radio at Győr, a stronghold in northwest Hungary, as "a tool of the Communists." The radio called on the rebels in Budapest to retain their arms and not to surrender to Nagy. Another "freedom" radio at Miskolc near the Czech frontier took the same line.

Iowa Cops Probe 2nd Child Molest Case In 3 Days

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., (AP)—The second case of child molestation in three days was reported here Monday.

A 9-year-old girl told police and school officials a strange man stopped his car while she was on her way to school Monday morning and offered her candy and money if she would enter the car.

The girl said she refused and ran away. Her description of the man was different from that given of the man described by a 7-year-old girl Friday.

The 7-year-old girl was abducted by a man who, she said, beat her with a whip and a belt but did not touch her otherwise. Her lower back was covered with welts. She was abandoned in a farm field near Baxter, about 20 miles southwest of here.

—DOES ISRAEL WANT WAR NOW?—

World Outlook Is Explosive

Jerusalem Has Acted Against Advice Of United States

By J. M. ROBERTS
AP News Analyst

The world faces today the most explosive situation since the Berlin blockade and the Korean War.

Is Israel merely giving another and more forceful "retaliation" warning that she is prepared to strike with full fury if the Arab states carry encirclement too far? Has she decided that "preventive" war, of which she has talked, is her only alternative? That she cannot await further arming of Arabs by Russia?

Will Europe and North Africa subside or explode?

The first announcement of Israel's attack on Egyptian territory carried ominous words, that troops had not only entered Egypt but also had "taken up positions."

Decision Necessary

If those words are intended to have any permanent meaning, then the Western world would be faced with the need for decision as to who is the aggressor.

This is a decision which the United States would be very reluctant to make. It is one which she would have very great difficulty in making in conjunction with her French and British allies.

Israel has acted against the advice of the United States, upon which she is heavily dependent for both her economic and military life. Does she, then, believe that if the Arabs take up the gauntlet, she will receive aid from some other source?

Question Marks

Since France has been supplying Israel with a certain amount of arms when the United States was declining to do so, does Israel believe France would make some overt move in connection with Egyptian aid to the Algerian rebels? Or that France and Britain have decided not to wait any longer for a showdown with Egypt over Suez? Or that Russia, preoccupied with events in Central Europe, will keep hands off in the Middle East rather than run the risk at a crucial time of coming face to face with the interests of the Western powers there?

Israel's Ambassador to Washington, Abba Eban, saying he had not been advised beforehand regarding the latest Israeli action, added an indication that he believed it merely another retaliatory action against border incidents. This led to some hope here that Western pleas for negotiation instead of war might have some effect before Egyptian resistance carried the situation beyond the point of no return.

It seemed reasonable to believe that if Israel had decided upon war, the ambassador would have been prepared by his home government for the explanations he would have to make.

In Europe, North Africa, the Middle East, Singapore, the fires were burning. Tense diplomats were wondering if they could be kept separated.

Services Held For Former Nebraskan Mrs. Spellman

Lincoln Star Special

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Funeral services were held here for Mrs. Roza Barnum Spellman, 80, a native of Bloomington, Neb., and former resident of Blue Springs and Beatrice, Neb. Burial will be in Beatrice.

Mrs. Spellman died Friday. She taught in country schools in Nebraska and Wyoming before marrying a Beatrice dentist. Following her husband's death in 1930, she lived in Beatrice and Blue Springs until 1952, when she moved to Washington.

Her deceased sister, Mrs. Josiah A. Van Orsdel, was the wife of the late Judge Van Orsdel, former associate justice of the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

Mrs. Spellman was a 50-year member of the OES, and a past regent of the Elizabeth Montague Chapter, DAR, in Beatrice.

Surviving are daughters, Mrs. Kathryn S. Warren of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Marguerite Hummel of Orlando, Fla.; a brother, Eli Barnum of New Orleans, La.; one grandson, and one great-grandson.

Irrigation District and throwing poles and wires across the highway.

Clarence Martin of Maxwell said that three miles east of that town, the tornado tore through an area about 25 telephone poles wide, spreading shattered poles and wires across the Union Pacific railroad track.

One of the luckiest persons in the area was Mrs. Robert Riedy of North Platte. She was driving home in her station wagon when a bolt of lightning hit the front fender. The flash blinded Mrs. Riedy temporarily but she managed to get home safely.

Farmer Harry Cupp, five miles east of North Platte, said hail stones he estimated at up to three inches in diameter smashed big holes in roofs of buildings at his place. Rain in that area was estimated at up to two inches.

General Manager Gerald Gentlemen of the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District said the tornado cut two power lines of the district running to McCook, a line running east of North Platte to the Jeffrey Canyon plant and that a line from Johnson No. 2 plant of Tri-County Public Power and Irrigation District to McCook was out of service.

Gentlemen said it had not been determined whether a tornado cut the Johnson No. 2 plant line or whether "it was just an interruption of service."

The city of North Platte was hit by 70 mph gales and hail stones measuring up to 3/4 inches in diameter. The Weather Bureau said. Rain measured up to 1 1/4 inches and was still falling Monday night.

Considerable damage from falling tree limbs and television antennas was reported in North Platte. McCook received 40 mph winds and heavy rain and hail.

In the later storms that struck the eastern part of the state, Valley received a thunderstorm with wind gusts estimated to be 70 m.p.h. No hail was reported, but it was raining heavily.

Early Tuesday it had begun to rain hard in Omaha. Beatrice, Crete and Wilber all reported hard showers with wind, thunder and lightning.

Kansas Twisters
Two tornadoes were reported south of Hafford near Goodland in northwestern Kansas. There were no reports of injuries.

The storm activity followed on the heels of a severe weather warning that was issued for central and western Nebraska from North Platte to Burwell to Norfolk and south into Kansas.

Other Storms
Other storms bounced around the state Monday night with Sidney, Ainsworth and Grand Island all reporting rain. Sidney had snow showers, with an inch on the ground.

Winds gusting at 52 m.p.h. were reported during a severe thunderstorm, which was accompanied by heavy rain showers, at Grand Island.

The warning indicated large hail, widely scattered severe thunderstorms and several tornadoes in that area. Imperial received hail of one-eighth inch in diameter.

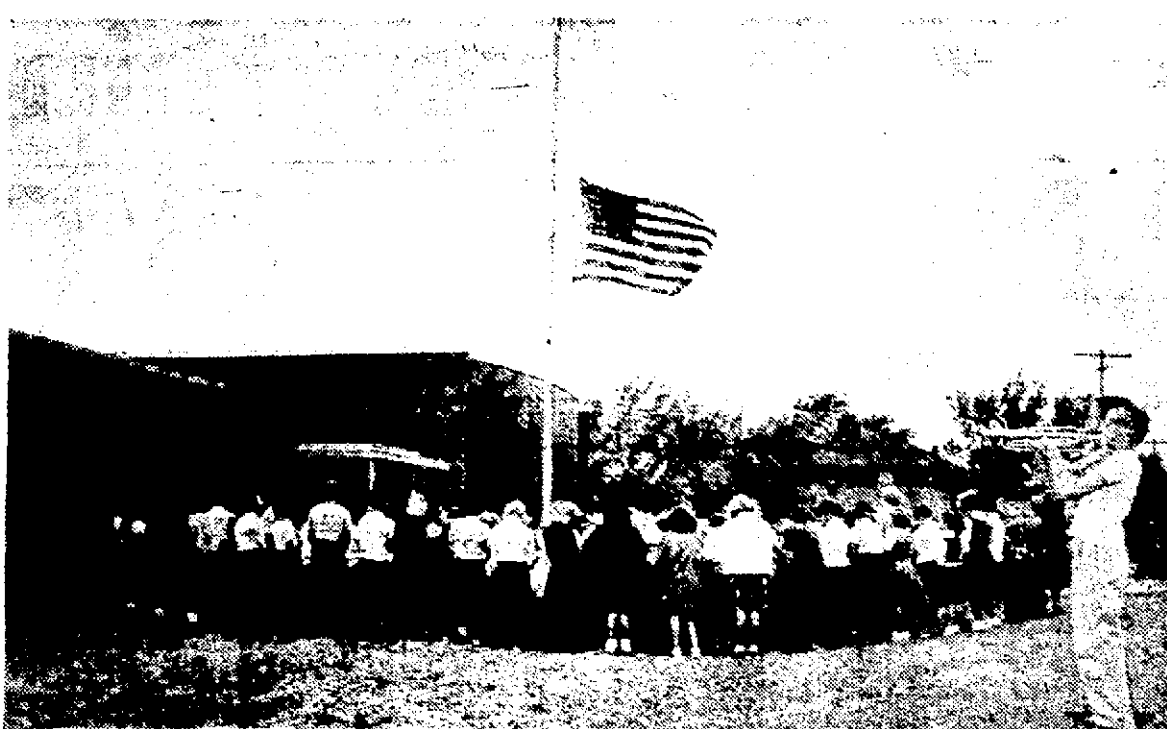

Lexington reported strong winds in the evening and most of the state reported winds up to 40 mph during the day.

Spotted Rain
Precipitation was expected to continue in the form of scattered showers in the eastern portion of Nebraska Tuesday.

Earlier Monday, Lincoln had .09 of an inch of rain, as did Omaha and Hickman. Firth, Martell and Hallam all reported a trace and Holland had .05 of an inch.

Tuesday's showers were to bring cooler readings to the southeast portion of the state with highs expected to be near 60. Highs in the northwest were to be in the 40's.

Lincoln had the high for the state Monday with a 73-degree reading. Scottsbluff and Chadron reported highs of 40.

Students Honor Lost Air Force Men

Students of Merle Beattie School, 19th and Calvert, stood with bowed heads as memorial services were conducted Monday afternoon for the 50 airmen from the Lincoln Air Force Base whose lives were lost in a plane crash on their return trip from England.

Miss Louella J. Hatz, principal of Merle Beattie School, said four of the students lost their fathers on the plane. Three of them were Dianne, Donna and Gale Goodroe, the daughters of the late Capt. Kenneth Goodroe.

Before the program, Stevenson told the people in the studio that he awoke with "an awful throat" Monday morning, but he said that it seemed to be clearing up.

The Democratic presidential candidate, his three sons and daughter-in-law, took part in the "national coffee hour" program over NBC.

The program was aimed principally at audiences of women taking part in "coffee hour" sessions sponsored by Democrats in homes throughout the country.

Stevenson talked about his proposal to ban hydrogen bomb tests and the question of peace in the world with his sons Adlai Jr., Borden, John Fell, and young Adlai's expectant wife, Nancy.

Ten Cubans Said Killed in Havana Rebel-Cop Fight

HAVANNA (INS)—Ten Cubans were reported killed Monday in a gun battle between Havana police and rebels seeking asylum in the Haitian Embassy.

The battle at the embassy in the fashionable Miramar district resulted in the critical wounding of Havana police chief Brig. Gen. Rafael Salas Canizares, who suffered six bullet wounds in the stomach and one in the head.

Cuban police were chasing rebels wanted in Sunday's assassination of Co. Antonio Blanco Rico, 34, Cuba's chief of military service, and the serious wounding of three other members of Blanco Rico's party struck down upon leaving the Montmartre Cabaret.

The battle Monday at approximately 2 p.m. posed a serious diplomatic incident between the Haitian and Cuban governments.

Demo Sorrell To Vote For Grain Tax Amendment

MINDEN, Neb. (P)—Frank Sorrell of Syracuse, Democratic candidate for governor, told a political rally he was going to vote for the grain tax amendment in the Nov. 6 election.

If the amendment is approved, the Legislature would be able to amend the tax now being collected on grains in the farmers' hands.

"I think it is a matter of simple justice," Sorrell said. "As matters now stand, the farmer is a victim of double taxation."

"The tax is assessed on all grains on the farms as of March 10th each year," he went on. "Practically all of it is to be used for feed for livestock."

Sorrell said many farm organizations and some grain dealers are supporting the proposal.

Sorrell said the amendment proposal was not a campaign issue, but that he was simply replying to inquiries by saying where he stood on the proposal. He called on Gov. Victor Anderson, who is seeking re-election, to also state his opinion on the proposal.

U.S. Ousts Soviet U.N. Diplomat

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—The U.S. Monday ordered the expulsion of Soviet U. N. diplomat Konstantin Pavlovich Ekimov for his role in the "kidnap" of little Tanya Chwastov.

Ekimov's "expedient departure" was demanded in a note handed to chief Soviet U.N. delegate A. A. Sobolev by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

The first secretary's secret participation in the "coerced" Oct. 3 departure from New York of Alexei Chwastov and his American born daughter, 2 1/2, was first disclosed on Oct. 11.

In declaring Ekimov persona non grata (un-acceptable), Lodge charged he "abused" his privileges as a diplomat and engaged in activities "outside the scope of his official duties."

Ekimov and other U.N. officials allegedly hid Chwastov and his baby from immigration officials for four hours before the Queen Mary sailed from New York.

If the amendment is approved, the Legislature would be able to amend the tax now being collected on grains in the farmers' hands.

"I think it is a matter of simple justice," Sorrell said. "As matters now stand, the farmer is a victim of double taxation."

"The tax is assessed on all grains on the farms as of March 10th each year," he went on. "Practically all of it is to be used for feed for livestock."

Sorrell said many farm organizations and some grain dealers are supporting the proposal.

Sorrell said the amendment proposal was not a campaign issue, but that he was simply replying to inquiries by saying where he stood on the proposal. He called on Gov. Victor Anderson, who is seeking re-election, to also state his opinion on the proposal.

Officer's Wife Spots Stolen Car's License

KANSAS CITY (INS)—Jacob N. Jensen, 25-year-old patrolman, his wife, Louise, and their two sons were riding in Kansas City Monday when Mrs. Jensen exclaimed: "Stop the car, Jake! There's a stolen car."

Obediently, the officer did so and a telephone call to the auto theft bureau confirmed the parked car had been stolen Sunday night. "Nothing to it," explained Mrs. Jensen. "I just have the habit of memorizing the license numbers of stolen cars in Jake's notebook."

TV Smoke Check

KANSAS CITY (INS)—Television may make Kansas City less smoky this winter.

Cameras, aimed at the top of the smokestacks, will be set up in the three yards of the Kansas City Power & Light Co.

Then firemen, watching the closed circuit receivers, will be able to tell by dense smoke when the fuel and air mixtures are not in proper balance.

Be Modern! . . . Telephone Condition your home

One telephone was once considered enough for a home . . . but modern living calls for extensions in all living, working and sleeping areas of your home.

Complete "telephone conditioning" of your home costs so little . . . adds so much convenience and comfort. An extension is only $1 per month plus 10 cents tax.

Call our business office, 5-4321, and start to live modernly with "telephone conditioning."

U.S. Ousts Soviet U.N. Diplomat

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—The U.S. Monday ordered the expulsion of Soviet U. N. diplomat Konstantin Pavlovich Ekimov for his role in the "kidnap" of little Tanya Chwastov.

Ekimov's "expedient departure" was demanded in a note handed to chief Soviet U.N. delegate A. A. Sobolev by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

The first secretary's secret participation in the "coerced" Oct. 3 departure from New York of Alexei Chwastov and his American born daughter, 2 1/2, was first disclosed on Oct. 11.

In declaring Ekimov persona non-grata (un-acceptable), Lodge charged he "abused" his privileges as a diplomat and engaged in activities "outside the scope" of his official duties.

Ekimov and other U.N. officials allegedly hid Chwastov and his baby from immigration officials for four hours before the Queen Mary sailed from New York.

Ouster Asked

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee, which ordered an investigation soon after Ekimov's activities were disclosed, last Thursday asked Secretary of State Dulles to oust the Soviet official.

The chairman of the Senate committee applauded the government's action and charged that Sobolev, too, has been engaged in improper redefinition activities.

Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.), said his group is gathering evidence against Sobolev and some of his subordinates.

The State Department's action means Ekimov—who earlier this year was named as the mastermind of the April kidnaping of five Soviet refugee seamen—must leave the country as soon as possible.

Tanya and her father are at the Soviet Embassy in London pending a custody hearing demanded by the mother, Mrs. George Dieczok, of Detroit. They were detained by British authorities just before they were to sail for Russia.

Hammond Dies

NEW YORK (P)—Ogden H. Hammond, 87, New Jersey real estate man, Republican leader and legislator who survived the Lusitania sinking and became ambassador to Spain, died after a long illness.

Hammond was aboard the Lusitania when the liner was torpedoed by a German submarine on May 7, 1915 and 1,198 persons lost their lives.

Council Endorses Legal Ad Change Amendment Proposal

The Lincoln City Council has endorsed a proposed charter amendment which would change the rate and method of publishing legal notices.

To be voted upon Nov. 6, the change eliminates the current limit of 25 cents a square that can be paid for legal advertising. It also would cut the number of such notices, in some cases from 10 publications to one.

In the form of an open letter to voters, the Council said it was imperative that the proposed amendment be approved.

Council members said they would be "derelict in our duty if we failed to present the gravity of this situation."

If the city could not publish its legal notices, the letter said, some of the matters which would be stopped are:

1. Enactment of most ordinances.
2. Raising of revenue for such purposes as police and fire department, park department and others.
3. Entering into contracts involving more than $1,500.
4. Holding of any city elections.
5. Purchase of any items costing more than $25.

Impossible After Election

The letter pointed out that such publications would be impossible after the November election unless the amendment is approved.

That fact is the result of notice served by local newspapers that they "no longer can continue to lose money on the publications" and that such publications will be stopped if the rate is not increased after Nov. 6.

The letter noted that the present rate was established in 1887 and at present "is not sufficient to pay the cost of the paper upon which the notice is printed."

The amendment permits publication of city legal notices on a bulletin board in the City Hall in the event the newspapers refuse publication at rates acceptable to the City Council.

Marine Cook Is Fined For Hitting Recruit

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (INS)—

A 21-year-old Marine cook Monday was found guilty of striking a recruit across the back with a broomstick, and fined $90 a month for four months.

Sgt. Edwin Kravitz, of White Plains, N. Y., was found not guilty on 11 other charges of maltreatment of recruits assigned to his mess hall for kitchen police duty.

Kravitz' trial came as the Marine Corps ordered a drill instructor to stand trial on charges of maltreatment of recruits, and announced that four other drill instructors were being investigated on similar complaints.

Pvt. Jack J. Holmes, of Columbus, Ga., testified that Sgt. Kravitz struck him across the back with a broomstick, complaining, "you ain't moving fast enough," as he carried a big trash can while on KP duty.

"He struck me in the small of my back with a broom handle," Holmes said, adding, "the blow caused a knot on my spine about the size of a half dollar and about one-half inch high."

Another recruit, Pvt. Dwight A. Mahoney, 18, of Tampa, Fla., told newsmen Sgt. Kravitz punched him because he was the last man of the platoon to step forward when Kravitz asked for one volunteer.

Ordered to trial by general court-martial was Pfc. Frederick A. Renton, 19, of New York City. He is accused of striking several recruits, causing members of his platoon to administer beatings to other members of the platoon, and requiring others to perform unauthorized physical exercises.

Knowland Doesn't See U.S. Troop Use In Mideast

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (P)—Sen. William F. Knowland said Monday night he doesn't think American military forces will become involved in the Middle East crisis.

The senator said he didn't foresee any move by the administration to commit troops in the Israeli-Egyptian dispute without the specific consent of Congress.

And, he said, as Republican leader in the Senate, he has had no indication Congress would be called into special session as the result of the Israeli invasion of Egypt.

Lincoln, Servicemen Pay Last Respects To LAFB's Vanished Fifty

Lincoln civilians and military personnel joined Monday in paying last respects to 50 Lincoln Air Force Base airmen who have been missing since an Oct. 10th flight from Lakenheath, England, to the Azores Islands and are now presumed dead.

Flags on the base and in Lincoln were flown at half mast, and two special religious services were held at the base chapel. Fifteen of the men were memorialized at Catholic services in the morning and 35 at Protestant services in the afternoon.

The 48 enlisted men and two officers were lost while en route back to Lincoln in a C118 after completing three months of temporary duty in England.

Only traces of the missing plane found have been a charred wheel, a seat cushion and a life raft.

"Tragic Thing"

Lt. I. M. Copeland, chaplain of the 397th Bombardment Wing—the unit to which the lost men were attached—declared during Protestant services that it is a tragic thing indeed when loved ones are taken from our midst, and even more tragic when there is no apparent reason or purpose for it.

But, he said, it is God's plan that we do not understand everything which happens. The lost men, he added, have exemplified devotion to duty.

Lt. Copeland told the overflow crowd at the LAFB Chapel which included many next of kin of the airmen as well as Air Force, Army and Navy personnel—that "We have much to be thankful for. We should be very thankful for God who has given us much and blessed us greatly."

"Our hope," he said, "is in the Lord."

"Condition of World"

Capt. P. A. Hamilton conducted the Catholic services. He said the only reason the lost men were flying the ocean in the military plane was because of the condition of the world today.

They would be alive today if it were not for the cold war, he added.

Three Catholic priests participated in the morning service and five Air Force chaplains in the afternoon service.

Col. Louis G. Thorup, commander of the 307th, laid a wreath before the altar at the protestant service. A flag-draped coffin was before the altar for the Catholic service.

Court Awards Woman $1,459 In Assault Case

A Lancaster District Court jury has awarded $1,459.00 damages to Mrs. Mae Lucille Manke of 2904 So. 14th for alleged injuries suffered Oct. 18, 1955, in an alleged assault incident.

Mrs. Manke had claimed $35,655.55 damages in her suit against Leonard Kilzer of 406 Hill, who she claimed "maliciously and violently assaulted" her.

Mrs. Manke was an employee of Kilzer Wholesale Florist, Inc., 2500 So. 35th, at the time of the incident.

The Gathering Clouds

There should be a better if unwelcome understanding of the truly dangerous world in which we live in the gathering ominous clouds of the Middle East horizons Monday.

Fulfillment of America's great hunger for peace does not rest wholly in our hands. It takes two nations, large or small, to inaugurate modern war. We did not initiate World War I. It grew out of the repeated sinking of American merchant ships, notwithstanding the protests by the American government following each incident of violation of the freedom of the seas. We did not initiate World War II, nor incite the attack on Pearl Harbor.

We did not invite the Korean War.

Ours has been the role of a non-aggressor—a peaceful people at all times anxious to avoid the destruction of modern warfare, but as a powerful country, with deeply rooted ideals of right and justice.

Nor will we depart from a traditional American role of a peace-loving people in the Middle East. There is no guarantee that that section of the world will escape the curse of armed conflict, or the ultimate involvements of other areas.

The Ayes Have It?

A national poll—that is one that sampled a limited number of people—has revealed that there are more than twice as many Americans who favor continuing the H-bomb tests than there are those who believe they should be ended.

In the microscopic field of sampling that settles the question of the ratio of opinion in the sampling of a limited group. But unfortunately it has little to do with the towering, crucial question of the ultimate effect of radioactive fallout on people.

Science itself which evolved the procedures whereby man could initiate radio activity, fission and fusion would quickly reject speculation on fallout as a conclusion without proper foundation. And while nuclear scientists as yet disagree among themselves in regard to exactly where is the critical point at which contaminated air is too much for human defenses there is not much disagreement that the effects of radioactivity are largely dangerously bad and that there is a point not yet unanimously declared where they are intolerable to human life and welfare.

If it were no more than a question of readjustment after that point were passed such as a nation passes through when its changes leadership or economic or social direction it could be faced gallantly. But in this case the human error or ignorance leading to an excess of fallout has all the earmarks of a non-recoverable mistake. If such a mistake is made there can be no recourse against poll takers reflecting, by inference, a condition of security not against political spokesmen who have issued guarantees.

However one may feel politically about H-bombs, common sense rules on the side of caution pending the establishment of absolutes by science itself.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE
(Part One of a series)

A grave presidential campaigning in Florida broke the silence which had settled over the Middle East for several days to warn the American people of the increase in tensions overseas. There was the uncertainty in another spot in the old world, of rebellion against the things which have been. Here at home a presidential campaign was drawing to a close and if we read the thoughts of millions of Americans correctly, they will be happy when the shouting dies down, the votes have been counted, and a decision reached upon the vital issue of American leadership for the next four years. The slogans of this campaign are so misleading and because they are misleading, so unsatisfying.

There is the slogan, "Peace and Prosperity." It is impossible for anyone of intelligence to quarrel either with peace or prosperity. Basically there is no war party in the United States, Democrat or Republican. We are all for peace, disagreeing as we do on occasions as to the best method of preserving peace. We are all for prosperity, full employment, high wages, or jobs for all and at peak salaries and wages. There is nothing in any of this to test American leadership, or to provide a clue as to intelligent thinking when it comes to the job to be filled by the man in the White House. At issue—and the only question at issue—is individual American thought of the job of serving the nation, sometimes somber, sometimes gay, always challenging in the best interest of the people governed. What do we expect of this man who fills the exalted post of President? Why is it that some who have been President take ranking in history in terms of greatness for leadership, while others are forgotten? What will be the ranking of our chosen leaders in these swift, bustling years of stupping change? Has it been a moderate, a middle of the roader in times of stress, who attained a lasting fame for the ages?

We suggest to the voter, possibly undecided as to how he should cast a ballot or perhaps now of the opinion that already he has made up his mind, that because of the nature of our world and our times, as an act of intelligent citizenship, before voting each voter review the circumstances. We speak of peace and yet we know there is no peace in the world and because there is no peace in certain sections of the world, there can be no full assurance of continuing peace here in the United States. We do not start wars and to imply we do is to distort fact. We speak of prosperity and yet we know even now that millions are experiencing greater difficulty in meeting advancing living costs and for them the struggle becomes more difficult and more desperate.

Even while dictating this, the telephone on the desk rang and a woman on the other end of the wire called the editor's attention to the fact that in World War I, poison gas put in its appearance. "It was not used in the Second World War because of a mutual recognition that new gases in the field of chemical warfare had been developed until they were much more destructive and deadly than those utilized in the closing phases of World War I. Why do we take the attitude," she asked, "that we cannot depend upon a nation's word to abandon tests of the H-bomb when because of its destructiveness and its threat to civilization, nations gave up poison gas?" It is a good question. Must we forever be pouring out billions in a mad, uncurbed armament race? Must billions of dollars be expended year after year for the development of weapons which have a capacity to destroy the human race?

What is it that we expect of leadership? Those of us who gaze up at the skies on occasion to penetrate their mysteries crave peace—not the uneasy peace of today—but a more enduring peace. Shall we surrender to the futility, the hopelessness of despair and cynicism which say there can be no leadership in others? We recognize the full sternness of our times and yet we believe that the American people, given the inspiration of inspired leadership, can and will lead the world out of folly. To think otherwise is to deny human intelligence.

In response to telegraphic inquiry the Associated Press in Washington sent this message to The Lincoln Star: Total national debt, January 30, 1955: $267,200,000,000, total national debt, October 22, 1956: $275,469,158,388." Increase in last four years under Eisenhower and a nation at peace—$8,269,158,388.

What do we expect of leadership in the next four years?

Investigation On Of Air Force Deal

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A Federal grand jury at Scranton, Pa., is secretly investigating charges that an Air Force general accepted $16,000 cash and 50,000 shares of stock from Royal Electric, Inc., of Xenia, Ohio, at the same time the firm was negotiating for a $148,750 Air Force contract.

This column has been investigating the alleged scandal for four months. Here are the findings, which are also now before the grand jury:

1. The accused officer, Brig. Gen. Ralph Brownfield, has been ousted as a colonel and ousted as Deputy Commander of the Middletown Air Materiel Command for selling patents to Royal Electric while the company was negotiating with the Middletown to modify 1750 J-8 indicators.

2. Robert McNett, Royal Electric's dynamic young boss, has also been charged with supplying a 1954 Cadillac to Middletown's commanding general, Maj. Gen. Lyman P. Whitten, now retired, and a 1954 Buick to the procurement director, Col. Charles Burrell. McNett insists, and the two officers confirm, that he sold them the automobiles.

McNett also claims he is a victim of a 30-year feud between Gen. Brownfield and the Air Force Inspector General, Lieut. Gen. Truman Landon. Royal Electric is a small business that depended almost entirely on Air Force contracts. Its payroll has been whittled from 300 to 10, and the company has been nearly bankrupted by the Air Force investigation.

This column has established that Royal Electric paid Brownfield $5,000 by company check on Oct. 9, 1954, and another $5,000 on March 9, 1955. Additional payments of 100 per week for a 12-month period were started on May 16, 1955. McNett also transferred 50,000 shares of General Metals stock to Brownfield in October, 1954.

On Feb. 2, 1955—less than a month before the $5,000 payment

—Royal signed an Air Force contract to modify the 1750 indicators for a total price of $148,750. The company was the low bidder, though Air Force investigators charged it lacked the experience to handle the contract.

McNett swears he paid Brownfield for patents which Air Force investigators charge are "worthless" but which engineers have sworn are valuable. Royal Electric has not exploited the patents, McNett swears, because it has been too busy defending itself from the Air Force investigation.

Brownfield also claims he received verbal approval from his superiors before selling the patents. After accepting the first check, he reported the transaction in writing and requested formal approval. This subsequently was granted by his superiors.

However, the Air Force investigated the transaction, demoted and transferred Brownfield for showing alleged "poor judgment," barred Royal Electric from further Air Force business, and turned its findings over to the Justice Department. Two Justice Department attorneys, Nathaniel Kasseck and James P. O'Brien, reviewed the case and submitted it to U.S. Attorney Julius Levy at Scranton, Pa., for presentation to the grand jury.

Meanwhile, McNett enlisted the support of congressman Victor Wickersham, (D-Okla.), member of the House Armed Services committee, whose interest in the case is baffling. His district in faraway Oklahoma has nothing to do with Royal Electric, located in Ohio, nor the Middletown Air Materiel Command, located in Pennsylvania.

However, Wickersham has been throwing his weight around the Pentagon, trying to quash the case. At one point, he sent the Air Force Inspector General a sharp letter, bluntly intimating investigator J. M. Braun, who initiated the case.

Ike's Health Is Still A Question

WASHINGTON — Up to the last minute, reporters were trying to get a press conference with President Eisenhower's doctors on the subject of his health. Up to the last minute, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty was refusing it.

At issue is whether the President's doctors gave a misleading, too optimistic account of his surgery for ileitis to reporters within a few hours after that operation. Leading physicians and all the medical literature say that they did.

Ever since then these same doctors have refused to talk to reporters despite incessant effort to get them to do so. The contrast between the many press conferences, formal and informal, permitted and even encouraged by the White House with the President's heart specialists could not be more striking.

The President's ileitis surgeons are a prominent half of the medical team which gave the report made public at the White House Sunday. They include the same doctors who repeatedly gave bullish check-up reports on the President's health up to the time of his heart attack and ileitis surgery.

Those reports never mentioned anything about the President having a chronic intestinal condition. Yet one of the principal points the Eisenhower ileitis surgeons stressed in contending that the President would be better than ever was that he had been relieved by surgery of a chronic intestinal complaint.

Brief quotations show the case against the President's doctors.

Risk Appraisal, the bible of insurance underwriters, says of ileitis: "Serious, always serious. Short circuiting operations offer hope, but not much. Prognosis always dubious. Recurrence is distressingly high. Disability coverage no, positively no."

The latest surgery manual of the disease by Dr. Frederick P. Boyce of Tulane University stresses that it is chronic, frequently progressive and often recurrent. There are few diseases, Dr. Boyce wrote, "which should leave the physician with a greater sense of humility."

As Arthur Godfrey complained of La Rosa, humility is one thing the President's ileitis surgeons seem to lack in any way, shape or form.

The issue of the President's health has been muted in the campaign for two reasons. One is that he has stayed well and has been campaigning vigorously. The other is that the Democrats, contrary to predictions, decided to wage a clean campaign on it.

Privately among Democrats there is a feeling of intense bitterness about it. They make no secret of their belief that the heavily pro-Eisenhower press would have made it an issue had the situation been reversed with the President not a Republican but a Democrat.

Democrats expect that the President will do less and less work, and they already thought he didn't do much except what was done in the public eye. Should he fail altogether and Vice President Nixon become either the acting or the actual president, their bitterness will be a political fact of life for a long time to come.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

Campaign Issues Top Interest

1956 Campaign

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In this 1956 campaign, we have the second contest between Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson. The former has served most of four years as President and the latter has become much better known both at home and abroad. It should be easy to set forth the record and get at the issues. But instead of a clear-cut picture, there is a lot of shadow-boxing with charges and counter-charges and denials and counter-denials.

The Republicans claim that they have brought peace and prosperity. The Democrats say that neither the peace nor the prosperity is on as sure a foundation as it was when they turned it over to this administration. The Democrats produce some facts. The President flies up and down the country; in parades he smiles and waves his uplifted arms to huge audiences and asks if they are not happy. Thus the campaign cavalcade moves along.

The President's role seems to be that of a combined hero and cheer leader. It does not put the voters in the mood to think about serious issues. And yet the choice of leaders binds us for four years, and many of their acts will be irrevocable.

The President by his official position has great advantage in getting the public's attention and he has access to the information of all public agencies. He should be able to give the public facts on the issues raised. Instead he has repudiated with generalities, and charged his opponent with ignorance and lack of judgment. Worse still, on the issue of the dangerous fall-out from continued large H-bomb tests that have frightened neutral and allied peoples, he first talked about abandoning atomic weapons—which was not Mr. Stevenson's suggestion.

The public should remember the Japanese protests because of the injuries to their fishermen from our Pacific H-bomb explosions. We still lack details about those injuries. World opinion was much amused, and we were much embarrassed.

The refusal of the Eisenhower administration to heed world opinion on such matters has stirred the feelings of foreign peoples much beyond our comprehension in this country. The ejection of our garrison in Iceland, the weakening of the Atlantic treaty organization, the move among the nations of Western Europe to form a neutral bloc to ignore the rivalries of the United States and Russia are among the evidences of foreign distrust of the Eisenhower administration. That is why the failure of President Eisenhower to candidly face the issues raised by Mr. Stevenson is so disturbing to informed and thoughtful people.

The campaign has taken on something of the character of a football contest in which a week home team tries to supplement its efforts by the cheers of the spectators and thus to deceive and intimidate the officials. Certainly if expenditures and glamorous settings can improve the prospects of their candidates, the Republicans have a great advantage. The great question is the reaction of our voters. Are they thinking about the issues or merely gazing upon the cavalcade?

Election day is one week away. A DEMOCRAT

Lincoln, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I think we women resent being put into generalized categories. In a recent letter to this column entitled "The Straw Vote," Author Clarence Davis smugly announces that the women will vote for Eisenhower. He declares that we will vote for Ike because "he got us out of the Korean war and kept us out of any wars."

Maybe some women approve of the policy of appeasement employed in Korea, Indochina and the Suez Canal area and any place where Communism flaunted its power and dared to do something about it. The most recent example of this weakness is failure to back up the revolts in eastern Europe. By promising once again to keep us out of war, Dulles makes us appear weaker than at any time since the Hoover administration. It was the Republican party that promised to aid in the efforts against Communism across the world. Dulles, in a cheap election appeal for the votes of mothers, has just emphasized that the United States will not assume a position of strength.

I for one don't think a policy of isolation is safe, and here's one woman's vote Ike can't have. PHYLLIS M. CARSON

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The trucking industry after starting from scratch less than two decades ago has now taken on the role held by the railroad tycoons of the nation three-quarters of a century ago. The railroads gained control of the legislatures by coercing businessmen and farmers by using discriminatory charges or withholding transportation services to those who opposed them. In 1887 Congress stepped in and passed the Interstate Commerce Act to regulate all phases of the railroad industry and make it a servant of the people.

Today it is the trucking industry with its elegantly financed lobbies, its representatives in our legislatures and paid harangues of propaganda that has taken the attitude formerly held by the railroad tycoons: "The public be damned!"

It is estimated by good authority that one out of every 11 people in the country are now connected with the trucking industry in some way. They are either operating the trucks, furnishing services and supplies to them or using their means of transportation to make a profit off of the public's investment in the highways.

Let's face it. Our highways today are a socialized enterprise with all of us putting up the money to enable 10 per cent of the population to operate a business for their own special profit. Their front men keep trying to make the other 90 per cent believe they are the ones who are really getting something for nothing.

There is no question but what trucks are here to stay. The railroads are required to that fact, too. They are buying up trucking companies with their franchise and expanding their already interstate routes. They are diverting their less-than-carload shipments to their truck subsidiaries, closing up freight stations, discontinuing trains and in many instances have pulled out of the rails. They thereby get out from under the strict control of the governmental commissions, local taxes and right-of-way maintenance.

Many of the heavy trucks on Nebraska's highways are transcontinental outfits, registered and taxed in other states. The only taxes these trucks pay is the gasoline or equalization fee in case of diesels. Not one penny of this goes toward schools or local government. Some counties do profit from the truckers' practice of overloading. The state has 12 weighing stations that are opened for while each day to snare those on the road at the time the trap is sprung. For every one that is caught, many more elude being weighed. When a trucker is caught, it is an accident on his part for being caught, not for being overloaded. The truckers and the service stations that enter to their trade have a sound system developed to warn the roadblocks when the weighing station is open. The trucker with an overload, picking up this signal, holes up at the nearest service station or roadside to await the all-clear signal.

The ten-mile tax is the only way to get these men.

RALPH T. SLAUGHTER

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Today I want to continue my report on the parts of the proposed housing ordinance that "we, the people," want changed before the ordinance becomes a law.

If the inspector finds that your house does not conform to the requirements of the ordinance, he gives you a date to appear before the City Council for a hearing. What are your chances? The City Council is the same body that made the law. Is it not likely that the Council will favor its law and be a bit tough on one who is accused of violating it?

If the Council finds you guilty of violation, the health officer posts a placard on your house. Your tenants move out or they too become guilty. This might occur in the dead of winter. There might be no suitable place for them to move into. But that is all right. Why worry!

3.—The Council may pass all laws necessary to enforce this ordinance; another example of unlimited authority. This means that the Council may hire any number of new officers and pay their salaries out of tax money. It is estimated that the costs of enforcement will add up to ten or fifteen thousand dollars. Our taxes are already a heavy burden, almost more than we can bear. Perhaps another ten or fifteen thousand dollars won't make too much difference. We can hope!

4.—Higher standards mean higher rents, because nobody can invest money unless he can receive a suitable return. Remodeling old houses is restricted; the floor area required for each person in new and remodeled houses is too large for economy; a kitchen sink and bath with hot and cold water in each dwelling unit is going to cost money. Many of our citizens do not have that kind of money. These three provisions are certain to reduce the number of low-cost apartments in the city. We suggest that the aged, the handicapped and any others who find it necessary to economize begin figuring now how much more you can pay for the luxuries that this ordinance will force upon you.

Different officials of our city government have told us—

1.—That this ordinance is not intended to hurt anybody. We can believe that, with reservations.

2.—That the law will be enforced sympathetically. Much of Lincoln's rental property belongs to oldsters, people who have lived here fifty years, paid taxes and helped build the town. Our taxes pay the salaries of the city officials. Is it right to place us in position where we need sympathy? All we ask is to use the property we have acquired to live in and to earn our living.

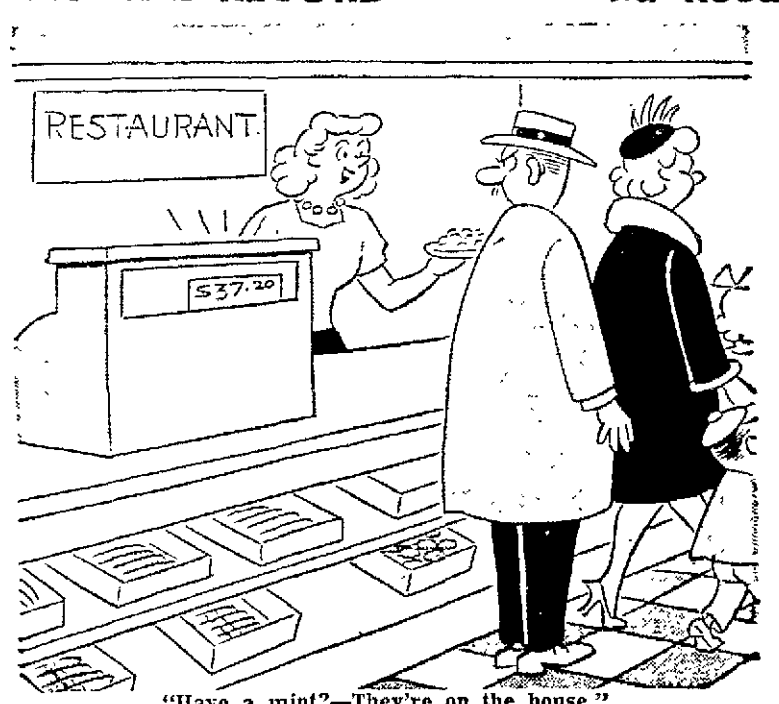

3.—That we should trust our government. We do trust it; we have to. We would trust it more and be happier about it if our government were more willing to do what we ask in matters that vitally concern our welfare. For nearly two years we have been protesting these objectionable features. Lawyers, business men, old people, young people, those who can make good talks and those who can't—all have appeared again and again protesting. But the objectionable points are right there in the ordinance, and the Council hopes to pass it on November 3.

4.—That if any points of the ordinance prove unworkable, they can be changed later. Our batting average on changes is pretty low. In this connection we recall the controversy over the location of the new City Auditorium. "We, the people" who are paying for this million-dollar structure wanted it located out some place where there was parking for our cars and room for other activities. We didn't get our wish. We are proud of the beautiful building, but in many hearts there is resentment against a government that would not heed the expressed will of the people. If our present city officials want us to believe that parts of the housing ordinance can be changed later, they might demonstrate by changing the location of the auditorium. "Handsome is as handsome does!"

Only A Part

It was a hopeful Nebraska that scanned the cloudy skies while its hand clutched an early week weather forecast promising rain.

The protracted drought has shown the durability of the nine-lined cat and earlier breaks in the weather failed to bring the drenching rains so greatly needed. The coming days will spell out the substance of this new promise.

It is not too late to bolster the fall planted crops. Rain can yet do much to prepare the wheat for the winter and to provide the moisture that can make the difference between good production next year and disappointment.

But even abundant rainfall will not cure all of this agricultural region's problems. The drought has hurt but its elimination will not spell swift and full scale recovery. It has been allowed to obscure other facts. One of them is that acreage allocations and soil bank set-outs have removed a substantial number of producing acres from Nebraska's basic crops. Come any amount of rain these acres will not add a whit to the total product. Inevitably recovery will be something less than full scale.

And still standing is the cost price squeeze—the ever increasing price the farmer must pay for what he must use without compensating increase in the price he gets for what he produces.

More Than Numbers

It is always a concomitant to American elections that there is a concerted drive to stimulate the largest possible number of votes. It is a premise and not altogether wrong that a successful democracy requires the full participation of its members and a slim vote is a sign that far too many are taking their citizenship responsibilities casually.

But one is finding comfort in a fallacy if he chooses to simplify democratic success with heavy voting alone. There is an added requirement. It is that voters render their decisions after a period given over to informative contemplation of men and issues and that voting is carried out with the minimum amount of emotion and a maximum amount of logical conviction based on fact.

The code for the good voter was well expressed by John Wesley, the famous founder of Methodism long ago. He advised to "act as if the whole election depended on your single vote, and as if the whole parliament and therein the whole nation on that single person you now choose to be a member of it."

Academic Freedom

This newspaper—and, we believe, all other newspapers—hold academic freedom in the field of education of vital concern to the American people. Notwithstanding the charge of interference with free education, this is to express regret that there has been a renewal of the controversy of academic freedom on the campus of the University of Nebraska. We have no knowledge of any attempt to censor or to interfere with reasonable expression of views by members of the faculty of the university.

Just Depends

A Wyoming man, reminded that the hunting season is on us again, painted the antlers of his pet deer red the idea being to keep it from getting shot. We imagine that will work out all right unless the deer is mistaken for a man in a red hunting cap. In that case it won't have much chance.

Heart Laboratory Better Diagnosis

NEW YORK — Two seemingly healthy friends of ours, Mrs. Frank Folsom and Mrs. John Reed Kilpatrick, died suddenly of heart attacks recently. Each had just prior to death undergone physical checkups which found them sound. So had President Eisenhower only a few days before his heart attack of September, 1955.

Medical science has been looking ceaselessly for a better method of diagnosing heart trouble than the observation of physical symptoms, the electrocardiograph, X-ray, stethoscope and fluoroscope. An answer may be the type of cardiopulmonary laboratory just dedicated at Lebanon hospital in the Bronx, in memory of John Carl Kriendler.

Jack Kriendler, co-founder of New York's "21" club, was a heart victim as a comparatively young man. His devoted family and friends have formed the Jack Kriendler Memorial Fund. Some $30,000 from that fund set up the laboratory at Lebanon which Kriendler's lifelong friend and associate Charles A. Berns will present. It is one of the first of its kind in this nation of 6,000 and more hospitals.

The Kriendler lab consists of three basic units: a 500 millamp X-ray machine, a revolutionary X-ray camera which produces a movie-like effect of the movement of injected fluid through the heart, and a recording device to indicate pressures in the different chambers of the heart.

An opaque and slightly radioactive iodine substance is introduced into the heart and makes the 22-second passage through the organ with the accompanying blood stream. During that passage the X-ray camera films many dozens of pictures which indicate to the trained technician just where, if any place within the heart, danger brews.

The Kriendler lab and the few others like it are the fruit of the work of Dr. Werner Forssmann, who once was called a crackpot by fellow doctors for insisting he could push a tube through a patient's arm and into the heart and through it inject fluids... which would show up in contrast to the remainder of the heart on X-ray films. Instead of becoming discouraged, Dr. Forssmann went on to become chief surgeon at the Dresden-Friedrichstadt hospital.

The Gathering Clouds

There should be a better if unwelcome understanding of the truly dangerous world in which we live in the gathering ominous clouds of the Middle East horizons Monday.

Fulfillment of America's great hunger for peace does not rest wholly in our hands. It takes two nations, large or small, to inaugurate modern war. We did not initiate World War I. It grew out of the repeated sinking of American merchant ships, notwithstanding the protests by the American government following each incident of violation of the freedom of the seas.

We did not initiate World War II, nor incite

the attack on Pearl Harbor.

We did not invite the Korean War.

Ours has been the role of a non-aggressor—a peaceful people at all times anxious to avoid the destruction of modern warfare, but as a powerful country, with deeply rooted ideals of right and justice.

Nor will we depart from a traditional American role of a peace-loving people in the Middle East. There is no guarantee that that section of the world will escape the curse of armed conflict, or the ultimate involvements of other areas.

The Ayes Have It?

A national poll—that is one that sampled a limited number of people—has revealed that there are more than twice as many Americans who favor continuing the H-bomb tests than there are those who believe they should be ended.

In the microscopic field of sampling that settles the question of the ratio of opinion in the sampling of a limited group. But unfortunately it has little to do with the towering, crucial question of the ultimate effect of radioactive fallout on people.

Science itself which evolved the procedures whereby man could initiate radio activity, fission and fusion would quickly reject speculation on fallout as a conclusion without proper foundation. And while nuclear scientists as yet disagree among themselves in regard to exactly where is the critical point at which contaminated air is too much for human defenses there is not much disagreement that the effects of radioactivity are largely dangerously bad and that there is a point not yet unanimously declared where they are intolerable to human life and welfare.

If it were no more than a question of readjustment after that point were passed such as a nation passes through when its changes leadership or economic or social direction it could be faced gallantly. But in this case the human error or ignorance leading to an excess of fallout has all the earmarks of a non-recoverable mistake. If such a mistake is made there can be no recourse against poll takers reflecting, by inference, a condition of security nor against political spokesmen who have issued guarantees.

However one may feel politically about H-bombs, common sense rules on the side of caution pending the establishment of absolutes by science itself.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE
(Part One of a series)

A grave President campaigning in Florida broke the silence which had settled over the Middle East for several days to warn the American people of the increase in tensions overseas. There was the uncertainty in another spot in the old world of rebellion against the things which have been, Here at home a presidential campaign was drawing to a close and if we read the thoughts of millions of Americans correctly, they will be happy when the shouting dies down, the votes have been counted, and a decision reached upon the vital issue of American leadership for the next four years. The slogans of this campaign are so misleading and because they are misleading, so unsatisfying.

There is the slogan, "Peace and Prosperity." It is impossible for anyone of intelligence to quarrel either with peace or prosperity. Basically there is no war party in the United States, Democrat or Republican. We are all for peace, disagreeing as we do on occasions as to the best method of preserving peace. We are all for prosperity, full employment, high wages, or jobs for all and at peak salaries and wages. There is nothing in any of this to test American leadership, or to provide a clue as to intelligent thinking when it comes to the job to be filled by the man in the White House. At issue—and the only question at issue—is individual American thought of the job of serving the nation, sometimes somber, sometimes gay, always challenging in the best interest of the people governed. What do we expect of this man who fills the exalted post of President? Why is it that some who have been President take ranking in history in terms of greatness for leadership, while others are forgotten? What will be the ranking of our chosen leaders in these swift, bristling years of stupping change? Has it been a moderate, a middle of the roader in times of stress, who attained a lasting fame for the ages?

We suggest to the voter, possibly undecided as to how he should cast a ballot or perhaps now of the opinion that already he has made up his mind, that because of the nature of our world and our times, as an act of intelligent citizenship, before voting each voter review the circumstances. We speak of peace and yet we know there is no peace in the world and because there is no peace in certain sections of the world, there can be no full assurance of continuing peace here in the United States. We do not start wars and to imply we do is to distort fact. We speak of prosperity and yet we know even now that millions are experiencing greater difficulty in meeting advancing living costs and for them the struggle becomes more difficult and more desperate.

Even while dictating this, the telephone on the desk rang and a woman on the other end of the wire called the editor's attention to the fact that in World War I, poison gas put in its appearance. "It was not used in the Second World War because of a mutual recognition that new gases in the field of chemical warfare had been developed until they were much more destructive and deadly than those utilized in the closing phases of World War I. Why do we take the attitude," she asked, "that we cannot depend upon a nation's word to abandon tests of the H-bomb when because of its destructiveness and its threat to civilization, nations gave up poison gas?" It is a good question. Must we forever be pouring out billions in a mad, uncurbed armament race? But billions of dollars be expended year after year for the development of weapons which have a capacity to destroy the human race?

What is it that we expect of leadership? Those of us who gaze up at the skies on occasion to penetrate their mysteries crave peace—not the uneasy peace of today—but a more enduring peace. Shall we surrender to the futility, the hopelessness of despair and cynicism which say there can be no leadership in our times? We recognize the full sternness of our times and yet we believe that the American people, given the inspiration of inspired leadership, can and will lead the world out of folly. To think otherwise is to deny human intelligence.

In response to telegraphic inquiry the Associated Press in Washington sent this message to The Lincoln Star: Total national debt, January 20, 1953: $267,200,000,000, total national debt, October 22, 1956: $275,469,158,388." Increase in last four years under Eisenhower and a nation at peace—$8,269,158,388.

What do we expect of leadership in the next four years?

Investigation On Of Air Force Deal

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A Federal grand jury at Scranton, Pa., is secretly investigating charges that an Air Force general accepted $16,000 cash and 50,000 shares of stock from Royal Electric, Inc., of Xenia, Ohio, at the same time the firm was negotiating for a $143,750 Air Force contract.

This column has been investigating the alleged scandal for four months. Here are the findings, which are also now before the grand jury.

1. The accused officer, Brig. Gen. Ralph Brownfield, has been busted to a colonel and ousted as Deputy Commander of the Middletown Air Materiel command for selling patents to Royal Electric while the company was negotiating with Middletown to modify 1,750 J-8 indicators.

2. Robert McNett, Royal Electric's dynamic young boss, has also been charged with supplying a 1954 Cadillac to Middletown's commanding general, Maj. Gen. Lyman P. Whitten, now retired, and a 1954 Buick to the procurement director, Col. Charles Burley. McNett insists, and the two officers confirm, that he sold them the automobiles.

McNett also claims he is a victim of a 30-year feud between Gen. Brownfield and the Air Force Inspector General, Lieut. Gen. Truman Landon. Royal Electric is a small business that depended almost entirely on Air Force contracts. Its payroll has been whittled from 300 to 10, and the company has been nearly bankrupted by the Air Force investigation.

This column has established that Royal Electric paid Brownfield $5,000 by company check on Oct. 9, 1954, and another $5,800 on March 9, 1955. Additional payments of 100 per cent for a 12-month period were started on May 16, 1955. McNett also transferred 50,000 shares of General Metals stock to Brownfield in October, 1954.

On Feb. 2, 1955—less than a month before the $5,800 payment

—Royal signed an Air Force contract to modify the 1,750 indicators for a total price of $143,750. The company was the low bidder, though Air Force investigators charged it lacked the experience to handle the contract.

McNett swears he paid Brownfield for patents which Air Force investigators charge are "worthless" but which engineers have sworn are valuable. Royal Electric has not exploited the patents, McNett swears, because it has been too busy defending itself from the Air Force investigation.

Brownfield also claims he received verbal approval from his superiors before selling the patents. After accepting the first check, he reported the transaction in writing and requested formal approval. This subsequently was granted by his superiors.

However, the Air Force investigated the transaction, demoted and transferred Brownfield for showing alleged "poor judgment," barred Royal Electric from further air force business, and turned its findings over to the Justice Department. Two Justice Department attorneys, Nathaniel Kossack and James P. O'Brien, reviewed the case and submitted it to U.S. Attorney Julius Levy at Scranton, Pa., for presentation to the grand jury.

Meanwhile, McNett enlisted the support of congressman Victor Wickersham, (D-Okla.), member of the House Armed Services committee, whose interest in the case is baffling. His district in faraway Oklahoma has nothing to do with Royal Electric, located in Ohio, nor the Middletown Air Materiel Command, located in Pennsylvania.

However, Wickersham has been throwing his weight around the Pentagon, trying to quash the case. At one point, he sent the Air Force Inspector General a sharp letter, bluntly intimidating investigator J. M. Braun, who initiated the case.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In this 1956 campaign, we have the second contest between Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson. The former has served most of four years as President and the latter has become much better known both at home and abroad. It should be easy to set forth the record and get at the issues. But instead of a clearcut picture, there is a lot of shadow-boxing with charges and counter-charges and denials and counter-denials.

The Republicans claim that they have brought peace and prosperity. The Democrats say that neither the peace nor the prosperity is on as sure a foundation as it was when they turned it over to this administration. The Democrats produce some facts. The President flies up and down the country; in parades he smiles and waves his uplifted arms to huge audiences and asks if they are not happy. Thus the campaign cavalcade moves along.

The President's role seems to be that of a combined hero and cheer leader. It does not put the voters in the mood to think about serious issues. And yet the choice of leaders binds us for four years, and many of their acts will be irrevocable.

The President by his official position has great advantage in getting the public's attention and he has access to the information of all public agencies. He should be able to give the public facts on the issues raised. Instead he has replied with generalities, and charged his opponent with ignorance and lack of judgment. Worse still, on the issue of the dangerous fall-out from continued large H-bomb tests that have frightened neutral and allied peoples, he first talked about abandoning atomic weapons—which was not Mr. Stevenson's suggestion.

The public should remember the Japanese protests because of the injuries to their fishermen from our Pacific H-bomb explosions. We still lack details about those injuries. World opinion was much aroused, and we were much embarrassed.

The refusal of the Eisenhower administration to heed world opinion on such matters has stirred the feelings of foreign peoples much beyond our comprehension in this country. The ejection of our garrison in Iceland, the weakening of the Atlantic treaty organization, the move among the nations of Western Europe to form a neutral bloc to ignore the rivalries of the United States and Russia are among the evidences of foreign distrust of the Eisenhower administration. That is why the failure of President Eisenhower to candidly face the issues raised by Mr. Stevenson is so disturbing to informed and thoughtful people.

The campaign has taken on something of the character of a football contest in which a weak home team tries to supplement its efforts by the cheers of the spectators and thus to deceive and intimidate the officials. Certainly if expenditures and glamorous settings can improve the prospects of their candidates, the Republicans have a great advantage. The great question is the reaction of our votes. Are they thinking about the issues or merely gazing upon the cavalcade?

Election day is one week away.

A DEMOCRAT

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Today I want to continue my report on the parts of the proposed housing ordinance that "we, the people," want changed before the ordinance becomes a law.

7.—If the inspector finds that your house does not conform to the requirements of the ordinance, he gives you a date to appear before the City Council for a hearing. What are your chances? The City Council is the same body that made the law. Is it not likely that the Council will favor its law and be a bit tough on one who is accused of violating it?

If the Council finds you guilty of violation, the health officer posts a placard on your house. Your tenants move out or they too become guilty. This might occur in the dead of winter. There might be no suitable place for them to move into. But that is all right. Why worry?

8.—The Council may pass all laws necessary to enforce this ordinance; another example of unlimited authority. This means that the Council may hire any number of new officers and pay their salaries out of tax money. It is estimated that the costs of enforcement will add up to ten or fifteen thousand dollars. Our taxes are already a heavy burden, almost more than we can bear. Perhaps another ten or fifteen thousand dollars won't make too much difference. We can hope!

9. — Higher standards mean higher rents, because nobody can invest money unless he can receive a suitable return. Remodeling old houses is restricted; the floor area required for each person in new and remodeled houses is too large for economy; a kitchen sink and bath with hot and cold water in each dwelling unit is going to cost money. Many of our citizens do not have that kind of money. These three provisions are certain to reduce the number of low-cost apartments in the city. We suggest that the aged, the handicapped and any others who find it necessary to economize begin figuring now how much more you can pay for the luxuries that this ordinance will force upon you.

Different officials of our city government have told us—

1.—That this ordinance is not intended to hurt anybody. We can believe that, with reservations.

2.—That the law will be enforced sympathetically. Much of Lincoln's rental property belongs to oldsters, people who have lived here fifty years, paid taxes and helped build the town. Our taxes pay the salaries of the city officials. Is it right to place us in position where we need sympathy? All we ask is to use the property we have acquired to live in and to earn our living.

3. — That we should trust our government. We do trust it; we have to. We would trust it more and be happier about it if our government were more willing to do what we ask in matters that vitally concern our welfare. For nearly two years we have been protesting these objectionable features. Lawyers, business men, old people, young people, those who can make good talks and those who can't — all have appeared again and again protesting. But the objectionable points are right there in the ordinance, and the Council hopes to pass it on November 5.

4. — That if any points of the ordinance prove unworkable, they can be changed later. Our batting average on changes is pretty low. In this connection we recall the controversy over the location of the new City Auditorium. "We, the people" who are paying for this million-dollar structure wanted it located out some place where there was parking for our cars and room for other activities. We didn't get our wish. We are proud of the beautiful building, but in many hearts there is resentment against a government that would not heed the expressed will of the people. If our present city officials want us to believe that parts of the housing ordinance can be changed later, they might demonstrate by changing the location of the auditorium. "Handsome is as handsome does!"

Ike's Health Is Still A Question

WASHINGTON — Up to the last minute, reporters were trying to get a press conference with President Eisenhower's doctors on the subject of his health. Up to the last minute, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty was refusing it.

At issue is whether the President's doctors gave a misleading, too optimistic account of his surgery for ileitis to reporters within a few hours after that operation. Leading physicians and all the medical literature say that they did.

Ever since then these same doctors have refused to talk to reporters despite incessant effort to get them to do so. The contrast between the many press conferences, formal and informal, permitted and even encouraged by the White House with the President's heart specialists could not be more striking.

The President's ileitis surgeons are a prominent half of the medical team which gave the report made public at the White House Sunday. They include the same doctors who repeatedly gave bullish check-up reports on the President's health up to the time of his heart attack and ileitis surgery.

Those reports never mentioned anything about the President having a chronic intestinal condition. Yet one of the principal points the Eisenhower ileitis surgeons stressed in contending that the President would be better than ever was that he had been relieved by surgery of a chronic intestinal complaint.

Brief quotations show the case against the President's doctors.

Risk Appraisal, the bible of insurance underwriters, says of ileitis: "Serious, always serious. Short circuiting operations offer hope, but not much. Prognosis always dubious. Recurrence is distressingly high. Disability coverage no, positively no."

The latest surgery manual of the disease by Dr. Frederick F. Boyce of Tulane University stresses that it is chronic, frequently progressive and often recurrent. There are few diseases, Dr. Boyce wrote, "which should leave the physician with a greater sense of humility."

As Arthur Godfrey complained of La Rosa, humility is one thing the President's ileitis surgeons seem to lack in any way, shape or form.

The issue of the President's health has been muted in the campaign for two reasons. One is that he has stayed well and has been campaigning vigorously. The other is that the Democrats, contrary to predictions, decided to wage a clean campaign on it.

Privately among Democrats there is a feeling of intense bitterness about it. They make no secret of their belief that the heavily pro-Eisenhower press would have made it an issue had the situation been reversed with the President not a Republican but a Democrat.

Democrats expect that the President will do less and less work, and they already thought he didn't do much except what was done in the public eye. Should he fail altogether and Vice President Nixon become either the acting or the actual president, their bitterness will be a political fact of life for a long time to come.

Heart Laboratory Betters Diagnosis

NEW YORK — Two seemingly healthy friends of ours, Mrs. Frank Folsom and Mrs. John Reed Kilpatrick, died suddenly of heart attacks recently. Each had just prior to death undergone physical checkups which found them sound. So had President Eisenhower only a few days before his heart attack of September, 1955.

Medical science has been looking ceaselessly for a better method of diagnosing heart trouble than the observation of physical symptoms, the electrocardiograph, X-ray, stethoscope and fluoroscope. An answer may be the type of cardiopulmonary laboratory just dedicated at Lebanon hospital in the Bronx, in memory of John Carl Kriender.

Jack Kriender, co-founder of New York's "21" club, was a heart victim as a comparatively young man. His devoted family and friends have formed the Jack Kriender Memorial Fund. Some $30,000 from that fund set up the laboratory at Lebanon which Kriender's lifelong friend and associate Charles A. Berns will present. It is one of the first of its kind in this nation of 6,000 and more hospitals.

The Kriender lab consists of three basic units: a 500 milliamper X-ray machine, a revolutionary X-ray camera which produces a movie-like effect of the movement of injected fluid through the heart, and a recording device to indicate pressures in the different chambers of the heart.

An opaque and slightly radioactive iodine substance is introduced into the heart and makes the 22-second passage through the organ with the accompanying blood stream. During that passage the X-ray camera films many dozens of pictures which indicate to the trained technician just where, if any place within the heart, danger brews.

The Kriender lab and the few others like it are the fruit of the work of Dr. Werner Forssmann, who once was called a crackpot by fellow doctors for insisting he could push a tube through a patient's arm and into the heart and through it inject fluids, which would show up in contrast to the remainder of the heart on X-ray films. Instead of becoming discouraged, Dr. Forssmann went on to become chief surgeon at the Dresden-Friedrichstadt hospital.

Some Of The Questions

There is the slogan, "Peace and Prosperity." It is impossible for anyone of intelligence to quarrel either with peace or prosperity. Basically there is no war party in the United States, Democrat or Republican. We are all for peace, disagreeing as we do on occasions as to the best method of preserving peace. We are all for prosperity, full employment, high wages, or jobs for all and at peak salaries and wages. There is nothing in any of this to test American leadership, or to provide a clue as to intelligent thinking when it comes to the job to be filled by the man in the White House. At issue—and the only question at issue—is individual American thought of the job of serving the nation, sometimes somber, sometimes gay, always challenging in the best interest of the people governed. What do we expect of this man who fills the exalted post of President? Why is it that some who have been President take ranking in history in terms of greatness for leadership, while others are forgotten? What will be the ranking of our chosen leaders in these swift, bristling years of stupping change? Has it been a moderate, a middle of the roader in times of stress, who attained a lasting fame for the ages?

We suggest to the voter, possibly undecided as to how he should cast a ballot or perhaps now of the opinion that already he has made up his mind, that because of the nature of our world and our times, as an act of intelligent citizenship, before voting each voter review the circumstances. We speak of peace and yet we know there is no peace in the world and because there is no peace in certain sections of the world, there can be no full assurance of continuing peace here in the United States. We do not start wars and to imply we do is to distort fact. We speak of prosperity and yet we know even now that millions are experiencing greater difficulty in meeting advancing living costs and for them the struggle becomes more difficult and more desperate.

Even while dictating this, the telephone on the desk rang and a woman on the other end of the wire called the editor's attention to the fact that in World War I, poison gas put in its appearance. "It was not used in the Second World War because of a mutual recognition that new gases in the field of chemical warfare had been developed until they were much more destructive and deadly than those utilized in the closing phases of World War I. Why do we take the attitude," she asked, "that we cannot depend upon a nation's word to abandon tests of the H-bomb when because of its destructiveness and its threat to civilization, nations gave up poison gas?" It is a good question. Must we forever be pouring out billions in a mad, uncurbed armament race? But billions of dollars be expended year after year for the development of weapons which have a capacity to destroy the human race?

What is it that we expect of leadership? Those of us who gaze up at the skies on occasion to penetrate their mysteries crave peace—not the uneasy peace of today—but a more enduring peace. Shall we surrender to the futility, the hopelessness of despair and cynicism which say there can be no leadership in our times? We recognize the full sternness of our times and yet we believe that the American people, given the inspiration of inspired leadership, can and will lead the world out of folly. To think otherwise is to deny human intelligence.

In response to telegraphic inquiry the Associated Press in Washington sent this message to The Lincoln Star: Total national debt, January 20, 1953: $267,200,000,000, total national debt, October 22, 1956: $275,469,158,388." Increase in last four years under Eisenhower and a nation at peace—$8,269,158,388.

What do we expect of leadership in the next four years?

Kefauver Favors Halting H-Tests Without Waiting For Agreement With Russ

Tuesday, October 30, 1956 THE LINCOLN STAR 5

By THOMAS J. FOLEY
COLUMBUS, O. (INS) — Sen. Estes Kefauver said Monday he personally favors stopping hydrogen bomb tests without waiting for an agreement with Russia.

Kefauver told a news conference he can not speak for the presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson but that he believes he, himself, would stop testing first and start talking afterwards.

Up to now, the Democratic leader's proposal called for a test ban only after an agreement with Russia. Kefauver's statement highlighted a busy day of stumping through Ohio where the vice presidential candidate delivered his most bitter attack of his campaign on President Eisenhower.

Kefauver said the President "turned the clock back on good government," "failed utterly, abjectly, miserably" to keep his promises, "submitted to the reactionary old guard instead of liberalizing the Republican party."

Kefauver, in his Columbus speech, said there was "some doubt, some question in my mind" over the statement of the President's doctors that Mr. Eisenhower had "every appearance" of being in good health.

In another attack of his opponents, Kefauver said that all Americans got from the Republicans were "a flood of broken promises and special interest, big business government — and on a scale that William McKinley couldn't even imagine and Andrew Mellon and Herbert Hoover would have envied."

In his speech before 1,000 persons in heavily-Republican Findlay, Kefauver said:

"There must be many a night when the President sits in his chair and thinks about the things he said he would do — and the things he failed to do."

Kefauver said the key to Democratic strength is the conviction of American voters that the Democratic party deals with human problems and does not respond to special interest or "big money" influence.

He cited what he said was proof that the Republicans are getting worried about the Democratic strength. Kefauver said postcards are being mailed with the signature of Vice President Richard M. Nixon asking federal civil service workers to pledge their vote to the Republicans and to send chain letters requesting the same pledge from five other voters.

Kefauver sniped at Nixon all during the day. He said the "grim shadow" of Nixon lurks behind President Eisenhower as "the chosen instrument of the worst reactionaries in the United States."

Kefauver deplored what he called President Eisenhower's "political surrender" to the "reactionary old guard" of the Republican party. He said Mr. Eisenhower is the "easy and willing captive" of the Nixon wing of the party.

He said President Eisenhower once planned to start his own "third party" because he was unhappy with the GOP "old guard." But now Kefauver said, the President is "the front man for Richard Nixon."

As Kefauver swung through Ohio, he was accompanied by the party's candidate for governor, former price administrator Michael DiSalle. Kefauver spoke in Lima, Ottawa, Mansfield, Columbus and Canton in addition to Findlay.

The vice presidential candidate conceded to newsmen that DeSalle and the Democratic senatorial candidate, Gov. Frank Lausche, are probably running slightly ahead of himself and Stevenson.

Placing heavy emphasis on the H-bomb, Kefauver said a report by atomic scientists predict that doubling radioactivity in the atmosphere would double the number of deformed children in the country over a period of time. He placed that number now at two million.

Kremlin In 'A Dilemma' — Nixon

... California Campaign

By WILLIAM THEIS
LOS ANGELES (INS) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Monday night that the Iron Curtain revolt has placed the Kremlin leaders in "a terrible dilemma" and that President Eisenhower is the man to mobilize the liberation forces.

He charged that Adlai E. Stevenson has a "record of inconsistency and confusion" on the liberation question.

The Vice President delivered his strongest campaign statement on the Polish-Hungarian freedom movements in a speech prepared for delivery at Occidental College. It came at the windup of a 150-mile day of motorcade campaigning in the Los Angeles area.

Earlier, Nixon flashed a barrage of ridicule at Stevenson, his running-mate Sen. Estes Kefauver and former President Harry S. Truman. He said of Stevenson, who has called him a "man of many masks":

"Mr. Stevenson sees people running around with masks on their faces — and two weeks before Halloween."

Off Axis

And of Kefauver's warning that H-bomb tests might tilt the earth 16 degrees off its axis, he said:

"People have found out it isn't the earth but Sen. Kefauver who is off his axis."

Displaying more fire than he has shown in days, Nixon also cracked back at Mr. Truman:

"Democrats must feel awfully lonesome down on the low road with Harry Truman."

Nixon campaigned through Santa Monica, Panorama City, Burbank, Glendale and Pasadena in advance of Monday night's locally televised speech.

Pointing to the upheavals in Hungary and Poland, Nixon said an overwhelming vote for President Eisenhower "will have a dramatic effect all over the world" in encouraging development of freedom. He declared:

"Now, for the first time, the Iron Curtain shows real evidence of cracking."

Dilemma

"These developments present to the men in the Kremlin a terrible dilemma. Whichever way they turn they will lose."

"If they give independence to Poland and freedom to Hungarians, they may set in motion a chain reaction which will roll back the Iron Curtain."

"If, on the other hand, they revert to the Stalin policy of ruthlessly destroying those who dare to deviate, they may win the battle for control of their satellites but they will lose the war for world domination, which is their objective."

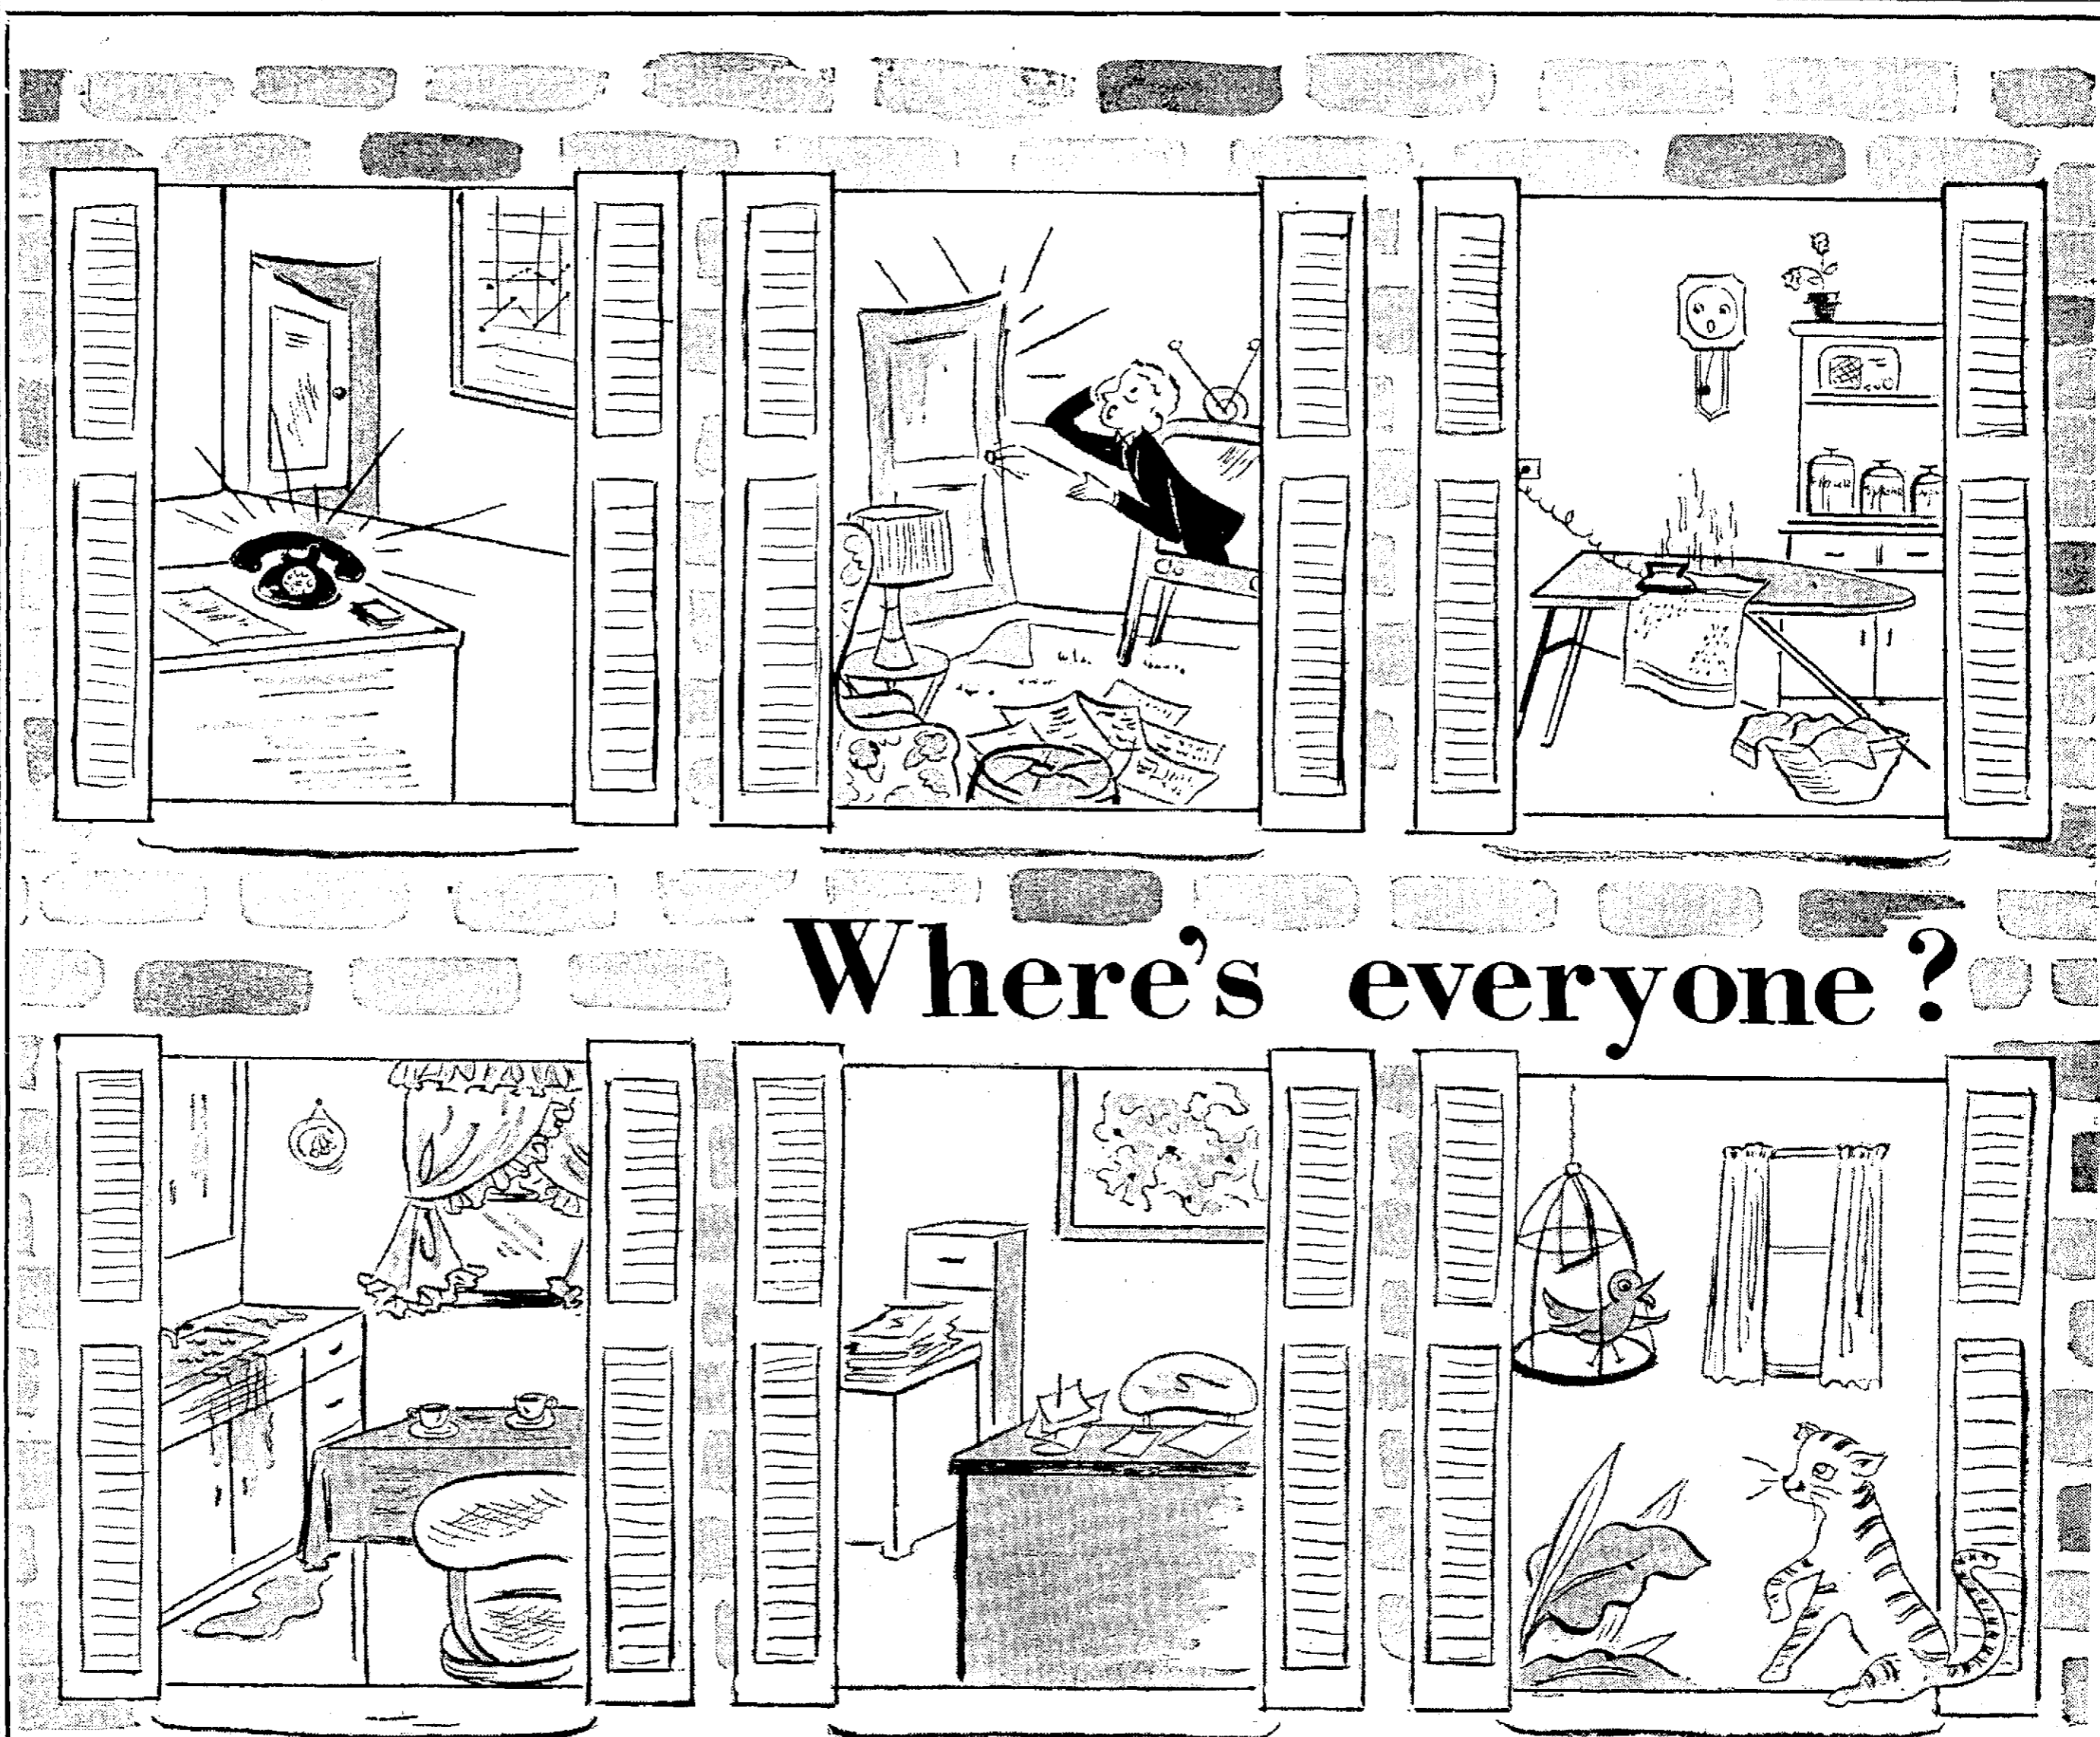

He called the current crisis a "great turning point in the struggle between Communism and freedom."

'Leadership'

Nixon said that "at this moment of unprecedented crisis" the free world must present "its strongest leadership." He said:

"We need a leader whose world stature and prestige is such that he will be able to mobilize the great moral force of free men everywhere and of those behind the Iron Curtain who want to be free."

He said President Eisenhower is "such a man." Mr. Eisenhower, he asserted, has "never wavered in putting the moral influence of the United States behind the ideal of liberation."

Geologist To Speak On Rich Texas Region

A region of prolific oil production will be discussed by a member of the U.S. Geological Survey at a special meeting at the University of Nebraska Thursday.

Donald A. Myers of the Texas Field Unit, Fuels Branch, in Denver will talk on "The Geology of the Late Paleozoic Horseshoe Atoll of West Texas" at 8 p.m. in Morrill Hall Auditorium.

In the last 10 years more than 300 million barrels of oil have been produced from the 5,000 wells in the atoll. Myers is one of the authors of a recent comprehensive study of the atoll.

His lecture is being sponsored by the University Research Council, the University Department of Geology and the Distinguished Lecture Committee of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists.

Man To Be Tried On Sodomy Charge

Donald E. Roy, 26, of 1626 D, Apt. 115, was bound over to Lancaster District Court for trial on a sodomy charge following a preliminary hearing in County Court.

Detective Lt. Robert Butcher told the court of an admission which he said Roy made in the presence of himself and the county attorney. No other evidence was offered.

Judge Herbert A. Ronn overruled a motion to dismiss the charge, stating that the uncorroborated admission was sufficient by itself to show probable cause for trial.

Bond was continued at $2,000 for Roy, an employee of the University of Nebraska Library.

Preliminary hearing for Harold M. Hofferber, 22, of 412 So. 27th, co-defendant in the alleged incident, was postponed until Nov. 2.

UNITED CAMPAIGN TOTAL HITS $518,396—89 PER CENT OF GOAL

The United Campaign of the Lincoln Community Chest and Red Cross edged closer to its goal of $580,821 with a total of $518,396, or 89 per cent Monday reports totaled $13,021.

The foods and services division went over its goal with 104 per cent and a $27,895 total. The latest report was $838.00. The women's division turned in $531.00 for a total of $14,387 or 97 per cent of its goal.

Other division reports including Monday's figures, total to date and percentage of goal are: advance gifts, $5,192, $298,992, 89 per cent; industrial and automotive, $1,842, $59,962, 84 per cent; business and professional, $3,942, $60,482, 89 per cent; and public departments, $676.00, $57,426, 83 per cent.

Tom O'Donnell as general of the foods and services division received the first general's Oscar as that division reached 104 per cent of its goal.

Mrs. Harold Hill, Mrs. Merrill Reller and Mrs. Franklin White

Extended forecast for Nebraska

Temperatures will average 5 to 10 degrees below normal. Normal maximum temperatures 58 north west to 64 southeast, normal minimum in the low 30s northwest to the high 30s southeast. Cooler Tuesday and Wednesday warmer Thursday and Friday. Precipitation should average 1/4 to 1/2 inch, with isolated one inch amounts in the east, occurring as showers in the early part of the period.

'Ton-Mile Tax Helps Lower Retail Prices'—Sen. Anderson

GENEVA, Neb. (AP)—A backer of the proposed Nebraska ton-mile tax said Monday "the facts indicate" that an "adequate tax on big trucks" will help to bring about lower retail prices.

"Many studies have indicated the millions of dollars that would be saved to motorists and to the trucking industry if our highways and county roads were adequate," State Sen. Lester H. Anderson of Aurora declared before a Geneva Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting.

"In addition, a proper highway system could save countless accidents with their resulting cost in lives and property damage," he said. "It has been claimed that the ton-mile tax would tend to increase prices in retail stores. This is pure misrepresentation and the

SWEPT-WING '57 Dodge

How do you describe a car so daring in concept, so revolutionary in features and advances, so rewarding in beauty and performance?

How do you explain its newness when everything about it is new?

On display today is just such a car—the Swept-Wing '57 Dodge that steps you into the wonderful world of Autodynamics.

What is this wonderful world of Autodynamics? It is a world where everything is new from road to roof to achieve absolute mastery of motion.

Here's what it does in the Swept-Wing Dodge:

- It unleashes a hurricane of power from a thundering new aircraft-type Super Red Ram V-8 engine that's a spitfire in action!

- It tames a tornado of torque with a new TorqueFlite Push-Button Drive for the greatest get-away on the road!

- It breaks through the vibration barrier with a revolutionary new rubber-mounted suspension system—Dodge Torsion-Aire—that features race car torsion-bars. You ride in a "Realm of Silence," isolated from vibration, noise and road shock.

- It is swept-wing mastery of motion in a sleek, low-slung beauty barely 4 1/2 feet high that has no equal in the way it corners, handles and rides.

You have never seen, felt or owned any car that compared with this new Swept-Wing Dodge. See and drive it today... now at your Dodge dealer's!

"It has been claimed that the ton-mile tax would tend to increase prices in retail stores. This is pure misrepresentation and the big outstate trucking syndicates know it."

Sen. Anderson said a comparison was made this month between grocery prices in Lincoln and Denver. Out of 58 items checked, Denver prices were lower on 42, and prices were the same on 11, with only five showing higher prices in Denver.

Colorado has a ton-mile tax.

Are you suffering from pocketbook-dyscrasia?

Consider these four remedies without delay

If your pocketbook, like so many, has that deflated empty feeling... if it's listless and worn-out at the end of every month... you're bound to feel that way yourself. Here's something you can do about it now:

Remedy No. 1 Mull over the possibility of getting extra income from several prospering businesses in addition to your own. This is why so many people have bought common stocks or bonds listed on the New York Stock Exchange. They invest to build up their income with dividends from stock or interest from bonds.

Remedy No. 2 If you've provided for emergencies maybe you're ready to look into good stocks or bonds. Ownership of common stock makes you part-owner of the company and you can share both in its profits through dividends and in any future growth through increase in the value of your stock. When you buy bonds the company owes you money on which it promises to pay interest, usually at a fixed rate. Remember that there is risk as well as reward in any kind of investment. That's why it's wise always to get the facts about a company—never depend on tips or rumors.

Remedy No. 3 Leaf through our wonderful free booklet "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." You'll want to read it many times because it lists more than 300 stocks that have paid dividends each year from 25 to 108 years, showing which have paid progressively higher dividends over the past ten years... which companies have high earnings in relation to dividends paid (sometimes a sign of a "growth" stock)... which are favored by financial institutions... and much more.

Remedy No. 4 Drop in at the nearest Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. You'll get a cordial welcome—and advice about the kind of investments that are best for you. They can tell you about the Monthly Investment Plan, which enables you to buy stocks for as little as $40 every three months. And they'll help you get facts you need. As a start toward giving your pocketbook—and yourself—extra income from more sources than just your job, send the coupon now.

Petitions Filed Asking Immediate Annexation Of Garfield To Lincoln

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Petitions for immediate annexation of the Garfield school district to the Lincoln school district were filed Monday with the Lancaster County Superintendent's office. The petitions contained 425 signatures, representing 61 per cent of the district's legal voters, officials said. Fifty-five per cent was needed.

Meanwhile, William L. Walker, attorney for the Garfield district, said a petition approving the annexation would be presented to the Lincoln board of education at its regular meeting Tuesday.

Standard Oil Lowers Gas Prices Here

The Lincoln office of the Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) reported Monday that gasoline prices have been lowered one-half cent per gallon to retail service stations in Lincoln and the surrounding 10-mile area. The price cut went into effect at midnight Sunday.

The cut, which applies to both regular and premium gasolines, had not yet been passed onto the consumer in the Lincoln area Monday afternoon, but the possibility of such a move was indicated by several service station operators.

Other gasoline dealers in Lincoln have made no move to compete with Standard's price cut, but one company said that it would probably follow suit.

Whether or not the consumer will receive any of the reduction will be up to the individual service station operators.

According to a report by the Associated Press, the Standard Oil Co. announced in Chicago that reductions from one-tenth to one cent would be given in Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Iowa.

Dwight F. Benton, Standard vice president, was quoted as saying the cut in part reflects on oversupply of gasoline for the demand, a situation which he said has prevailed throughout the summer.

Are you suffering from pocketbook-dyscrasia?
Consider these four remedies without delay

If your pocketbook, like so many, has that deflated empty feeling... if it's listless and worn-out at the end of every month... you're bound to feel that way yourself. Here's something you can do about it now:

Remedy No. 1 Mull over the possibility of getting extra income from several prospering businesses in addition to your own. This is why so many people have bought common stocks or bonds listed on the New York Stock Exchange. They invest to build up their income with dividends from stock or interest from bonds.

Remedy No. 2 If you've provided for emergencies maybe you're ready to look into good stocks or bonds. Ownership of common stock makes you part-owner of the company and you can share both in its profits through dividends and in any future growth through increase in the value of your stock. When you buy bonds the company owes you money on which it promises to pay interest, usually at a fixed rate. Remember that there is risk as well as reward in any kind of investment. That's why it's wise always to get the facts about a company—never depend on tips or rumors.

Remedy No. 3 Leaf through our wonderful free booklet "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." You'll want to read it many times because it lists more than 300 stocks that have paid dividends each year from 25 to 108 years, showing which have paid progressively higher dividends over the past ten years... which companies have high earnings in relation to dividends paid (sometimes a sign of a "growth" stock)... which are favored by financial institutions... and much more.

Remedy No. 4 Drop in at the nearest Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. You'll get a cordial welcome—and advice about the kind of investments that are best for you. They can tell you about the Monthly Investment Plan, which enables you to buy stocks for as little as $40 every three months. And they'll help you get facts you need. Petitions Filed Asking Immediate Annexation Of Garfield To Lincoln

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer
Petitions for immediate annexation of the Garfield school district to the Lincoln school district were filed Monday with the Lancaster County Superintendent's office. The petitions contained 425 signatures, representing 61 per cent of the district's legal voters, officials said. Fifty-five per cent was needed.

Standard Oil Lowers Gas Prices Here

The Lincoln office of the Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) reported Monday that gasoline prices have been lowered one-half cent per gallon to retail service stations in Lincoln and the surrounding 10-mile area. The price cut went into effect at midnight Sunday.

The cut, which applies to both regular and premium gasolines, had not yet been passed onto the consumer in the Lincoln area Monday afternoon, but the possibility of such a move was indicated by several service station operators. Other gasoline dealers in Lincoln have made no move to compete with Standard's price cut, but one company said that it would probably follow suit.

Whether or not the consumer will receive any of the reduction will be up to the individual service station operators.

According to a report by the Associated Press, the Standard Oil Co. announced in Chicago that reductions from one-tenth to one cent would be given in Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Iowa.

Dwight F. Benton, Standard vice president, was quoted as saying the cut in part reflects on oversupply of gasoline for the demand, a situation which he said has prevailed throughout the summer.

Mary H. Babcock, Former Lincolnite, Dies In Wisconsin
Services were pending in Lincoln for Mrs. Mary Hollins Babcock, who died in Kenosaw, Wis., Monday.

Born in Paris, Tex., Mrs. Babcock had formerly lived in Lincoln. She was the widow of Royal O. Babcock.

Surviving are her brother, Hill Hollins of Little Sioux, Ia.; and sister, Mrs. Herbert A. Robinson of Kenosaw, Wis.

Contributing Charges Dismissed By Court

Contributing to delinquency charges against Fred Eggert, 64, of 100 West P have been dismissed in Lancaster District Court by the county attorney's office.

Eggert was one of seven adults charged in connection with an alleged April 13 incident involving four small children.

U.S. Likes To Fly
WASHINGTON (AP)—An Air Transport Assn. official, Vice President Milton W. Arnold, predicts that more than 60 million passengers will fly in commercial airlines in 1960. He said more than 41 million passengers flew last year, or more than twice the number carried by airlines in 1950.

Patzel Found Guilty Of Drunk Driving
Richard I. Patzel, 27, of 1900 Brower Rd., was found guilty by a Lancaster District Court jury of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor last July 19.

The District Court will rule on the alleged second-offense conviction before pronouncing sentence on the charge.

Would Set Hearing
If the Lincoln school board approves the move, the county superintendent will set date for a public hearing on the proposed annexation.

The proposed annexation is sought as a solution to the Garfield's financial problems and school over-population.

The Garfield school board had resigned in protest to the school's overcrowding, but the en masse resignation was refused by State Commissioner of Education F. B. Decker.

De Soto Firelite illustrated above is barely 4 feet 7 inches high.

ANNOUNCING 1957 DESOTO

Most exciting car in the world today!

Exciting New Beauty—And it's called Flight-Sweep '57, the new shape of motion. Incredibly low, yet there's plenty of headroom and stretchroom, thanks to De Soto's new steel-cradle frame.

Exciting New Torsion-Aire Ride—Standard equipment on every 1957 De Soto, Torsion-Aire Ride is unequalled for safety and ease of control. It eliminates nose-dive stops, even from high speeds.

Exciting New V-8 Power—Choose from three new power giants... the most advanced, most powerful engine designs in the industry.

Exciting New Transmission—Completely new TorqueFlite gives you new gear ratios for a smooth flow of power in every speed range. You get greater acceleration, improved fuel economy. Just touch a button and GO!

And the '57 De Soto takes corners like a sports car, without lean or sway. Torsion-Aire "levels out" even the roughest roads, giving you the smoothest, softest ride you've ever experienced.

Exciting New Air Conditioner—The new 4-Season Air Conditioner both heats in winter and cools in summer with one simple set of dash-mounted controls. And it's located under the hood, saving valuable trunk space.

Exciting New Lower Price—For 1957, De Soto presents the exciting new FireSweep series, priced just above the lowest. It's the most exciting value in the world today!

Completely New for 1957

Money cannot buy happiness. But it can buy happy pills. Nearly all my friends are taking the new tranquilizing drugs these days. It is the latest thing.

So the other day I must dust down to the doctor for a bottleful to keep up with the times.

"Are you nervous?" said the medic-nervously, I thought.

"I am a bundle of jangling ganglia," I said. "Even my cat is nervous as a cat. The income tax people are sending me nervous notes. My banker quivers like a fiddle string when I walk in the door."

"Do you wish these for yourself or for your banker?"

"Let him buy his own happy pills," I said. "Tranquilize me."

Well, it is a brave new world when we can gulp happiness like aspirin. And it takes a brave new man to face it.

Millions of despairing women with drying, prematurely aging skins have new hope. So I read in the ads in the women's magazines. They should sash on a goo called Flowing Velvet immediately.

If you are nervous about creased nylon, split seams or shrinking woollens, there is a washing machine that will "wash these problems right out of your life." Push-button control, too.

We offer a mouthwash that will save your marriage. A lotion for tired eyes. Electric blankets with a His and Hers switch. Silver plate that lets your guests know you have Good Taste. Five new ways to sauté a turkey. Cake mix that does everything but turn on the oven. Tours for everybody at 1 per cent down...

What are you nervous about?

With all these good things around us, it is curious that everybody has to eat happy pills to get happy. The more tranquil life becomes, the more nervous we get.

I get nervous just trying to sort out what I shall buy to make life better. Everybody is pushing me this way and hauling me the other toward the happy life. It is enough to make a man blow a fuse. I can buy a TV with built-in mirror-vision control.

But this relaxing item cannot stand alone. I must end my shelf worries. (I worry all the time about my shelf but I can end it with a new shelf liner that has miracle-gloss.)

All this time, I find neglected nails tend to crack. Mine are probably cracking. Fortunately there is a manufacturer of some varnish that reinforces nails "The Way Nature Intended."

While I am straightening out this oversight, my guests are upstairs sneering at the bed which I have made. But only squares make beds. "Smart People Contour."

No wonder I am nervous.

It takes a nervous man to keep up with all the good things in life. A regular whippet of an individual.

A lazy man could never keep moving fast enough. A man must be on his toes all the time. Adding new things to give new leisure. It wears me out thinking about it.

Used to be, grandma just put the biscuits in the oven and let them bake.

Now we must have a new quick mix. A stove that "Lets You Give More Time to Your Mate." Pans with Easy-Kleen finish. A dishwasher with fingertip control. A kitchen floor with Pine Needle bounce. Everything to make you happy...

This requires almost all of your leisurely day to find out what makes you happy. And it is no wonder we need happiness pills to keep up with it.

Court Dismisses Suit By Ex-NU Law Student

The Lancaster District Court has dismissed on demurrer a $20,000 suit against Municipal Court Clerk L. M. Towle.

David P. Lindquist of 4432 So. 49th, former University of Nebraska law student, had claimed damages by Towle's alleged refusal to accept and file certain papers in connection with an Aug. 15 suit brought in Municipal Court against the University.

Municipal Court Judge John Jacobson had ruled that the Court had no jurisdiction over the case in that the University was not a legal entity and could not be sued.

Having Fun In Hawaii

Looking as though they were having a terrific time in Hawaii are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mich. The name Mich may or may not mean anything to our reading public—unless you happen to know that Mr. Mich is the editorial director of Look magazine—and that Mrs. Mich is the Isabella Taves whose by-line you have seen in many a slick paper magazine—not including Look. Our interest in the Mich family stems from the fact that Mrs. Mich has been a frequent visitor in Lincoln—in fact was in town last month when she was the guest of her mother, Mrs. C. W. Taves—and her aunts, Mrs. I. E. O. Pace and Mrs. Ralph Ludwick. Mrs. Mich, whose field is both fiction and non-fiction, has just completed a book on Harriet Hubbard Ayer which is entitled "The Three Lives of Harriet Hubbard Ayer."

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

Come what may, the high life in our Eastridge suburb never seems to slacken from week to week. Of course the Trend dance was big news last week-end, but there are a multitude of other parties on the calendar that also share the social spotlight. This morning we hear of a steak fry, a baby shower, a birthday celebration, a halloween party, a dessert bridge, some weekend visitors, and a short trip.

Entertaining at an hors d'oeuvre party before the first Trend dance on Saturday evening were Maj and Mrs. Stanley Reilly. The guest list included 10 neighborhood couples.

Friday offered a gala evening for several Eastridge couples when they gathered at the Louis Gilbert residence for a good old fashioned steak fry. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kinsey, Mr. and Mrs. John Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Heckman, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Calkins, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Amen, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Baker, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Bauer, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kruse, and Mr. and Mrs. Art Petersen of Omaha. The group spent the evening informally.

Mrs. Howard Rose was honored last week at a baby shower and dessert bridge given by Mrs. Clyde Bersley, Mrs. Edmond Clemenz, Mrs. M. R. Hatfield, and Mrs. Floyd E. Galloway. Thirty-five guests were invited to the Bersley residence for the afternoon party.

Sigma Kappa Plans Reunion

The 1950 pledge class of Sigma Kappa sorority will hold a reunion Saturday during the University of Nebraska Homecoming festivities. An informal open house and dinner for the class members and their husbands has been planned, and hostesses for the reunion will be Mrs. C. T. Weatherford, Jr., Mrs. David Claypool, Mrs. Stan Supple and Mrs. William Maly.

Coming from out of town for the reunion will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard Russell, Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Selk, Des Moines, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Viehmyer and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hayward, North Platte; Mr. and Mrs. Randy McKewen, Wisner; and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Paulsen, South Sioux City.

PEO Chapter Plans Meeting

A special meeting has been planned for Chapter FQ, PEO. The members will meet at 8 o'clock at the Foods and Nutrition Building on the College of Agriculture campus and guest speaker will be Mrs. C. W. Lumbard of Grand Island, state PEO organizer.
Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Bernal Camp and Miss Janver Picathley.

their courtesy calendar well filled—Today Mrs. Buckley is the incentive for a party — a luncheon for which Mrs. Ellis Mockett will be hostess at her home. Twelve guests have been invited for luncheon and an informal afternoon. And on Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Buckley will be honored when Mr. and Mrs. Perry Branch entertain at dinner and when the guest list will include only members of the families.

ON Wednesday morning Mrs. Jerome Dosek will compliment Mrs. Buckley when she entertains at a morning coffee at her home. The guest list will include members of the honoree's class in Pi Beta Phi Mrs.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. James Schleiger are the parents of a daughter, Jill Ann, who was born on Wednesday, Oct. 24, at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Mrs. Schleiger is the former Joan Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Berry. A Gamma Phi Beta member at the University of Nebraska, Mrs. Schleiger is a former faculty member of the Lincoln Schools. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Schleiger.

Brides-Elect Name Attendants

In pre nuptial courtesy to Miss Nadyne Snyder and her fiance, Ronald Beideck, whose wedding will be an event of Saturday, Nov. 3, at St. John's Congregational Church a dinner will be held on Friday evening at Lone Oak. The guest list will include the members of the bridal party and the family.

Naming the members of her bridal party this morning is Miss Rachel Borchers, whose marriage to Gus Johns, Jr., will take place on Saturday, Nov. 10, at Trinity Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Ted Kahler, Jr., will attend Miss Borchers as her matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Mrs. Reinhardt Borchers, Miss Ed Koehler, Mrs. Martin Jetton and Mrs. Richard Wagner. Miss Jill Fazel and Miss Patty Goff will be the flower girls.

Lighting the candles for the 4 o'clock service will be Mrs. Jack Nider and Mrs. Richard Knight.

Serving Mr. Johns as best man will be his brother, Wesley Johns, and the ushers will be Martin Jetton, Donald Burbach, Robert Schwartz and John Carter.

The bride-to-be was honored guest last Friday evening when her fiance's mother, Mrs. Gus Johns, and Mrs. Martin Jetton were co-hostesses at a bridal courtesy held at the home of Mrs. Johns. During the informal evening, a linen shower was presented to Miss Borchers by the guests.

On Sunday, Oct. 21, the bride-elect was honored at a miscellaneous shower given by her mother, Mrs. Fred Borchers.

A bride-to-be who was honored on Friday evening, Oct. 26, was Miss Doris Ann Bohl who was presented a miscellaneous shower at a party given by her aunts, Mrs. Edward Hayes, Mrs. Al Hytrek and Mrs. John Kahler. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Hytrek, and the evening hours were spent informally.

Miss Bohl, who will become the bride of Ivan Coffman of Wichita, Kan., on Sunday, Nov. 11, also was honored recently at a linen shower for which Mrs. Robert Nalley was hostess to 12 guests at her home.

The bride-elect has announced that her wedding will take place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and that the ceremony will be solemnized at St. John's Congregational Church.

Miss Bohl's matron of honor will be her sister, Mrs. Fred Vallis, and her bridesmaids will Buckley, as you may know, is the former Joan Norris.

HONORING Mr. and Mrs. Buckley on Thursday evening will be Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Coleman who have invited members of the families for dinner at the University Club.

AND this is the day that Mrs. Merrill Reller will be a luncheon hostess at her home in courtesy to Mrs. C. H. Falkenbach of Garden City, N. Y., who, with Mr. Falkenbach, has been spending the past several days as the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. C. Bertrand Schultz.

Mrs. Reller has invited a guest sixsome to the luncheon which will feature a Caribbean menu. The centerpiece, by the way, will be fashioned of woodcarvings which Mr. and Mrs. Reller brought home from Haiti. Mr. Falkenbach is a Field Associate with the American Museum in New York.

NEWS from New York City this morning tells us of the arrival of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Philip Abbott on Sunday, Oct. 28. The young man's mother is the former Jane D. Freyre — a name that would be familiar to those who saw the Broadway production "The Seven Year Itch." His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John M. Alexander.

UNDERSTAND that Mr. and Mrs. J. Buiks Harley will be wedding their way to Lincoln one day soon — Mr. and Mrs. Harley, who have been at the summer home at Pelican Lake, Minn., since late May, are due home early in November.

Extension Council

The Lancaster County Extension Club Council will hold its regular fall meeting on Tuesday in the Green Room of the YMCA. Mrs. Ray Russell, council chairman, will preside at the meeting, which will begin at 1:30 o'clock and will include the annual election of council officers. Officers to be elected will be vice chairman, secretary and treasurer.

The meeting also will feature a report on the state council meeting held at Kearney early this fall, and the members will vote on the extension club work program for the year.

Council officers beside Mrs. Russell are Mrs. Wayne Marolf, Waverly vice chairman, Miss Elmer Baughill, Lincoln, secretary, Mrs. Harvey Sittler, Martell, treasurer, Mrs. Lavern Rockenbach, Lincoln, historian; Mrs. Ray Croft, Lincoln, health.

There are more than 60 extension clubs in Lancaster County which are represented on the council by the club presidents.

be Miss Jeanie Coffman of Wichita, sister of the bride-elect, and Miss Elaine Bohl, a sister of the bride-to-be. Miss Victoria Vallis will be the flower girl and lighting the candles will be Miss Susan Vallis.

Ted C. Coffman of Wichita will serve his son as best man, and seating the guests will be Fred Vallis and Jake Kahler.

The marriage of Miss Marlene Norman of Lincoln to Walter J. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Smith of Philadelphia, will be an event of Monday, Nov. 12. The bride-elect, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Waldo Norman of Ord, has announced that the wedding will take place at 10 o'clock in the morning at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church in Ord.

Her maid of honor will be her sister, Miss Doris Norman, and Miss Marie Norman will be the flower girl. Carrying the rings will be Michael Marcus.

Gerald Dobiecki will serve Mr. Smith as best man, and seating the guests will be Donald Mead, John Flanagan, Joe Vaida and Ronald Norman.

A recent bridal courtesy honoring Miss Norman was given by Miss Irma Troit, Miss Ruth Goodman and Miss Karen Russell who entertained informally at the home of Mrs. Charles Olson. The bride-to-be was presented a miscellaneous shower by the group of guests.

Revealing plans for her approaching marriage is Miss Beth Finke who has chosen Saturday, Nov. 17, as the date for her marriage to Edwin Grubbs of Page. The service will be solemnized in the evening at the home of Miss Finke's grandmother, Mrs. Elsie Walters.

Mrs. Allen E. McElravy will be her sister's matron of honor and only attendant, and serving Mr. Grubbs as best man will be William J. Edwards.

A December bride-to-be is Miss Shirley Eagleton whose betrothal to Ronald Dean Gustafson was revealed recently. Miss Eagleton has chosen Saturday, Dec. 8, as her wedding day, and has announced that the service will take place at First Plymouth Congregational Church.

Mrs. Robert Eagleton will attend the bride-to-be as matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Mildred Young of Amesbury, Mrs. Foster McGuire and Mrs. Edwin Clapper of Lincoln.

Serving Mr. Gustafson as best man will be Donald Callies. Miss Eagleton will be honored on Tuesday evening, Oct. 30, at a bridal courtesy for which Mrs. Robert Eagleton will be hostess at her home. The guests have been invited for an informal evening, and a miscellaneous shower will be presented to the honoree.

Plane Reservations No Problem

When Mr. and Mrs. W. W. (Bud) Eden, and Mr. Eden's mother, Mrs. Zillah Eden, decided to take off for California, plane reservations were no problem — the threesome merely boarded Mr. Eden's four-placer, "Blanka" — and away they went — to Glendale where they were the guests of Mr. Eden's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Marden Alsberge. In the picture, left to right, are Mr. Eden, Mrs. Zillah Eden, Mrs. Alsberge, the former Lillian Eden, Dr. Alsberge, and Mrs.

W. W. Eden. The picture was taken at the Grand Central Air Port at Glendale just as Mr. and Mrs. Eden explained for home. Mr. Eden's mother remained in Glendale for a longer visit.

Having Fun In Hawaii

Looking as though they were having a terrific time in Hawaii are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mich. The name Mich may or may not mean anything to our reading public—unless you happen to know that Mr. Mich is the editorial director of Look magazine—and that Mrs. Mich is the Isabella Taves whose by-line you have seen in many a slick paper magazine—not including Look.

Our interest in the Mich fam-

Mrs. Mich, whose field is both fiction and non-fiction, has just completed a book on Harriet Hubbard Ayer which is entitled "The Three Lives of Harriet Hubbard Ayer."

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

Come what may, the high life in our Eastridge suburb never seems to slacken from week to week. Of course the Trend dance was big news last week-end, but there are a multitude of other parties on the calendar that also share the social spotlight. This morning we hear of a steak fry, a baby shower, a birthday celebration, a halloween party, a dessert bridge, some weekend visitors, and a short trip.

Entertaining at an hors d'oeuvre party before the first Trend dance on Saturday evening were Maj. and Mrs. Stanley Reilly. The guest list included 10 neighborhood couples.

Friday offered a gala evening for several Eastridge couples when they gathered at the Louis Gilbert residence for a good old fashioned steak fry. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kinsey, Mr. and Mrs. John Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Heckman, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Rav Calkins, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Amen, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Baker, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Bauer, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kruse, and Mr. and Mrs. Art Petersen of Omaha. The group spent the evening informally.

Mrs. Howard Rose was honored last week at a baby shower and dessert bridge given by Mrs. Clyde Bersley, Mrs. Edmond Clemenzi, Mrs. M. R. Hatfield, and Mrs. Floyd E. Gallo-way. Thirty-five guests were invited to the Bersley residence for the afternoon party.

Britain Said Ready To Force Israeli Troops Out Of Egypt If Land Seized

By ARTHUR GAVISION
LONDON (Tuesday) (AP) — Britain early Tuesday was reported ready to force Israeli troops out of Egypt if their thrust is proved to be an all-out invasion designed to seize some of Egypt's territory.

An authoritative government source said the Eden government is in a position to strike at Israel, or any aggressor in the Middle East, within 24 hours with air, land and sea forces now assembled in the eastern Mediterranean.

The informant said Britain fully understands the letter and spirit of the 1950 American-British-French declaration on the Middle East

Road Program Will Create More Jobs

... Ress Says

Jobs for an estimated half million men will be created by the nation's stepped-up highway building program, called for in legislation signed by the President last week, State Engineer L. N. Ress said Monday night.

The huge program "will be off the drawing boards and into construction stages at a pace faster than anybody has anticipated" despite shortages of materials and even more critically a shortage of engineers, Ress said in a speech before the Lincoln Engineers' Club.

Road building administration has progressed more in the last year than it had in the previous 2,000 years "because now we have rather elaborate plans to get the whole thing paid for," he added.

Problems.

The combined efforts of the ancient engineers of Rome, Egypt or China "would be no match for the engineering problems" posed by the 13-year, $50-million dollar program, Ress said.

He quoted estimates of the Road Builders Assn. that by 1960 the program will require 133 million barrels of cement, compared to the 1955 demand for 58.7 million barrels. Steel requirements will climb from 1,900,000 tons last year to 3,600,000 tons by 1960.

Selling Nebraskans on the principle of "controlled access" is one of the obstacles to be hurdled, the state engineer said.

Predetermined.

Controlled access means that entrances to and exits from a highway are provided only at predetermined, strategically placed points.

Because Nebraska has so few miles of limited access highways, the principle will be "especially misunderstood here at home," Ress said.

"The merits of this principle must be proved to a critical and cautious public before Nebraska highways can take that important step forward called progress . . . perhaps the citizens of Nebraska will have to see these facilities in operation before they are convinced of their value to the transportation requirements of the state."

Ornamental Street Lighting Near City Auditorium Asked

The City Council has been asked to use ornamental street lighting along 15th to enhance the appearance of the new Pershing Memorial Auditorium.

The request was made by Walter F. Wilson, spokesman for the Associated Auditorium Architects. Wilson was opposed to the use of plain light poles supporting fluorescent light fixtures.

A more ornamental pole and fixtures was suggested by Wilson.

Public Works Director D. L. Erickson noted that the ornamental lighting would cost more and thus might find objection among abutting property owners who will bear the cost.

No Council decision in the matter was reached.

Many share the experience of one who studied a musical instrument for a few years in childhood . . . and then, for one reason or another (a boy discovers girls, for instance, and finds his music practice tedious all of a sudden) the study ended. You'll sometimes hear such a person say, "Oh, yes, I studied music when I was a kid, but I've forgotten everything I ever learned. I couldn't play a note today" . . . so I guess I didn't really get much out of it."

But often this statement will be prompted by the speaker's enthusiasm for a recorded symphony he's just heard . . . a band concert he's just attended . . . his enjoyment of a favorite jazz band . . . or his understanding of a friend's playing.

"The point is he did get something out of his music study. It brought him a permanent knowledge of the elements of music: melody, rhythm, harmony and tone color . . . and an understanding of how these elements are combined to create musical forms. These must be experienced to be fully meaningful. And once gained, that experience is never lost. That's an important point to remember about music study for the child: it's a gift he can never wholly squander!"

If you feel that your budget won't allow the purchase of a new piano or organ right now, did you know that for three dollars per week you can have private lessons in your home, including the rental of the instrument? Let us give you the full details, at McCABE'S ORGAN SHOP, 15th & P Streets, Phone 2-2724.

and is prepared to join the United States and France in implementing it.

Council Lays Over 70th, Vine Zone Change Request

A controversial ordinance for a change in zoning at 70th and Vine has been laid over by the City Council.

Pending on third and final reading, the measure would change the zoning from residential to local business. In a hearing lasting more than an hour, the proposed change was opposed by a number of property owners in the area. Both businessmen and church groups.

Other ordinance action by the Council:

Final Approval.

That of Pierre Hill second addition at 15th and Van Dine.

Adoption of the north-south alley west of 21st from 1 to the alley between L and M.

Repeal of 15th Street to Calvert.

Repeal of 15th to 16th.

Repeal of X from 15th and 16th from block 1, Paradise Park addition to the Missouri Pacific track.

New 15th Street from 15th to 16th.

Water in 4th Street to Greenwood and Greenwood, 15th to 16th.

Introduced.

That of Kimberly Heights at 30th and Van Dine.

Change from multiple dwelling to local business zoning at 21st and X.

action will be determined finally—probably within the next 12 hours—after it has carefully studied:

1. The full reports on the nature and intention of the Israeli attack from British envoys in Jerusalem, Cairo, Amman, Baghdad and other Middle East capitals.
2. The recommendations of senior American, British and French diplomats who have met twice in Washington since President Eisenhower's weekend appeal to Israel to avoid endangering the peace.

Urgency

3. The reaction of Britain's Parliament, which later Tuesday is expected to debate the situation as a matter of grave urgency.

Under Egypt's 1934 agreement with Britain for evacuation of the Suez Canal zone, Britain has the right to reoccupy its former zone bases in case the waterway and Egypt itself were threatened by attack.

Session Possible

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) said Monday the reported drive by Israeli troops into Egypt "may necessitate an immediate special session of Congress."

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the United States, Britain and France, "would have to take an immediate appeal to the United Nations if the facts are as now reported." He added, "It is a bit early to ascertain the facts."

U. N. Alerted

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—United Nations Security Council members were alerted for a meeting of the 11-nation body at any time on the explosive situation created by Israel's thrust into Egypt.

Continuous urgent consultations were held between U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and the Western Big Three.

Hammarskjöld is reported to be awaiting information on the Palestine situation from U.N. Truce supervisor Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada.

Ordered Out

AMMAN, Jordan (INS)—The first group of 75 American officials and their wives and children left Amman for Beirut in compliance with embassy requests that they evacuate the Middle East.

The departure came less than five hours after the U.S. Embassy received orders that all non-essential Americans should leave "because of the rising tension in the Middle East."

An Embassy spokesman said that a chartered plane would run a shuttle service between Amman and Beirut, the Lebanon capital, throughout the night.

Sooners Back To First As Shakeup Hits Poll

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press

The powerful Oklahoma Sooners, with a 35-game winning streak again reign as the No. 1 college football team in the nation after a convincing 40-0 rout of battered Notre Dame.

Oklahoma's eye-popping performance in full view of a nationwide television audience and Michigan State's unexpected 20-13 defeat by Illinois shot the Sooners to the top of the heap and dropped Michigan State to fourth place.

The sports writers and broadcasters who had voted Michigan State into first place a week ago, ending a season-long stay by Oklahoma, quickly reversed the field. Oklahoma was named No. 1 on 143 of the 186 ballots, roughly 77 per cent of the first place votes in the weekly Associated Press poll. The vote was the heaviest of the year.

Decisive Score

They said last week that Oklahoma needed a decisive score against Notre Dame to overshadow Michigan State's 47-14 tally and regain the lead. The winning margin of 40 points was better than State's.

Georgia Tech's unbeaten Engineers, moving to a flashy 40-0 romp over Tulane, picked up strong support with 31 firsts and 1,614 points on the basis of 10 for first, nine for second, etc. Oklahoma's point total was 1,768.

Tennessee's 34-7 triumph over groggy Maryland lifted it in to third place with eight firsts and 1,302 points. Michigan State lost all of its first place support but picked up enough points, 1,029, to grab fourth place and hang on. The first four were the only teams to earn 1,000 or more points.

The upheaval didn't stop in the higher ranks. Not one of the first 20 teams remained in the same position it occupied a week ago. The Texas Aggies, 19-13 winners over previously unbeaten Baylor, jumped from seventh to fifth in the voting and Ohio State, regaining lost prestige by whipping Wisconsin 21-0, hopped from ninth to sixth.

Iowa moved all the way from 12th to seventh on its 21-20 victory over Purdue and Minnesota, unranked a week ago, elbowing into eighth by upsetting Michigan 20-7. Miami of Florida climbed into the top 10, taking ninth place by a 14-0 shutout over Texas Christian.

Missing from last week's first 20 teams are Mississippi, beaten by Arkansas, Texas Christian and Tulane, Minnesota, Stanford and Oregon State (tied for 17th) took their places.

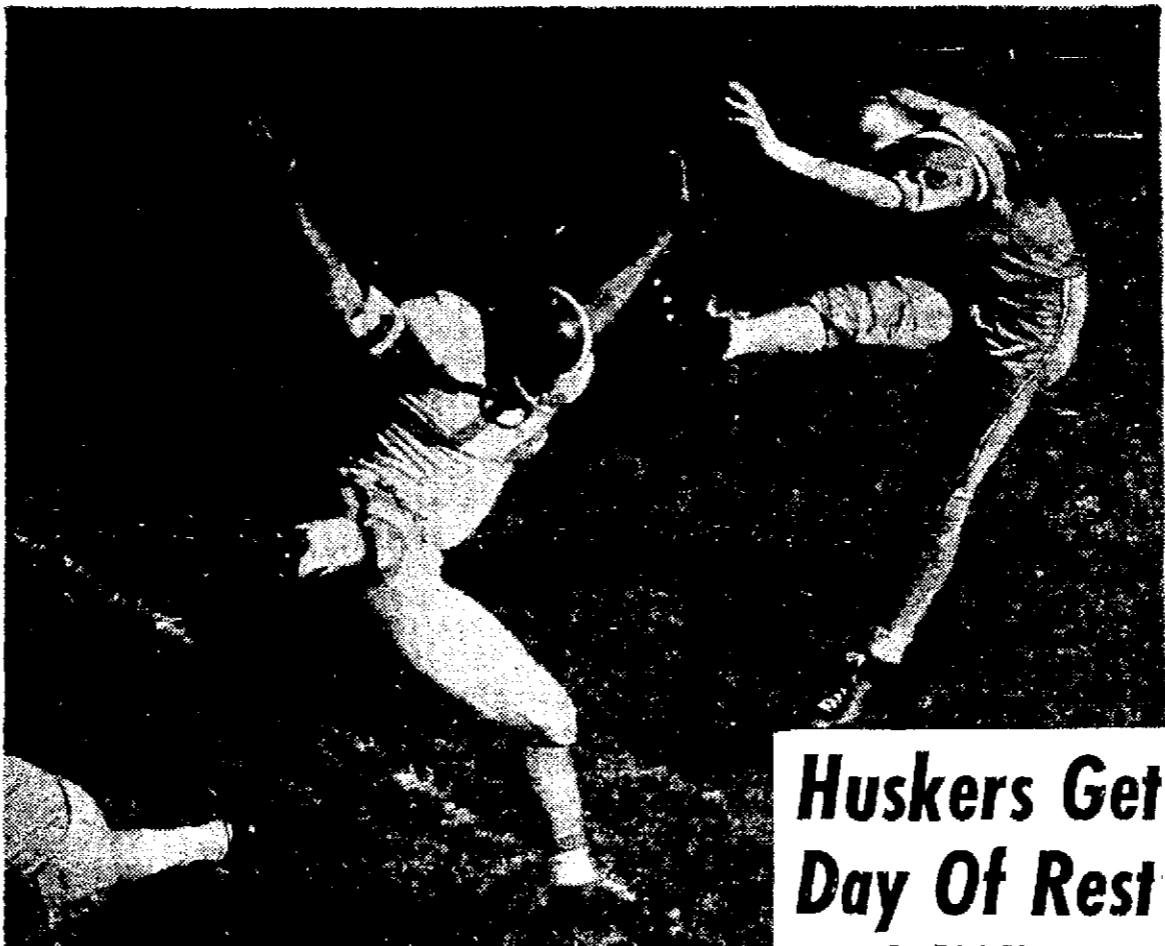

Only four games pairing teams in the first 20 are scheduled for this weekend: Iowa (7) plays Michigan (tied for 17th), Minnesota (8) meets Pittsburgh (11), Penn State (12) visits Syracuse (tied for 17th), and Clemson (13) takes on Virginia Tech (tied for 15th).

The top teams, with first place votes and winning records in parentheses:

1. Oklahoma (142) (5-0)	1,768
2. Georgia Tech (31) (5-0)	1,614
3. Tennessee (18) (5-0)	1,302
4. Michigan State (2-1)	1,029
5. Texas A. & M. (5-0-1)	877
6. Ohio State (7) (4-1)	625
7. Iowa (5-0)	584
8. Minnesota (4-0-1)	440
9. Miami Fla. (1) (4-0-1)	357

Ex-Cleveland Pilot Given 1-Year Pact

CHICAGO (AP)—Al Lopez, a mild-mannered astute baseball man whose biggest vocal outburst was against Cleveland fans after they booed his third basemen Monday was named manager of the Chicago White Sox.

Lopez, 48, resigned as skipper of the Indians last Sept. 29, a day before the season closed, after guiding them to five second places and the 1954 American League pennant in his six years at the helm.

He succeeds Marty Marion as the White Sox field boss. Marty resigned last Thursday under front office pressure after being assured he would receive full pay for the remaining year of his contract even if he took another job.

In two years, Marion brought the White Sox in third. During the 1956 campaign Vice President Chuck Comiskey indicated that he thought Marty was not getting the most possible from the talent available.

Booted Rosen

Lopez, known as a manager without a doghouse, became incensed in the stretch drive this season when Cleveland fans insisted on booing injury-plagued Al Rosen. Hank Greenberg, the Tribe's general manager, had been quoted as saying that Rosen would be traded and this apparently added to the slow burn within Lopez.

At any rate, as booing continued, Lopez took a poke at the Cleveland fans. He was quoted as accusing them of "bush league tactics" and of not deserving of a championship team.

This rare display of Lopez didn't seem to dent his popularity too much. A poll by the Cleveland News, which has been underway two weeks to determine how the fans felt about a new manager, showed these results: Lopez 19.5 per cent; Leo Durocher 17.9; Kirby Farrell 16.3.

Meanwhile, Greenberg was en route to Los Angeles to confer with Durocher, who has indicated he may accept the job of manager if the price is right.

One-Year Pact

Lopez was signed by the Sox for one year without a bonus attachment, based on attendance. His salary, said Comiskey, will be comparable to his stipend at Cleveland. He also will be given full authority for hiring a new coaching staff.

"I long have been an admirer of Lopez on and off the field," said Comiskey. "I think he did an outstanding job at Cleveland and I hope he'll do as well for us. He was the only man considered for the job and he accepted by wire from his home in Florida Monday."

Lopez is the 15th manager the Sox have had since they last won the pennant in 1919. He broke into organized ball in 1925 and was a catcher for Brooklyn, Boston and Pittsburgh in the National League for 17 years before going to Cleveland in 1947.

In 1948 he piloted Cleveland's American Assn. Indianapolis farm club to the pennant and finished runner-up with it the next two years. He then was brought in to manage the Tribe.

Knox Fined $100

CALGARY (AP)—Quarterback Ronnie Knox was fined $100 for failing to show up for football practice Friday, Manager Bob Masterman of the Calgary Stampeders announced Monday.

Sox Chance

"The Yankees are a good club but they can be had," Lopez said. "The White Sox have a chance to go all the way in '57."

This year Chicago finished third, behind the pennant winning New York Yankees and Lopez' Indians. "I know the White Sox pretty well," Lopez continued. "But I'm still willing to listen and find out things about the team. They played their best ball against Cleveland last season. I think they were 14 and 8 against the Indians."

"We will try to improve the club wherever we can. Chicago doesn't need too much. It has been a contender every year I was in the league."

Likes Cuccinello

"Speed is Chicago's biggest asset. The pitching is good enough. Hitting is not bad—it's pretty good."

Lopez said he would not announce his selection of coaches until he confers with officials in Chicago. He added that he wants to team up again with his old sidekick, Tony Cuccinello.

"Tony has been with me every place I managed, and we were roomies together back in our playing days at Brooklyn and Boston. He is a fine baseball man."

Al 'Tickled' To Manage White Sox

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Al Lopez said Monday night he is "tickled to death over being selected" to manage the Chicago White Sox.

Lopez, who resigned last month as manager of the Cleveland Indians, was named Monday to succeed Marty Marion as Chicago's pilot.

He will leave by plane today for Chicago to confer with his new boss, Vice President Chuck Comiskey of the White Sox.

He started early talking about a possible pennant for Chicago next year.

Schuyler Next Test For Crete As Torrid Class B Football Chase Continues; Bellevue Still Second

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

Coach Ray Westover's Crete High Cardinals have passed a big obstacle in their bid for the Class B high school football championship. But there is another high hurdle coming up.

The Cards rallied to beat Class A Omaha Westside, 20-19, last week. That secured Crete's claim to the top spot and an edge over second-place Bellevue. Bellevue lost a 13-6 heartbreaker to Westside earlier.

The next foe for Crete is Schuyler, currently ranked eighth and undefeated in seven starts. Crete, apparently without a "breather" on its schedule, may have to go all out in this one.

Schuyler's record is marred by a tie with Seward. The latter was an 18-6 victim of Crete.

While Crete was cementing its position as Class B leader, Oshkosh remained in first place in Class C. Oshkosh beat Julesburg, Colo. 14-6 in a game which had no effect on the standings.

The big test for Oshkosh will be Grant, the number two team. Oshkosh and Grant play Nov. 9.

There were some changes in the B and C ratings, which now shape up as follows:

Class B

Crete is a shade ahead of a speedy Bellevue team, and Broken Bow is a close third. Broken Bow's latest victim was a stubborn Loup City team. The score was 12-0.

Plainview remained unbeaten and moved into fourth place with a 14-0 defeat or previously unconquered Pierce. Plainview is at the head of a close scramble for the remainder of the Top Ten spots.

Ogallala regained some lost prestige with a 22-14 lacing of Gothenburg and ranks fifth ahead of Holdrege. The latter club has lost only to Broken Bow in Class B and owns some victories over good opposition.

Cozad retains seventh despite a 14-7 loss to Holdrege last week. Schuyler made a jump to eighth. Latest Schuyler triumph was a 14-7 defeat of York, and Schuyler will be shooting for all the marbles against Crete next week.

Class C

Oshkosh (7-0).

Grant (4-1).

Arcadia (7-0).

Arnold (7-0).

Alma (6-0-1).

Trenton (5-1).

Morrill (6-1).

David City-St. Mary's (6-0).

Deshler (6-1).

Cambridge (5-2).

Chadron breezed by Hemingford 34-7 to remain unbeaten but is ninth because of a comparatively weak B schedule. Hebron runs out the Top Ten. Only a loss to Class C Deshler keeps Hebron from a higher spot.

—There are several others with high aspirations and opportunity to make the Top Ten chart. These include Minden, Gothenburg, Central City, Auburn, Pius X, Pierce, Ainsworth and Stanton. West Point, undefeated, plays a light B schedule.

Class C

Oshkosh and Grant are setting a fast pace with a few other clubs in a tight group behind the leaders. The number of Class C clubs in serious contention is small.

Arcadia kept its slate clean and its goal line uncrossed with a 26-0 lacing of a fair Scotia team last week to keep the third spot. Arnold belted Ansley 28-0 to remain in fourth and Alma had little trouble with Arapahoe, winning 60-0.

Trenton appears in the chart at sixth. Trenton, beaten only by Grant, nipped a fair Beaver City team 7-6 last week to join the

David Vs. Goliath Match Scheduled In Rasse Tonight

It's not quite a "beauty and the beast" theme, but at least the booking could qualify as a David vs. Goliath match.

That's the headline of the Tuesday night 4-H Club Building wrestling riot where hero Verne Gagne, the little ex-Minnesota football and mat star, will meet the giant from the Pacific Northwest, 440-pound, 8-foot, 2-inch Paul Bunyan.

Bunyan, who has been making mince meat of Midwest foes, is stepping up sharply in class for the Gagne showdown.

White Gagne has dropped his United States TV championship, the former Gopher football end is still right up there among the Top Five in the National Wrestling Association's ratings.

Gagne will give away almost two hundred pounds to the giant from Walla Walla, Wash.

But Verne still has his "sleeping" and "claw" holds to melt the big fella down to size.

It'll be two out of three falls to a 60-minute time limit.

Semiwindup will offer The Little Flower (Benito Gardini) in one of his infrequent Lincoln appearances.

The Baltimore, Md., roly-poly who bounces like a rubber ball, will meet home-towner Howard Pierce.

Referee will be Jerry Adams.

Few Violations—Or Birds—Reported By Commission

Hunting violations during the opening weekend of pheasant season were quite low, according to a report by the Nebraska State Game Commission.

Probably one of the lowest was too many birds.

For the reports indicated that hunting conditions and bird numbers gave the pheasants the edge of the battle.

The different formulas all worked out about the same—not a lot of birds killed.

Either there were plenty of birds but too much wind or plenty of hunters but not enough birds or plenty of birds but they were wild.

Bob Munger, supervisor of information and education for the Game Commission, said that loaded guns in cars was the regulation most often violated.

Munger said about 50 Commission agents were working in the field over the weekend. They reported most farmers said hunters were being cooperative and that complaints were few.

Some farmers were still concerned over the possibility of fires although snow in some areas had lessened the hazard somewhat.

Sooners Back To First As Shakeup Hits Poll

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press

The powerful Oklahoma Sooners with a 35-game winning streak again reign as the No. 1 college football team in the nation after a convincing 40-0 rout of battered Notre Dame.

Oklahoma's eye-popping performance in full view of a nationwide television audience and Michigan State's unexpected 20-13 defeat by Illinois shot the Sooners to the top of the heap and dropped Michigan State to fourth place.

The sports writers and broadcasters who had voted Michigan State into first place a week ago, ending a season-long stay by Oklahoma, quickly reversed the field. Oklahoma was named No. 1 on 143 of the 186 ballots, roughly 77 per cent of the first place votes in the weekly Associated Press poll. The vote was the heaviest of the year.

Decisive Score

They said last week that Oklahoma needed a decisive score against Notre Dame to overshadow Michigan State's 47-14 tally and regain the lead. The winning margin of 40 points was better than State's.

Georgia Tech's unbeaten Engineers, moving to a flashy 40-0 romp over Tulane, picked up strong support with 31 firsts and 1,614 points on the basis of 10 for first, nine for second, etc. Oklahoma's point total was 1,768.

Tennessee's 34-7 triumph over groggy Maryland lifted it in to third place with eight firsts and 1,302 points. Michigan State lost all of its first place support but picked up enough points, 1,029, to grab fourth place and hang on. The first four were the only teams to earn 1,000 or more points.

The upheaval didn't stop in the higher ranks. Not one of the first 20 teams remained in the same position it occupied a week ago. The Texas Aggies, 19-13 winners over previously unbeaten Baylor, jumped from seventh to fifth in the voting and Ohio State, regaining lost prestige by whipping Wisconsin 21-0, hopped from ninth to sixth.

Iowa moved all the way from 12th to seventh on its 21-20 victory over Purdue and Minnesota, unranked a week ago, elbowed into eight by upsetting Michigan 20-7. Miami of Florida climbed into the top 10, taking ninth place by a 14-0 shutout over Texas Christian.

Missing from last week's first 20 teams are Mississippi, beaten by Arkansas, Texas Christian and Tulane. Minnesota, Stanford and Oregon State (tied for 17th) took their places.

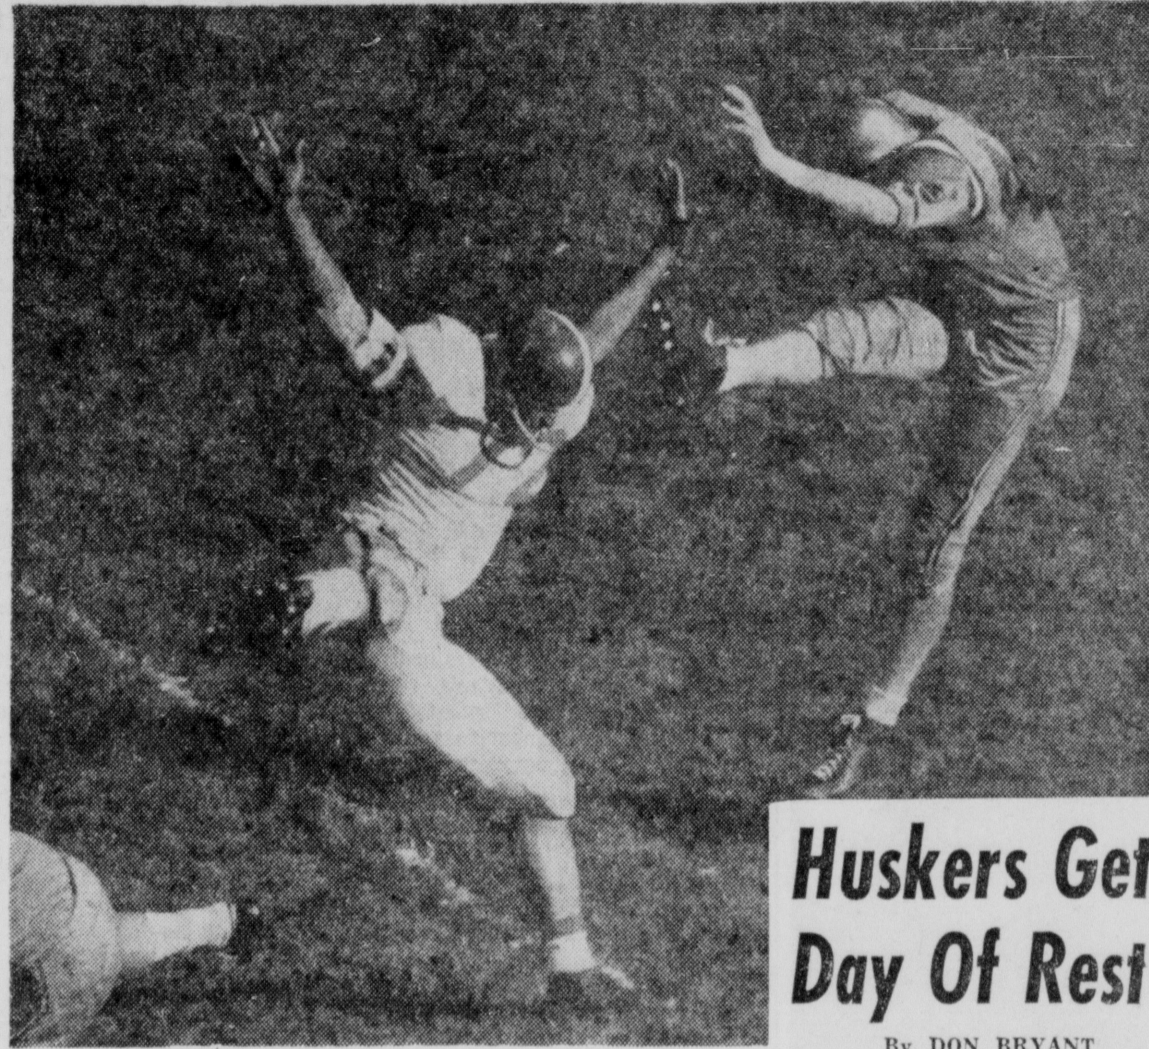

Only four games pairing teams in the first 20 are scheduled for this weekend: Iowa (7) plays Michigan (tied for 17th), Minnesota (8) meets Pittsburgh (11), Penn State (12) visits Syracuse (tied for 17th), and Clemson (13) takes on Virginia Tech (tied for 15th).

The top teams, with first place votes and won-loss records in parentheses:

1. Oklahoma (143) (5-0)	1,768
2. Georgia Tech (31) (5-0)	1,614
3. Tennessee (8) (5-0)	1,302

Huskers Get Day Of Rest

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

The Nebraska Cornhuskers, facing four more tough contests this fall, took a day off from practice Monday and spent the afternoon studying movies of the Colorado game.

Each position group went over the flickers with members of the Husker coaching staff.

Coach Pete Elliott gave the squad the day off in order for the "normal bumps and bruises" received at Colorado to heal better before getting down to preparations for Missouri.

The four remaining Husker opponents will be rugged assignments for the Big Red, losers of three straight games. There isn't a patsy in the lot.

However, Elliott wasn't singing the blues Monday afternoon.

"In our last four games we will meet two strong conference opponents, one of the top teams in the country and the national champions," Pete said. "And we'll get ready for each game with the idea of winning."

Elliott was referring to Missouri, Kansas, Baylor and Oklahoma. The Tigers, undefeated in Big Seven play, are on tap Saturday, while Kansas, which is improving, follow the next week.

Then comes Baylor, one of the Top Ten teams until losing last week, and the Sooners, who salted away their second straight national championship by socking Notre Dame, 40-0.

On the subject of Missouri, Elliott said: "The boys are very anxious to play Missouri."

While the Huskers didn't pick up any new injuries at Colorado, it is likely that two players will miss the Missouri Homecoming affair this week.

Don Rhoda, nursing an injured leg, is listed as doubtful.

"The doctors and the trainers feel that it's doubtful Don will be ready," Elliott said. "Don says he feels better and that he thinks he'll be ready. We'll just have to see."

Elliott said Darrel Pinkston, who also has an injured leg, will definitely miss the Missouri contest.

Newsman asked why Quarterback Roy Sinner, the sophomore who started out his season as he No. 1 signal caller, had been withheld from action against Colorado. Elliott said that Gordon Englert "had played well in practice last week and played well in the game" and for that reason was given his chance.

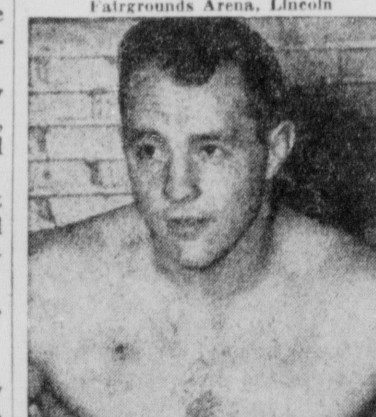

Englert handled most of the quarterbacking chores. George Harshman, currently the first string quarterback, saw only limited action because of a recent bout with influenza.

The 8:30 o'clock opening bout brings Bozo Brown of Cleveland into contention with Duke DeMetri.

Referee will be Jerry Adams.

Few Violations—Or Birds—Reported By Commission

Hunting violations during the opening weekend of pheasant season were quite low, according to a report by the Nebraska State Game Commission.

Probably one of the lowest was too many birds.

For the reports indicated that hunting conditions and bird numbers gave the pheasants the edge of the battle.

The different formulas all worked out about the same—not a lot of birds killed.

Either there were plenty of birds but too much wind or plenty of hunters but not enough birds or plenty of birds but they were wild.

Bob Munger, supervisor of information and education for the Game Commission, said that loaded guns in cars was the regulation most often violated.

Munger said about 50 Commission agents were working in the field over the weekend. They reported most farmers said hunters were being cooperative and that complaints were few.

Some farmers were still concerned over the possibility of fires although snow in some areas had lessened the hazard somewhat.

NU Cagers Play Spartans In Meet

Pairings for the Big Seven pre-season basketball tourney in Kansas City Dec. 26-29 will send Kansas State against Oklahoma, Iowa State against Kansas, Missouri against Colorado and Nebraska against guest team Michigan State in the opening games.

Iowa State meets Kansas and Kansas State plays Oklahoma on opening day while the other two games are on tap Dec. 27. Nebraska playing in the late game that night.

David Vs. Goliath Match Scheduled In Rasse Tonight

It's not quite a "beauty and the beast" theme, but at least the booking could qualify as a David vs. Goliath match.

That's the headline of the Tuesday night 4-H Club Building wrestling riot where hero Verne Gagne, the lithe ex-Minnesota football and mat star, will meet the giant from the Pacific Northwest, 440-pound, 8-foot, 2-inch Paul Bunyan.

Bunyan, who has been making mince meat of Midwest foes, is stepping up sharply in class for the Gagne showdown.

While Gagne has dropped his United States TV championship, the former Gopher football end is still right up there among the Top Five in the National Wrestling Association's ratings.

Gagne will give away almost two hundred pounds to the giant from Walla Walla, Wash. But Verne still has his "sleeper" and "claw" holds to melt the big fella down to size.

It'll be two out of three falls to a 60-minute time limit.

Semwindup will offer The Little Flower (Benito Gardini) in one of his infrequent Lincoln appearances.

The Baltimore, Md., roly-poly who bounces like a rubber ball, will meet home-towner Howard Pierce.

Referee will be Jerry Adams.

Revolt Kills Hungary's Olympic Bid

LONDON (AP)—Hungary's bloody revolt Monday appeared to have hamstrung the little country's hopes of Olympic glory—even if the Hungarian team with its many stars ever gets to Melbourne.

A London report said that Tata, the country's Olympic training camp, has been the scene of heavy fighting. Jozsef Czernak, who won the Olympic hammer throwing title at Helsinki in 1952, and Ferenc Puskas, Hungary's world-famed soccer captain, were reported killed. A later broadcast, however, reported Puskas was alive and uninjured.

There have been contradictory reports whether Hungary, which won 16 gold medals in the 1952 Olympics, still would take part in the 1956 Games. The first radio reports indicated the team had been withdrawn, but a late news broadcast from Radio Budapest, monitored in Vienna, quoted the Hungarian Communist Party newspaper, Szabad Nep, as saying the team will take part in the games although its start may be delayed.

Officials Down Under This agreed with the cable word received by Hungarian Olympic officials who already are in Melbourne. They said the team would arrive Nov. 10 instead of Nov. 3. The games start Nov. 22. Thomas De Marffy-Mantuano, captain of the Hungarian Olympic team before World War II and now living in London, said his newspaper, Szabad Nep, as saying, ports indicated the Hungarian athletes were fighting on the rebel side.

That left outside athletic officials wondering how many Hungarian stars, such as runners Sandor Iharos, Istvan Rozsakovgyi and Sandor Rozsnyoi were injured and fit for the Olympics.

"All the world's athletes will hope that the Hungarians will compete in the games," said Jack Crump, manager of the British Olympic track and field team. "The Olympics would miss so much if the Hungarians are not in Melbourne. If they do compete, they can be assured of a terrific reception."

"Olympic Truce

In Lausanne, Switzerland, the International Olympic Committee Monday called for an "Olympic truce" such as existed in ancient Greece during the games, to permit the Hungarian team to leave for the Melbourne Games.

Reds Offered $300,000 For Newcombe

CINCINNATI (AP)—General Manager Gabe Paul of the Cincinnati Redlegs confirmed Monday that he offered the Brooklyn Dodgers $300,000 for pitcher Don Newcombe and was turned down.

There were published reports Sunday night that Paul had made the offer to the Dodgers and that he also had offered the Philadelphia Phils $250,000 for pitcher Robin Roberts.

Paul at first declined to comment but he said Monday that because of certain circumstances he wanted to confirm the report of the offer for Newcombe. He again declined to comment, however, on the Roberts report.

As to Newcombe, Paul said, "We made the offer three times—once before the World Series, once during the World Series and once since the Series. The latter one was in writing but we were turned down."

Ike Congratulates Yanks' Don Larsen

NEW YORK (AP)—Don Larsen, who pitched a perfect game for the New York Yankees against the Brooklyn Dodgers in the World Series, revealed Monday that he had received a congratulatory letter from President Eisenhower.

He said the letter from the President read as follows:

"Dear Mr. Larsen:

"It is a noteworthy event when anybody achieves perfection in anything. It has been so long since anyone pitched a perfect big league game that I have to go back to my generation of ball players to recall such a thing—and that is truly a long time ago.

"This note brings you my very sincere congratulations on a memorable feat, one that will inspire pitchers for a long time to come. With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Dwight D. Eisenhower"

Larsen said that he was so touched by the letter that he couldn't decide which gave him the bigger thrill—the no-bitter or the President's note.

He said he replied to the President, thanking him and noting that "my only regret is that I didn't have the privilege of pitching my perfect game with you on hand."

3 Colonels Sought For False Permits

GREAT FALLS, Mont., (AP)—Three Air Force colonels, who flew into Montana in an Air Force C-54 plane, were sought Monday for false applications for the cheaper residence big game hunting licenses.

At Helena, a Montana Fish and Game Dept. spokesman said, "apparently they are still in the hills."

Named in the warrants are Col. Herman Ramsey, Brookley AFB, Mobile, Ala.; Lt. Col. Charles Bird and Lt. Col. Fred Vetter, both of the Pentagon, Washington, D.C. The warrants were issued by Justice of the Peace John D. McDonald Saturday at the request of Don Brown, state district game warden supervisor.

Game wardens investigating the report said the three officers arrived in a C-54 and obtained their licenses from a Great Falls hardware store. The wardens said the officers went to Missoula and thence on a hunting trip near Seeley Lake in northwestern Montana.

YOU BE THE QUARTERBACK

By WARREN GAER
Head Football Coach,
Drake University

Two evenly matched teams, Oregon and California, are battling in the middle of the first quarter with the score 0-0, neither team having any margin in the play as yet.

You, the Oregon quarterback have been told by your coach that the important factor in a game is to assume command and dominate the other team, but thus far you have netted only 12 yards from scrimmage and your two long passes have been incomplete.

Now you have the ball in the center of the field, first down and 10 on your own 40-yard line. Your team is in high spirits.

With the coach's admonition in your mind, rate these plays 1, 2, 3 and 4:

Long pass.

Option play (quarterback runs parallel to line of scrimmage, either carrying off tackle or pitching out to trailing back).

Quick opener (through line).

Joseph Gains Split Dempsey Reported Nod Over Vaughn In Good Condition

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Charley Joseph of New Orleans floored Willie Vaughn of Hollywood in the ninth round Monday night and went on to take an unpopular split decision in a 10-round bout. Joseph weighed 153, Vaughn 160.

The crowd of 3,145 fans booed the decision when it was announced, despite the hard Joseph right that dropped Vaughn for a nine count in the ninth.

Referee Roland Brown scored it six for Joseph, two for Vaughn and two even. Judge Frederick Adams had it four for Vaughn, three for Joseph and three even, while Judge Ernest Cajoe had it five for Joseph, four for Vaughn and one even.

Olympic Cagers Collect 85-72 Win

DENVER (AP)—The U.S. Olympic basketball team sped to its fifth consecutive victory in a tour of the United States here Monday night with an 85-72 triumph over the Denver-Chicago Truckers.

The Truckers, a new member of the National Industrial Basketball League, gave the Olympians considerable worry during the first half. The Olympians managed a 42-36 halftime margin.

The victors broke the game open after about five minutes of the second half.

U.S. Cup Team Leaves For Match

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States Davis Cup tennis team, minus Vic Seixas, will take off from Los Angeles Tuesday for Australia, where the inter-zone final against India will be played Dec. 14-16. The team is scheduled to reach Sydney Nov. 2.

Seixas, whose departure will be delayed until Nov. 6, will join the squad in Sydney.

Undefeated List Cut To 16 Clubs

The casualty rate among unbeaten Nebraska high school football eleven was high last week.

The unbeaten list was cut from 23 to 16 as seven teams suffered their first Nebraska defeats.

Those falling from the select group were Barneston, beaten by Shubert; Central City, edged by Minden; Falls City, upset by Auburn; Grand Island, beaten by Hastings; Pierce, victim of Plainview; Tecumseh, loser to Southeast; and Seward Concordia, beaten by Exeter in an eight-man game.

Of the 16 unbeaten teams, 12 are all-victorious. Alma, Crete, Plainview and Schuyler have been tied. Schuyler and Crete meet next week.

Omaha North, the state Class A leader, is still the top point-producer with 284, an average of 40.6 per game. Arcadia kept its perfect defensive record unmarred and is the only 11-man team to blank all its opponents.

The undefeated list:

Revolt Kills Hungary's Olympic Bid

LONDON (AP)—Hungary's bloody revolt Monday appeared to have hamstrung the little country's hopes of Olympic glory — even if the Hungarian team with its many stars ever gets to Melbourne.

A London report said that Tata, the country's Olympic training camp, has been the scene of heavy fighting. Jozsef Csermak, who won the Olympic hammer throwing title at Helsinki in 1952, and Ferenc Puskas, Hungary's world-famed soccer captain, were reported killed. A later broadcast, however, reported Puskas was alive and uninjured.

There have been contradictory reports whether Hungary, which won 16 gold medals in the 1952 Olympics, still would take part in the 1956 Games. The first radio reports indicated the team had been withdrawn, but a late news broadcast from Radio Budapest, monitored in Vienna, quoted the Hungarian Communist Party newspaper, Szabad Nep, as saying the team will take part in the games although its start may be delayed.

Officials Down Under

This agreed with the cable word received by Hungarian Olympic officials who already are in Melbourne. They said the team would arrive Nov. 10 instead of Nov. 3. The games start Nov. 22.

Thomas De Marffy-Mantuano, captain of the Hungarian Olympic team before World War II and now living in London, said his reports indicated the Hungarian athletes were fighting on the rebel side.

That left outside athletic officials wondering how many Hungarian stars, such as runners Sandor Iharos, Istvan Rozsavolgyi and Sandor Roznyoi were uninjured and fit for the Olympics.

"All the world's athletes will hope that the Hungarians will compete in the games," said Jack Crump, manager of the British Olympic track and field team. "The Olympics would miss so much if the Hungarians are not in Melbourne. If they do compete, they can be assured of a terrific reception."

"Olympic Truce"

In Lausanne, Switzerland, the International Olympic Committee Monday called for an "Olympic truce" such as existed in ancient Greece during the games, to permit the Hungarian team to leave for the Melbourne Games.

Otto Mayer, chancellor of the international committee, said he had asked the Swiss government to forward the committee's request to Hungarian authorities.

Mayer said the Hungarian team was assembled on an island in the Danube and "nothing is known of its fate."

Hungary won 16 gold medals, 10 silver and 16 bronze in the 1952 Olympics. Her athletes won the hammer throw, women's 100 meters, and 400 meters free style swimming, 200 meters breaststroke and 400 meters relay, individual and team sabre fencing, bantam and welter wrestling, middleweight boxing, women's free exercises and uneven parallel bars in gymnastics, rapid fire pistol shooting, water polo, football and team modern pentathlon.

This time the Hungarians had hoped to fare even better. Iharos said recently that "in some sports we Hungarians have shown speedy improvement and hope to win 20 gold medals in Melbourne."

The Hungarians planned to send 130 athletes to Melbourne with good chances of capturing medals in events ranging from track and field to women's gymnastics. They were not defending their soccer title. The water polo team was favored to retain the championship.

Reds Offered $300,000 For Newcombe

CINCINNATI (AP)—General Manager Gabe Paul of the Cincinnati Redlegs confirmed Monday that he offered the Brooklyn Dodgers $300,000 for pitcher Don Newcombe and was turned down.

There were published reports Sunday night that Paul had made the offer to the Dodgers and that he also had offered the Philadelphia Phils $250,000 for pitcher Robin Roberts.

Paul at first declined to comment but he said Monday that because of certain circumstances he wanted to confirm the report of the offer for Newcombe. He again declined to comment, however, on the Roberts report.

As to Newcombe, Paul said, "We made the offer three times—once before the World Series, once during the World Series and once since the Series. The latter one was in writing but we were turned down."

OLYMPIC OFFICIALS TROUBLED; THERE'S TOO MUCH TALENT

LOS ANGELES (INS) — American Olympic team officials are troubled today by what might be called a comforting problem—too much talent.

The happy fact is that a couple of athletes who failed to make the grade in certain events or were tagged for discarding from the Melbourne-bound team have suddenly blossomed into the leading contenders for berths.

Paramount among these suddenly inspired performers is pole vaulter Bob Gutowski, who finished fourth in last summer's final Olympic trials and joined the team in training only as an "alternate."

But last Saturday in a team meet at Santa Ana, Calif., Gutowski soared to an altitude of 15 feet, 5 inches, tying the team's standout performer in the event, the Rev. Bob Richards, and leaving the competition well back.

In the Olympic finals, Gutowski actually tied with Jim Graham for third place but was given fourth because he had one more miss than Graham. Graham, who has been hampered by a bad ankle, could do no better than 14 feet Saturday.

Another problem involves the status of Franklin (Bud) Held, formerly America's premier javelin thrower. He was beaten out of a regular berth on the Olympic team in the final trials by Benny Garcia by one inch.

But now Held is shooting the spear farther than any of the regular team members, Cy Young, Phil Conley and Garcia.

Then there is the case of Leamon King, who failed to make the team in the 100-meter dash but captured a berth on the relay entry.

The only trouble is, King has twice beaten the regular 100-meter squad in world record time of 10.1 seconds. His situation presents officials with less trouble than the others, however, because he has an Olympics job and because the American team probably will sweep the event even without him.

Team officials will decide what to do about all this talent this Thursday, but it appears that both Gutowski and Held have good chances to make the flight "down under" for the games.

As examples of the still not thoroughly tested abilities of the team, Harold Connolly tossed the hammer to a world record distance of 244 feet, 8 1/4 inches Saturday before repeated weightings at supermarkets indicated that his missile was a quarter-ounce light.

And Parry O'Brien, who has broken more of his own world records than most housewives have broken dishes, capped his mark again with a shotput of 62 feet 8 1/4 inches before it was discovered that the shotput ring was nine inches higher than it should have been.

More records and near misses may very well be added to the team's spectacular achievements when it holds its final warm-up meet in this country at Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum next Thursday.

Joseph Gains Split Nod Over Vaughn

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Charley Joseph of New Orleans floored Willie Vaughn of Hollywood in the 11th round Monday night and went on to take an unpopular split decision in a 10-round bout. Joseph weighed 158, Vaughn 160.

Joseph, ninth-ranking middleweight, hustled all the way and looked good during close-in action. Vaughn, who took a split decision over Joseph recently, was superior at long range most of the way.

The crowd of 3,145 fans booed the decision when it was announced, despite the hard Joseph right that dropped Vaughn for a nine count in the ninth.

Referee Roland Brown scored it six for Joseph, two for Vaughn and two even. Judge Frederick Adams had it four for Vaughn, three for Joseph and three even. While Judge Ernest Cajoe had it five for Joseph, four for Vaughn and one even.

Dempsey Reported In Good Condition

CHICAGO (INS) — Former Heavyweight Champion Jack Dempsey was described as in "good" condition Monday at Chicago's St. Luke's Hospital where he was taken Saturday for treatment.

The 61-year-old Dempsey collapsed Friday night at DeVry Technical Institute, an electronics school in Chicago, of which he has been director of public relations for seven years.

A physician said he was suffering from fatigue, a virus condition and a muscle strain in his left leg—mostly the result of overwork due to a heavy public appearance schedule.

Dempsey was advised to take a hospital rest until the end of this week, when he will be allowed to return to his New York home.

Olympic Cagers Collect 85-72 Win

DENVER (AP)—The U.S. Olympic basketball team sped to its fifth consecutive victory in a tour of the United States here Monday night with an 85-72 triumph over the Denver-Chicago Truckers.

The Truckers, a new member of the National Industrial Basketball League, gave the Olympians considerable worry during the first half. The Olympians managed a 42-36 halftime margin.

The victors broke the game open after about five minutes of the second half.

Tickets On Sale

NEW YORK (AP)—Tickets for the Ray Robinson-Gene Fulmer middleweight championship fight at Madison Square Garden, Dec. 12, will go on sale Nov. 12 the International Boxing Club said Monday. Prices will range from $4 to $30.

Undefeated List Cut To 16 Clubs

The casualty rate among unbeaten Nebraska high school football elevens was high last week.

The unbeaten list was cut from 23 to 16 as seven teams suffered their first Nebraska defeats.

Those falling from the select group were Barneston, beaten by Shubert; Central City, edged by Minden; Falls City, upset by Auburn; Grand Island, beaten by Hastings; Pierce, victim of Plainview; Tecumseh, loser to South-east; and Seward Concordia, beaten by Exeter in an eight-man game.

Of the 16 unbeaten teams, 12 are all-victorious. Alma, Crete, Plainview and Schuyler have been tied. Schuyler and Crete meet next week.

Omaha North, the state Class A leader, is still the top point producer with 284, an average of 40.6 per game. Arcadia kept its perfect defensive record unmarred and is the only 11-man team to blank all its opponents.

The undefeated list:

Team	W	T	L	Opps
Alma	6	1	203	19
Arcadia	7	0	221	0
Arnold	7	0	210	7
Blue Hill	5	0	96	18

Skinny Aussie Nag Shaping Up As Rich International Race Draws Near; No Longer Looks Like Scarecrow

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Prince Cortauld looks more like the thoroughbred pride of Australia as the International Race draws near than the scarecrow he was upon arrival.

Respect for Australia's first representative in the $100,000 race on Nov. 12 is growing daily as he works out on the grass for the mile and a half event.

When he arrived in Maryland late in August, horse followers thought somebody was kidding. Prince Cortauld looked more like a fugitive from a glue factory than an entry for a race of the International's global prestige.

He was more bones than skin.

His hooves had grown into the shape of old fashioned flatirons. He had as much sparkle as a week old glass of beer.

Hard To Believe International followers had a hard time believing he was the fourth all-time money winner in Australia with $114,000.

But the rangy, dull brown horse had an excuse. It had taken the ship which brought him from Australia 43 days to reach Boston.

The bag of bones known as Prince Cortauld was taken to a Maryland farm. For a month, he walked and ate.

When he looked like a thoroughbred again, the Prince was taken to the Laurel Race Course. Reiner Vandemat, a Hollander, was given the job of getting Prince Cortauld into racing trim.

Hint To Watchers

He gave early morning track watchers a hint of Prince Cortauld's progress recently. He sent out the invader for a practice run with C. V. Whitney's Fisherman, winner of the 1954 International.

Observers were inclined to see why Prince Cortauld had won 25 of 52 races in Australia, the last on June 16 at a mile and a quarter with 133 pounds.

Prince Cortauld was bought after that race by Forrest Smith Jr.

of California. Like another good Australian import, Phar Lap, Prince Cortauld was born in New Zealand six years ago and did all his racing in Australia.

At least one competent observer, who has been watching Prince Cortauld since his startling appearance on the scene, feels Smith may have a horse parlay in the works.

After his latest view of the son of Sun King and Capricious, he said "I'd maybe put down a small bet just because he looks so good."

Now what they've got to do is keep him from getting too fine."

Huskers Brown, Naviaux Among Big Seven Leaders

It will be a battle of the Big Seven Conference's leading individual ground gainers when Oklahoma and Colorado collide Saturday at Boulder.

This week's Big Seven statistical compilation shows Colorado's John Bayuk still leading the pack in rushing. The Buffalo fullback now has amassed a total of 454 yards on 73 carries for an average of 6.2.

His rival at Boulder will be Clendon Thomas, Oklahoma right half, who has carried fewer times but has an 8.2 average. Thomas has gained 402 yards on 49 rushes.

Colorado, eyeing the Orange Bowl trip with a clean record in the conference, will meet its sternest test in the defending national champions, who riddled Notre Dame last week.

Oklahoma's total offense figure shrank because of the fact that three of its touchdowns against the Irish came off interceptions. Still the Sooners boast a five-game average of 414.6, followed by Missouri with a 315 average and Colorado with 314.2.

Jerry Brown of Nebraska squeezed past Tommy McDonald, the other half of the Sooner touchdown twosome, in rushing with 65 carries for 335 yards. McDonald has rushed 59 times for 381.

Thomas added two touchdowns at South Bend to boost his individual scoring total to 60 points. McDonald follows with 48. Homer Floyd of Kansas and Bayuk are deadlocked with 36 points.

With a 90-yarder against Oklahoma A & M, Bob Marshall of

BROWN

Kansas boomed into the front in punt returns. He now has four for 122 yards, an average of 30.5. Gene Worder of Colorado has four for 15.5 average, and McDonald has six averaging 15.2.

Billy Pricer, Oklahoma's quick-kick specialist, moved into the punt lead with nine averaging 48.7. Larry Naviaux of Nebraska trails with an average of 44.4 on five kicks, and Boyd Dowler of Colorado has skied 17 averaging 40.7.

Jimmy Hunter of Missouri and Wally Strauch of Kansas remain 1-2 in forward passing. The Tiger has zeroed in 22 of 44 for 254 yards. Strauch has 216 yards on 12 of 29. Moving into third is the deadly Jimmy Harris of O. U., who has completed eight of nine for 139.

The situation remained the same in pass receiving. Charlie James of M. U. has caught 18 for 218 yards. John Scheldrup of Iowa State has folded in six for 140.

Chiefs Sign Young Hurler

The Lincoln Chiefs have announced the purchase of Larry Foss, 21, a right hand pitcher, from Douglas, Ariz., in the Arizona-Mexico League.

Foss is 6-1, weighs 185 and had a 10-8 record with the Class C Douglas club, according to Dick Wagner, general manager of the Chiefs.

Foss pitched 124 innings last season with Douglas, striking out 132.

In 1955, Foss had a 9-9 record with Dublin, Ga. Both the Douglas and Dublin are Pittsburgh farm clubs.

14 Schools Enter Prep 2-Mile Run

Fourteen high schools have entered the annual fall 2-mile run for prep athletes which will be staged Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Pioneers Park cross country course.

Deadline for entries is Wednesday Coach Frank Sevine of the University of Nebraska, announced.

Valentine—Dick Ballard, Curt Vandebos, Melvin Grewe, Jim Lee, Ord—Larson, Richard Petreba, Kearney—Jack Eberhardt, Kenneth Green, Bob Jacobson, Archie Holmbeck, Garion McLean, Dennis Russell, O'Neill—Robert Young, Marvin Young, Geneva—Ron Jolly, Henderson—Roger Dale Friesen, Glen D. Butler.

York—Roger Senas, Larry Pongv, Lincoln Northwest—Tom Hutchins, Gary Larson, Larry Newburn, Glenn Robinson, Hastings—D. J. Shuler, Richard Trick, Ron Newton, Gary Nicholas, Ron McCollough.

Lincoln High—John Thompson, Terry Samp, Larry Haack, Bill Johnston, Plattsmouth—Randy Krumholz, Steve Feshenica, John Iverson.

Omaha Benson—Lloyd Armentrout, Carl Barker, Darrell Fetterich, John Jeffries, Thomas Petersen, Robert Soyemore, James Ashworth.

Twyman Jones Given Midland Petrow Trophy

Twyman Jones, a 1956 Midland grad, was awarded the Petrow Memorial Trophy at the dance which climaxed the 33rd annual Midland College Homecoming.

The trophy, which is Midland's highest athletic award, was awarded to an athlete who had earned two letters in basketball and two in baseball. Highlight of Jones' baseball career came last spring when he pitched an afternoon-evening double header which gave Midland the NAIA regional championship.

Fred Snyder, Fremont public school teacher, presented the trophy to Jones, who now is basketball coach at North Bend, Nebraska high school. Snyder had attended school with George "Babe" Petrow, who was killed in action during World War II.

Other candidates for the honor this year included Ron Donahue, Fremont, and Bob Rump, Fremont.

At an election last spring, nine men were chosen by the student body, and a special committee then made the final selection. The memorial trophy was first presented by "The Warrior," Midland College yearbook, in 1946.

We're looking for ENGINEERS and ADMINISTRATIVE PERSONNEL

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING—hub of the new Allison Engineering Research and Development Center in Indianapolis

Allison Division, General Motors Corporation—a leader in the design, development and production of commercial and military aircraft engines—is adding to its technical strength.

Our experience with turnover in technical people has been, and is, extremely low, but...

The Allison $75 million engineering expansion program including new EN-GINEERING Research and Development facilities creates an immediate need for enlarging our engineering staff. Completion of the long-range program will give Allison one of the world's finest, most complete and best-equipped centers for the development of new, high performance turbo-prop and turbo-jet aircraft engines. Want to know how YOU will fit in this picture?

LINCOLN Interviews November 3

Our representative will be here to answer your questions and tell you personally about the excellent career opportunities and challenging work awaiting you at Allison.

Allison offers YOU stability of a well-established, and fast-growing organization... an advanced educational program... security... opportunity for rapid advancement... excellent working conditions with the most modern facilities in industry. Relocation allowance? Yes, and many other benefits and advantages. Talk to our representative and see if your technical training and background qualify you for a place on the Allison team. Experience in the aircraft industry isn't always necessary. If you are an engineering graduate, we'd like to talk to you. There's everything to gain—nothing to lose.

Interviews in Lincoln are scheduled for November 3. Mr. R. J. Wilson will be here Nov. 3 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Call Mr. Wilson at 2-4471 for your interview.

Or, if unable to set up the personal interview, write direct to Salaried Personnel—Box 894, telling us about yourself—your qualifications—your experience—educational background—present occupation and availability. Confidential, of course.

County Drought Request Action In 2 Weeks

By RICHARD FELLMAN
Star Staff Writer

Action is expected within about two weeks on a Monday request by the Lancaster County drought committee for county-wide designation as a drought disaster area, thus enabling qualified farmers participation in the emergency feed grain program.

The request was forwarded to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson for his approval, which according to state officials should be coming soon. They said counties in similar condition received the designation without much difficulty. So far, 35 other Nebraska counties have been made eligible for the special program.

Once approved, farmers qualifying for the program would be able to purchase surplus grains at $1.50 a hundredweight less than market price, which on current prices would drop the total price-paid in half.

Must Be Principal Job

Farmers who could become eligible for the program will have to be established with farming as their principal occupation. The financial position of the farmer must be such that he requires assistance to maintain his foundation herd of livestock and continue his livestock operations.

Eligible livestock, defined in terms of foundation herds, includes cows, replacement heifers and bulls, ewes, ewe lambs for replacement and rams. Feeder cattle, feeder lambs, swine and poultry are not included.

Once the county is designated as an emergency area, officials say details as to the individual farmer's getting into the program will be released. The program will be administered through the Farmers Home Administration, with the aid of local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee offices.

The report going to Washington which originated in Lancaster County was made by officials of the FHA, the ASC, the Extension Service, a representative banker and a representative farmer. Action was taken by this committee after recommendation by the County Commissioners.

Main Reasons

"A third of a normal grain crop, less than a third of a normal hay crop and practically no pasture in 1956" were cited among the main reasons for designating the county as a drought emergency area, according to Frank L. Anderson, FHA administrator for Lancaster County.

The obvious reason for this near failure, the report said, was the lack of sub-soil moisture, attributed to the second drought year in succession and the third successive crop failure in over one-third of the county.

Among other points cited were: Projects for improvement of pastures in 1957 are "extremely poor, as absolutely no sub-soil moisture exists."

Grain Down 65%

Average yields among the grain crops have dropped from 65 per cent of normal in the case of wheat to the low of 10 per cent of normal in the case of oats.

Some farmers, although not all, are finding it difficult to obtain credit. And although there is not a wholesale number of farmers selling out, there are a few more than normal.

If it were not for the availability of part-time work in the Lincoln area for both farmers and farm wives, many more would be selling out.

Reserve supplies in livestock feeds are low, in the case of alfalfa, ensilage and feed grains.

Although there is no mass liquidation of foundation herds, many farmers are reducing herds by an average of 15 to 20 per cent.

The recommendation for the emergency designation received the unanimous support of the entire Lancaster County committee.

Ton-Mile Tax Has Not Cut Trucking In Oregon—Official

Trucking operations in Oregon have not been curtailed as a result of the mileage (ton-mile) tax in that state, Oregon Public Utilities Commissioner Charles H. Heltzel said.

The cost of administering the tax was 3.33 per cent of the 1955 ton-mile tax receipts in Oregon, Heltzel said, and "in the neighborhood of 10 per cent" of the ton-mile tax receipts in New York, according to George M. Bragalin, commissioner of taxation and finance in New York State.

These statements were made in reply to questions asked of the officials of Oregon, New York, Colorado, Idaho and Ohio by L. K. Emory of Lincoln. Only Oregon and New York have replied to the questionnaires concerning the effects of a ton-mile tax in those states.

Poles Greet Released Cardinal

... Receives Newsmen

By COLIN FROST
WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Hundreds of Roman Catholics gave a cheering and singing welcome to Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski Monday in his first public appearance since his release from three years of house arrest.

The crowd finally hushed after the 55-year-old primate of Poland stepped out on the balcony above the main entrance to his palace and told them:

"I thank you for your prayers. Now, when we are sure that we have won, let us work for peace in our country because peace is the guarantee of our freedom."

Healthy

Time and again the freed archbishop appeared on the balcony in response to cheers from the throngs in the courtyard. Despite his confinement in a rural monastery, he looked vigorous and healthy in his long black robes. He wore a red skull cap. On his breast hung a cross of silver and ebony.

After making his final appearance before the crowd, the cardinal received an Associated Press representative and a Western photographer inside the palace.

"Are there many foreign correspondents in Warsaw?" he asked. "Indeed there are, from all over the world," he was told. He seemed surprised.

"Have they been here long?" "For many weeks—since the Poznan incident."

"I suppose the correspondents must be interested in the changes in Poland," he said.

"The whole world is intensely interested," he was told.

Released

He returned to Warsaw Sunday night from the monastery where he had been confined since September 1953. His release followed talks between the cardinal and a delegation from the Polish government, including Leon Kliszko, deputy minister of justice and a close associate of Wladyslaw Gomulka, chief of the Polish Communist party.

In Vatican City, L'Osservatore Romano hailed his release and expressed hope that it might be the signal for repeal of Poland's antichurch laws.

Italy Capital Anti-Commies Demonstrate

ROME (INS) — Anti-Communist student demonstrations began developing throughout Italy Monday and the Italian Communist bloc was threatened with a wide split as a result of the Hungarian revolt. Students marched on the heavily-guarded Communist headquarters in Rome, and shouted: "Throw the Communists out of Hungary. Throw the Communists out of Italy."

The demonstrators also marched past the U.S. Embassy which was protected by police. But there was no incident.

In Naples, Milan, Genoa, Voghera and Palermo other students and workers paraded through the streets with Italian and Hungarian Magyar flags. They shouted anti-Communist slogans, including "death to the Russians."

Posters appeared on the walls of most Italian cities attacking what were termed "Soviet assassins" because of the use of Russian troops against Hungarian rebels.

Meanwhile the intellectual faction of the Italian Communist party turned on old-line Stalinists for their support of the Soviet action in Hungary.

Saratog Hopeful

ROME (AP) — Giuseppe Saragat, Italy's vice premier and leader of the anti-Communist Social Democrat party, has predicted his party and Socialists now led by leftist Pietro Nenni will be united in one party by spring. Efforts to reunite the anti-Communist Socialists and Nenni's fellow-traveling party have been frustrated by Nenni's continuing relations with Italian Communists.

Must Hold Line On Taxes Until Farm Income Restored, Demo Sorrell Says

"Until farm income is restored to order, we must hold the line on taxes in Nebraska," Frank Sorrell, Democratic candidate for governor said Monday night at a Democratic party rally.

This, he declared, has not been done under the Anderson "spend-thrift" administration.

"In Anderson's first year in office, taxes rose 22 per cent and state spending rose 19 per cent, while income has gone down," Sorrell said, citing the governor's administrative assistant and the new plane purchased during Anderson's administration, as two unnecessary state expenses. "But although I have repeatedly challenged him to take a stand on the issues, he has never uttered a word," Sorrell said.

He also took a verbal swing at the farm policy of Agriculture Secretary Benson, whom he accused of taking dictation from buyers of raw products. "Much of this talk of farm surpluses is just so much bunk," he declared. "Industrialization of farm products would take up the slack."

Frank Morrison, candidate for lieutenant governor, told the gathering that the Republican party in the state has "gone to sleep and lost the vision for advancement" which could make the state, with its rich potential, one to be proud of.

Willard Townsend, State Democratic chairman, introduced the two candidates to a crowd of about 200 people.

'Measures Up'

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Republican President Herbert Hoover said the Eisenhower administration's program measures up to the needs of the American people. He called for the re-election of President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon and for a GOP Congress during a five-minute speech for a national television (CBS-TV) audience.

VOTE X FOR THE GRAIN TAX AMENDMENT*

Amendment Authorizes Legislative Study

The Grain Tax Amendment is the first step toward revising Nebraska's unfair taxation. It authorizes the state legislature to set up and determine a new basis for taxing grain and seed. The present valuation method of taxing grain is outmoded, discriminatory. It penalizes Nebraska farmers, grain and seed men and drives business to neighboring states.

Neighboring States have FAIR Grain Tax Laws

Neighboring states have worked out fair tax laws based on bushel production throughout the year. Available Kansas figures indicate even a slight increase in tax returns to the state under this method.

Milam said his wife's body had been shipped to Oklahoma City for burial and he was making the trip in his pickup truck when he apparently lost control and the vehicle plunged down a 12 foot embankment.

He was reported in "fair condition" at a hospital here.

Milam said he planned to reside in Oklahoma City in the near future.

Lincoln Hunter Dies In Highway Crash

A hunting trip cost the life of Erwin Meyer, 39, of 2225 No. 59th, and brought severe injuries to another hunter, Wayne Litch, 28, of 412 No. 32nd.

Meyer, route man for Roberts Dairy, died Monday in a local hospital of injuries received Sunday night in a one-car accident three miles east of Clatonia on State Highway 41.

Litch, also a passenger in the death car, was reported "doing pretty good" late Monday in a local hospital after being listed in poor condition earlier.

Two Escape Injury
Escaping injury were Glen Walke, 25, of Tecumseh, driver of the car, and Gene West, about 25, of St. Paul.

The men were en route to their homes from a hunt trip.

Gage County Sheriff Ned Maxwell of Beatrice said the car apparently struck loose gravel, caused it to go out of control. The vehicle struck a concrete abutment, was thrown across the highway, and turned over once.

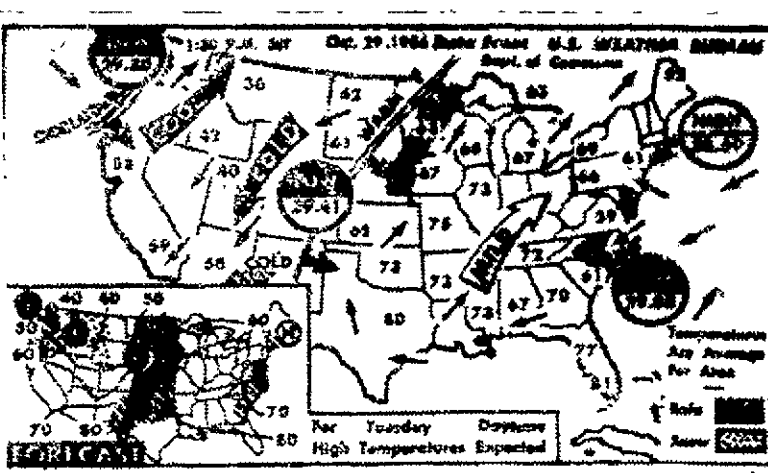

Meyer, a World War II veteran, was a member of St. Mary's Cathedral and the Eagles Lodge. Born at Otoe, Neb., he came to Lincoln about four years ago.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Wednesday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church at St. Paul. The rosary will be recited at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the Wherry Mortuary in St. Paul.

Surviving are his wife, Dorothy; his mother, Mrs. Nora Meyer of Nebraska City; three brothers, Alvin of Nebraska City, Adolph of Dunbar and Herman of Denver; and a sister, Mrs. Adele Gangel of Nebraska City.

Meyer's death brought the Nebraska highway death toll for the year to 250, 10 less than a year ago on the same date.

Another Nebraska fatality over the weekend was Elmer E. Smith, 43, of Gering who died a few hours after he was struck by a car driven by Larry Spencer, 17, of Gering. Smith, a saddle shop operator, was crossing the street at the time.

Plains States May Get Moisture

Generally fair weather is expected in eastern third of the nation Tuesday, except for rain along the southeast coast from Virginia to Clear Lake, Calif., and a widespread rain from the Mississippi Valley to the Plains states. Snow is due in the central and northern Rockies. Rain mixed with snow in the Cascades, rain in north Pacific states and northern California. Little change in temperatures is expected. Record Omaha Vote Expected

OMAHA (AP) — Douglas County Election Commissioner Herman Kuppinger said Monday he expects the Nov. 6 election vote will be about 170,000—exceeding the previous high of 124,000 set in 1952.

Kuppinger said there will be approximately 145,000 eligible voters in the county. Registrations topped 162,000 but challenges will slice this figure. There were 135,000 eligible voters in 1952.

Kuppinger said absentee voting is "heavy". At noon Monday 1,500 had voted, an indication of high interest.

McMullen Speaking At Rally In Omaha

OMAHA (AP) — Nebraska Volunteers for Stevenson-Kelley are planning a public rally at 8 p. m. Friday at the Paxton Hotel in Omaha.

Featured speaker will be former Republican Governor Adam McMullen, co-chairman of the organization. McMullen is a Gage County farm operator.

Selection of New Dana President Is Confirmed

BLAIR, Neb. (AP) — The council of the United Evangelical Lutheran Church has confirmed the selection of Dr. C. Madsen as president of Dana College. Acting president since last July, he succeeds Dr. R. E. Morton.

Second Best Season

OMAHA (AP) — Army Engineers report barge traffic on the Missouri River during 1958 totaled 311,854 tons. It was the second best season in the four years since regular barge service was resumed in 1953.

Electric Issue Goes On Ballot At Scottsbluff

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP) — The voters of Scottsbluff will decide Nov. 6 whether to issue $1,300,000 in revenue bonds to finance acquisition of a municipal electric power distribution system.

No increase in taxes would be required and the bonds would not be added to the tax load. They would be repaid from revenue of the system.

The proposal stipulates that the city can negotiate for the facilities of Consumers Public Power District or build a distribution plant by its own use. Power would be purchased from Consumers at wholesale rates, or from the REA.

A citizens advisory committee studied the problem for 20 months, then recommended the city enter the power business. The Lincoln consulting engineering firm of Fulton and Cramer was hired to make a study to determine if the move would be feasible.

Negotiations between the city and Consumers on a power franchise here broke down and the district has been without a franchise since February, 1955.

Committee members believe the city can earn an equity of $4 million by 1972 if it acquires the system now.

Mitchell Again Faces New Fire Hall Issue

MITCHELL, Neb. (AP) — Mitchell will decide on a $20,000 general obligation bond issue for construction of a new fire hall.

Voters rejected the proposal by a narrow margin last April and since that time volunteer firemen have been busy stumping.

Man Accused Of Arson Fails To Appear At Trial

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP) — George Emerson Hart, 44, ex-convict scheduled to go on trial for arson in District Court here Monday failed to put in an appearance.

When Hart failed to appear at 9 a. m. District Judge I. J. Nisley continued the case until afternoon and when Hart still was not in court Judge Nisley ordered his $10,000 bond forfeited, and set a hearing Nov. 10 to enter judgment on the bond.

Hart was accused of setting fire to the Tastee Freeze shop at Ogallala Sept. 26, 1955. He was arrested in Vermillion, S.D., but carried his fight against extradition clear to the South Dakota Supreme Court. He was arraigned in Ogallala this summer.

A warrant was expected to be issued for his arrest following his failure to appear for trial Monday.

THE BIG TRUCKERS CALL IT A CONSUMER TAX WHY?

Their only hope to win this election is to frighten the voter by some WILD claim that this will be a Huge Tax Big Enough to Raise the Cost of Living.

Let's Examine the Facts:

1. The Big Truckers would have you believe that all of your food, clothing and everything you buy is transported and delivered in trucks licensed to carry over 10 tons. Thus they infer the Ton-Mile Tax would be added to the price of everything you buy. THE TRUTH IS that in 1955 there were only 4750 trucks over 10 tons licensed in Nebraska. That's most of the goods are trucked in the 150,000 smaller trucks on which there will be no Ton-Mile Tax whatsoever.
2. The Big Truckers would have you believe that the Ton-Mile Tax would be a big tax—like a sales tax on everything you buy. Let's look at the facts. Twenty-five tons of bacon transported from the Omaha packing plants 500 miles to Scottsbluff would pay a Ton-Mile Tax of $30.50, or 5/1000 of 1c per pound. That is all the tax could be. Or 100 pounds of wheat shipped 100 miles would have a Ton-Mile Tax of 7/10 of 1c. How much would that raise the cost of a loaf of bread? OR the Ton-Mile Tax on a 1,000 pound steer shipped 100 miles would be 8/1000 of 1c per pound. It is Utterly Ridiculous to say that the TON-MILE TAX would raise the cost of living. And in most instances it is so small it cannot be passed on.
3. If this great consumer tax were to be passed on as the Big Truckers loudly proclaim it will be, it still would be only a small portion of the $6,000,000 that the Ton-Mile Tax will raise for roads. Approximately 60% or $3,600,000 will be paid for by the big outstate truckers who operate through Nebraska carrying goods from Chicago and the East, to points on the West Coast. If this is a Consumer Tax the people in some other part of the country will have to pay it. It cannot be a burden on Nebraskans.
4. The Big Truckers talk as though they can raise their rates at will. To raise freight rates in Nebraska they must first get permission from the Nebraska Railway Commission. It is not as simple as the truckers would have you believe.
5. DID THE TON-MILE TAX RAISE THE COST OF LIVING IN OUR NEIGHBORING STATES where it is now in force? ABSOLUTELY NOT. There has been no freight increase in Colorado, Idaho or Oregon due to the Ton-Mile Tax. In a letter Dale G. Hollingsworth, Assistant Manager of the Boise, Idaho, Chamber of Commerce, said "It would be our opinion, that the Ton-Mile Tax principle does NOT affect the business and industrial segments of the state where it is applied. As a former manager of the Chamber of Commerce in Oregon... I do not believe it has had any effect on their state's progress".
6. Why not let the big truckers absorb the tax? We all know of the tremendous growth of these great trucking combines. They must be making money hand-over-fist or they could not have grown so big and powerful in such a short time.
7. If the Ton-Mile Tax is a big Consumer Tax, why didn't freight rates go down in Kansas when their old 1931 law was repealed?
8. If this Ton-Mile Tax is a Consumer Tax, why are the big trucks through their many front organizations, fighting the tax so hard? If the consumer pays it, it won't cost the truckers a red cent.

HOW MUCH MORE FOR THE TON-MILE TAX ON THIS POUND OF BACON?

NOTHING. THE TRUCKER PAID IT...IT WAS ONLY 8.00 OF A CENT!

THE TRUTH is that the fight against the Ton-Mile Tax is largely a battle by the tremendous outstate trucking interests who are not licensed in Nebraska, and most of whom pay only a small diesel tax for the use of our roads.

Driver Injured In Pickup Accident

MINDEN, Neb. (AP) — Edward C. Milam, 68, enroute from Denver to Oklahoma City for the funeral of his wife, was hospitalized here Monday after a one-vehicle accident two miles west of Heartwell, Neb.

Milam said his wife's body had been shipped to Oklahoma City for burial and he was making the trip in his pickup truck when he apparently lost control and the vehicle plunged down a 12 foot embankment.

He was reported in "fair condition" at a hospital here. Milam said he planned to reside in Oklahoma City in the near future.

Electric Issue Goes On Ballot At Scottsbluff

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP) — The voters of Scottsbluff will decide Nov. 6 whether to issue $1,300,000 in revenue bonds to finance acquisition of a municipal electric power distribution system.

No increase in taxes would be required and the bonds would not be added to the tax load. They would be repaid from revenue of the system.

The proposal stipulates that the city can negotiate for the facilities of Consumers Public Power District or build a distribution plant for its own use. Power would be purchased from Consumers at wholesale rates, or from the REA.

A citizens advisory committee studied the problem for 20 months, then recommended the city enter the power business. The Lincoln consulting engineering firm of Fulton and Cramer was hired to make a study to determine if the move would be feasible.

Negotiations between the city and Consumers on a power franchise here broke down and the district has been without a franchise since February, 1955.

Committee members believe the city can earn an equity of $4 million by 1972 if it acquires the system now.

Mitchell Again Faces New Fire Hall Issue

MITCHELL, Neb. (AP) — Mitchell will decide on a $20,000 general obligation bond issue for construction of a new fire hall.

Voters rejected the proposal by a narrow margin last April and since that time volunteer firemen have been busy stumping.

Man Accused Of Arson Fails To Appear At Trial

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP) — George Emerson Hart, 44, ex-convict scheduled to go on trial for arson in District Court here Monday failed to put in an appearance.

When Hart failed to appear at 9 a.m. District Judge I. J. Nisley continued the case until afternoon and when Hart still was not in court Judge Nisley ordered his $10,000 bond forfeited, and set a hearing Nov. 10 to enter judgment on the bond.

Hart was accused of setting fire to the Tastee Freeze shop at Ogallala Sept. 26, 1955. He was arrested in Vermillion, S.D., but carried his fight against extradition clear to the South Dakota Supreme Court. He was arraigned in Ogallala this summer.

A warrant was expected to be issued for his arrest following his failure to appear for trial Monday.

Nebraska Congressional Campaign Poses Ag Question

By BASIL C. RAFFETY
Associated Press Staff Writer

One of the quietest Congressional campaigns in recent Nebraska history is drawing to a close with a question mark still looming large.

The big question is the measure of the agricultural temper in a state plagued by drought for the second straight year.

Political strategists are carefully weighing scraps of information in an effort to determine how much of the farmers' plight to blame on nature and how much is genuinely at issue this election year.

3rd District

The controversy over which party holds out the greatest hope to the farmer comes into sharpest focus in the agricultural Third District—northeast Nebraska.

Here Democrats have pitted one of their strongest figures against incumbent Republican Congressman R. D. Harrison of Norfolk, a member of the House Agriculture Committee and a frequent spokesman for the administration farm programs.

The Democratic nominee is Lawrence Larry Brock, Wakefield, Neb., farmer, who became widely known in Midwestern livestock circles before he emerged as Democratic state chairman and then stepped aside to make the race for Congress.

Demo Hopes

Brock's workers have been very active and party leaders who won't be quoted by name are of the opinion that Brock carries with him the Democrats' best hope of breaking the Republican stranglehold on Congressional seats.

Lacking a Senate contest this year this is probably the clearest test of strength in the state contests. Harrison has piled up substantial totals each time he has run for office, but never has he faced up to the challenge presented by Brock, admittedly one of his party's leading farm spokesmen.

Laird of Scottsbluff, whom he defeated by a two-to-one margin in 1954. Miller, dean of the state's Congressional foursome, once told the Associated Press that "a good formula for success is to leave your thumbprint on as many door-knobs as you can." His checkered schedule of county fairs, youth clinics and plain every day campaigning during the Congressional recess indicates he has been doing just that.

1st District

In the First District, which encompasses roughly the southern two tiers of counties clear across Nebraska and includes the capital city of Lincoln, Rep. Phil Weaver, first term Republican, is opposed by Samuel Freeman, 83-year-old Hubbell, Neb., farmer and grain buyer. Freeman, who has sought the post three times and was nominated twice, showed unexpected primary strength.

The Second District, in which Omaha stands as the big reservoir of votes, has one of the two three-way races on the ticket. With the retirement of Rep. Jackson B. Chase, who wants his old job back on the District Court bench, former Omaha Mayor Glenn Cunningham and former State Senator Joseph V. Benesch emerged from the primary scramble as GOP and Democratic nominees.

Controversial

Cunningham is well-known through his long service as a city official but he was an oftentimes controversial figure and Democrats are hoping for an assist from old enemies of Cunningham to help defeat him. Benesch, an experienced legislator, has conducted a comparatively quiet campaign.

The third candidate is Al Misegadis of Talmage, Neb., who filed by petition late in the summer. Misegadis is best known as a lobbyist and president of the South-east Nebraska Taxpayers Assn.

Omaha registers more Democrats than Republicans and now and again turns in a Democratic majority. As recently as 1943 this district sent Eugene D. O'Sullivan to Congress for one term, and even as late as 1954 gave Chase only a 6,000-vote majority out of a total of 99,000 votes. The organized labor vote is an important factor in Omaha.

34 Midwestern Colleges Represented At Plant Administrators' Meet Here

The two-day convention of the Physical Plant Administrators opened at the University of Nebraska Monday with registration of 50 personnel from 34 colleges and universities of nine Midwestern states.

Speaking on problems of small colleges and universities, R. Burr Standley, building and grounds superintendent at Wayne State Teachers College, said the greatest problem is one of finance.

He suggested that the custodial and maintenance staff be supplemented with college students working on a part-time basis.

Mr. Standley listed these other maintenance problems facing small schools:

- Sanitation in all buildings, especially in shower and dressing rooms.
- Moving furniture, pianos, band instruments and chairs.
- Campus and classroom lighting and "using paint and decorating principles to the best advantage."
- Obtaining temporary bleachers to seat large groups of spectators.
- Training of regular custodial help so as to make the work enjoyable and interesting.

The convention will end Tuesday afternoon with a tour of the University of Nebraska campus.

Business—At the end of 1955, private U.S. investments abroad totaled more than $29 billion.

Government—In 1955, the Department of Defense employed 58,000 U.S. citizen civilians in overseas areas, 22,000 of them in foreign areas. The U.S. Foreign Service employed more than 5,000 Americans at overseas posts; The Information Agency, another 1,000; the International Co-operation Agency, 2,500.

Education—About 50,000 American students travel abroad annually. And about 43,000 foreign students study in more than 1,600 colleges, universities, or professional schools in the U.S.

Travel—"In 1955-56, the U.S. Passport Division issued about 560,000 passports, and the head of the Passport Division said recently that she expected the annual total to reach one million by 1960."

Must Triple Highway Plans—Ress

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska's local government must triple their highway building programs to take advantage of federal funds available during the next three years, State Engineer L. N. Ress told the Southeast Nebraska County Officials Association meeting Monday in Lincoln.

During the next three years, Ress said, the road programs of the state, counties and cities must average $56 million a year to use all available federal funds.

The state engineer contrasted this with the $18 million a year average spent in the state at all levels during the past five years.

Olson Elected

Before adjournment, the Association elected C. Alvin Olson, county commissioner at York, as its 1957 president.

Other new officers elected were Dean F. Brandt, district court clerk at Beatrice, as vice-president; and Fred Bruns, Seward County assessor, as secretary-treasurer.

"We are entering a period of highway development such as this country has never seen," Ress told the group.

Within Reach

A modern, integrated highway system equal to the traffic of the next 20 or 30 years is within Nebraska's reach during the next 13 years if all federal aid funds can be matched by the state, he said.

Ress urged the counties to take advantage of federal allotments, pointing out that 1956 county program was only one-half of its 1955 program on a dollar-wise basis.

The state will not have funds to pick up county allotments, Ress said. "The federal aid program is getting so big that the state is already $3 million short in matching funds."

Ton-Mile Discussed

Earlier, the association listened to the pros and cons on the state amendment for a ton-mile tax.

Speaking for the tax, former Gov. Robert Crosby said county governments in Nebraska need more than $8 million to match federal funds available for road road building during the next three years.

The "reasonable" way to raise this money is through the proposed ton-mile tax," said Crosby, an attorney for the Better Roads Through Fair Taxation Committee, sponsor of the tax.

But a speaker for the opponents said the ton-mile tax "will affect the pocketbook of every person in Nebraska."

Opponent's Point

Nate C. Holman, attorney for the Producers and Consumers Committee, charged that proposed law makes inadequate provisions for paying the costs of its administration.

He contended the "backers of this added tax burden are using every device to conceal this."

Now, real medicated help for your troubled skin!

by Margaret Herbert
Director of Dorothy Gray Salons

I have wonderful news for you! Dorothy Gray scientists have developed a new medicated treatment to provide effective help toward clearing troubled complexion. It's called the MEDICATED SCRUB SET and the whole treatment takes just 3 easy steps:

1. You probably know that good skin depends first and foremost on a thoroughly clean skin . . . thus, the first step is to lather on Medicated Scrub Soap. (Massage your face with your fingers in upward and outward strokes for 3 minutes.) Made with Oatmeal, it has an amazing ability to stimulate while purifying . . . to rout out every trace of clogging dust, hardened oils and stale make-up. Really helps force out blackheads which might lead to blemishes, if neglected.
2. Next, put on cooling, bracing Medicated Refining Lotion. It gets at an important cause of many a troubled skin . . . bacteria! Also helps reduce the appearance of ugly pores . . . refines your skin to a smoother, lovelier look.
3. Last and essential step: Medicated Blemish Cream! Apply just before you retire. It works while you sleep to soothe and heal . . . rewards you in the morning with a softer, clearer face.

If you use this MEDICATED SCRUB SET conscientiously it will really pay off . . . with a complexion you'll be proud of!
